Knop, 2020-01-01 The annual collection of scientific articles of the Brussels Theological Faculty partly covers all current research areas Theology and the study of religion are under pressure from increasing polarization and radicalization. The Faculty of Theology in Brussels has both feet firmly planted on the world stage and offers a number of articles on topical themes in this volume In this volume which is an anniversary issue since we face the 20 the volume we pay attention to current themes such as decolonization and theology as well as to cultural historical movements and trends In an annual collection of scholarly articles from a Protestant Theological Faculty fundamental research of the Bible should not be missing Anyone interested in biblical sciences can also take advantage of this collection We hope to offer the reader insight and an engaging reading Shipwrecks on Cape Cod Isaac M. Small, 2006-01-01 I hardly know whether to call this a preface or experience part of the story it seems rather too long for the former and too short for a chapter of the latter but I may as well follow the general rule and call it a preface Friends have often said to me Why don t you write some stories concerning shipwrecks which have occurred on Cape Cod Perhaps one of the strongest reasons why I have not done so is because to describe all of the sad disasters which have come under my observation during my more than half a century of service as Marine Reporting Agent at Highland Light Cape Cod would make a book too bulky to be interesting and a second reason has been the difficulty of selecting such instances as would be of the greatest interest to the general reader But out of the hundreds of shipwrecks which have become a part of the folk lore and history of this storm beaten coast I have finally decided to tell something of the circumstances connected with the loss of life and property in a few of the more prominent cases The descriptions herein written are only just unvarnished tales couched in such language that even the children may understand and in order that there may be a clear understanding of how I came to be in close touch with the events of which I write it is perhaps necessary to state briefly a few facts concerning my life work here So far back as 1853 the merchants of Boston desiring to obtain rapid and frequent reports concerning the movements of their ships along the coast of Cape Cod were instrumental in causing the construction of a telegraph line from Boston to the end of Cape Cod and a station was established on the bluffs of the Cape at Highland Light this station was equipped with signal flags books and a powerful telescope and an operator placed in charge whose duty it was to watch the sea from daybreak until sunset and so far as possible obtain the names of or a description of every passing ship This information was immediately transmitted over the wires to the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce where it was at once spread upon their books for the information of their subscribers When the boys in blue were marching away to southern battlefields at the beginning of the Civil War in 1861 I began the work of Marine Reporting Agent and now on the threshold of 1928 I am still watching the ships A fair sized volume might be written concerning the changes which have taken place in fifty years as to class of vessels and methods of transportation but that is not what I started to write about My duties begin as soon as it is light enough to distinguish the rig of a vessel two miles distant from the land and my day s work is finished when the sun sinks below the western horizon Every half hour through every day of the year we stand ready to answer the call at the Boston office and report to them by telegraph every item of marine intelligence which has come under our observation during the previous half hour With our telescope we can in clear weather make out the names of vessels when four miles away When a shipwreck occurs either at night or during the day we are expected to forward promptly to the city office every detail of the disaster If the few stories herein told serve to interest our friends who tarry with us for a while in the summer then the object of the writer will have been attained Physics, vol. 3/2006 Dmitri Rabounski Larissa Borissova, Florentin Smarandache, Larissa Borissova, Progress in Physics has been created for publications on advanced studies in theoretical and experimental physics including related themes from A Large Dictionary English and Dutch, in Two Parts Willem Sewel, 1749 mathematics Max Havelaar .2010

their learning activities Based on two case studies in two Dutch schools the book shows some ways in which the use of the Web has changed history education in at least three respects first the findings of the two case studies show that the Web has a huge potential to turn the history class previously described as boring and too abstract into a livelier and more attractive environment where concepts events phenomena and processes of the past almost always have textual and or audio visual representations second strong indications were observed showing that the Web fosters historical understanding not only by triggering thinking processes that take pupils beyond the shown contents but also by prompting them to evaluate sources and sample relevant fragments for their assignments third the Web has brought into history education sources that were previously excluded including those described as unconventional This book shows among other things that convergence is underway on both the user side since pupils use both conventional and unconventional online sources and the content production side where heritage institutions are increasingly getting involved in unconventional platforms like Wikipedia The latter emerged from the two case studies as the most popular source of historical information while the websites of heritage institutions tended to appear at the bottom of the list of references Unlike personal sites which also scored better heritage sites face some obstacles including the still dominant desire to preserve institutions identity and uniqueness conservatism which often prevents the redefinition of collection management tasks and the tax payers dilemma For that reason collections are not hyperlinked and therefore remain invisible and not easy to find online De Sterrekamer William Harrison Ainsworth.1855 Mission Revisited P.
