

A Father

*A light is from our household gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.*

*God gave us a beautiful father,
A father who never grew old,
You were always there
With a helping hand,*

*Help us now to accept His plan.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes by, we miss you more.
Your loving smile, your gentle face,*

*No one can take our "Father's Place"
May the choirs of the angels receive you and may you have rest and peace everlasting. Amen.*

Report Tribune fresh air fund aid society,1918      In Memory of Them Christel Ahrens,Ebise Ashana,2021-01-27 The book presents accounts of women reformers in the Ethiopian Evangelical Church Mekane Yesus EECMY The editors collected their stories and put them in a historic context covering a period of 150 years starting from the arrival of Gustava Lundahl from Sweden in 1870 with her vision of a girls school A large field of experiences is covered from slaves to high standing women illiterate ones and Bible translators teachers and medical professionals women with family responsibilities and those who dedicated their lives to the gospel women who were imprisoned and those holding leading positions      Memory and the Self Mark Rowlands,2017 Our memories many believe make us who we are But most of our experiences have been forgotten and the memories that remain are often wildly inaccurate How then can memories play this person making role The answer lies in a largely unrecognized type of memory Rilkean memory      In Memory of Vernon Willard Hughes Emlyn Willard Hughes,Francesco Iachello,2004 Publication List by Vernon W Hughes p 223 252      Feeling Memory Lindsey Dodd,2023-07-04 What did it feel like to be a child in France during World War II Feeling Memory is an affective exploration of children s lives in wartime France and the ways they are remembered Lindsey Dodd draws on the recorded oral narratives of a hundred people to examine the variety of experiences children had during the war She considers different aspects of remembering underscoring the centrality of emotion to memory This book covers a wide range of locations the country and the city Occupied France and the Free Zone and situations well off and poor children those separated from their families and those with them it places Jewish children s experiences alongside non Jewish children s Against the backdrop of momentous events readers encounter children playing working eating thinking doing and feeling An investigation of the emotions of history Feeling Memory argues for the transformative potential of affect theory and affective methodologies in oral history and the history of everyday life This book makes major contributions to the history of France during World War II understandings of children s lives in war and the use of memory in historical and oral history analysis      In Memory of Us Wilyem Clark,2023-01-19 Novel A future intelligence explores its roots and strives to understand the essence of being human

Remembering My Dad: a Guided Journal to Cherish Our Memories Barbara Mason,2020-05-08 I decided to write this book because I want to help you remember your dad in a very special way and give you a place to capture your most precious memories of the time spent with him With each page I have given you a memory prompt to capture your memories about your dad Take one day a week to reflect on the moments you shared and allow them to bring you to a place of healing and strength but most of all a deep heartfelt gratitude for being able to call him DAD      In Memory of Central Park Queenelle Minet,2008-09 By 2050 New York City has been encased in a massive terrorist proof shell and no one can travel in or out Protected as well from the rising sea New Yorkers finally feel safe Few seem to care that the Statue of Liberty has eroded to an unrecognizable stump or that Central Park is just a memory Within this dark world Noah a psychotherapist who has plenty of problems of his own discovers love in the entirely wrong place with his brother's wife Margaret. When people in New York start dying for mysterious reasons and the Liberty Party silences anyone who speaks out about it, Noah must find a way not only to save his relationship with Margaret but to save their lives as well. Political satire and aching love story wrapped into one: this powerful elegantly written novel is a poignant cry to wake up and save ourselves from individual loneliness and collective environmental catastrophe before it's too late. Notice of Motion, Affidavit and Brief in Support of the Motion,

Identity and Memory in Post-Soviet Central Asia Timur Dadabaev, 2015-08-11 Central Asian states have experienced a number of historical changes that have challenged their traditional societies and lifestyles. The most significant changes occurred as a result of the revolution in 1917, the incorporation of the region into the Soviet Union, and gaining independence after the collapse of the USSR. Impartial and informed public evaluation of the Soviet and post-Soviet periods has always been a complicated issue, and the official descriptions have often contradicted the interpretations of the past viewed through the experiences of ordinary people. Identity and Memory in Post-Soviet Central Asia looks at the tradition of history construction in Central Asia. By collecting views of the public's experiences of the Soviet past in Uzbekistan, the author examines the transformation of present-day Central Asia from the perspective of these personal memories and analyses how they relate to the Soviet and post-Soviet official descriptions of Soviet life. The book discusses that the way in which people in Central Asia reconcile their Soviet past to a great extent refers to the three-fold process of recollecting their everyday experiences, reflecting on their past from the perspective of their post-Soviet present, and reimagining. These three elements influence memories and lead to selectivity in memory construction, emphasising the aspects of the Soviet era people choose to recall in positive and negative lights. Presenting a broader picture of Soviet everyday life at the periphery of the USSR, the book will be a useful contribution for students and scholars of Central Asian Studies. Ethnicity and Identity Politics Leeds: our grandfather's native village, with divers remains gathered in memory of R.C. Roffe, by A., F., and E. Roffe Alfred Thomas Roffe, 1859

Civil Society and Memory in Postwar Germany Jenny Wüstenberg, 2017-09-07 Blending history and social science, this book tracks the role of social movements in shaping German public memory and values since 1945. Drawn from extensive original research, it offers a fresh perspective on the evolution of German democracy through civic confrontation with the violence of its past. Told through the stories of memory activists, the study upends some of the conventional wisdom about modern German political history. An analysis of the decades-long struggle over memory and democracy shows how grassroots actors challenged and then took over public institutions of memorialization. In the process, confrontation of the Holocaust has been pushed to the centre of political culture. In unified Germany, memory politics have shifted again as activists from East Germany have brought attention to the crimes of the East German state. This book delivers a novel and important contribution to scholarship about postwar Germany and the wider study of memory politics. INVENTING THE TRUTH: Memory and Its Tricks - A Gay Life Lucien L. Agosta PhD, 2022-09-15 INVENTING THE TRUTH: MEMORY AND ITS

TRICKS offers a collection of essays dealing with the author's life experiences as a gay man. Because exact accuracy is alien to the way memory works, the verifiable fictions in this book are necessarily inventions of the truth. Included essays examine the author's early cross dressing and other childhood challenges to his birth gender, the important formative influences on him of his Catholic parish and school and the local public library and his belated and complicated coming out as a gay man. Another essay offers a dialectic between lust and love. Defining himself as a Promiscuous Hedonist for most of his adult life, the author at long last discovered that love was real and that he could love another man in his own gay way. Subsequent essays investigate the influence on the author of his two immigrant grandfathers and the unsavory memories of a racist past growing up in Louisiana in the 1950s, 60s and 70s. A further essay explores the author's primal fears of darkness and death and how he achieved a satisfactory resolution of those fears. A final essay explores the reams of war time letters that constituted the courtship of the author's parents, who maintained their connection through letters for the nearly three years they were apart during WWII. These letters focus on the challenging beginnings of a 54 year love affair as well as on conditions during the war of a soldier overseas and his intended at home in Ohio, whom he was courting by near daily correspondence. The essays in this book offer accounts of seminal remembered experiences in the author's past, now interpreted in a language unavailable to him at the time those experiences were occurring. In these reliable accounts, the author tells the truth about his gay life in the most honest way he knows how to invent it. Memory Is Another Country Nathalie Huynh Chau Nguyen, 2009-08-25 2010 CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title. The act of remembering is a means of bringing the past alive and an imaginative way of dealing with loss. It has been the subject of much recent scholarship and is of particular relevance at a time of widespread transnational migration. This book is a valuable and original contribution to the field of diaspora studies. Based on in-depth oral narratives of forty Vietnamese women, it deals with themes both universal and specific to this diaspora: divergent memories in families, the significance of homeland, the return to Vietnam, cross-cultural relationships, intergenerational tensions, and the issues of silence and unspoken trauma among Vietnamese refugees. It is the first study to apply memory and trauma theories to a substantial base of oral narratives by Vietnamese women in the West. Nguyen argues that understanding of these narratives provides not only an insight into the way Vietnamese women have dealt with loss but also illuminates the experience of the wider Vietnamese diaspora and other refugees. Food in Memory and Imagination Beth Forrest, Greg de St. Maurice, 2022-01-13. How do we engage with food through memory and imagination? This expansive volume spans time and space to illustrate how, through food, people have engaged with the past, the future, and their alternative presents. Beth M. Forrest and Greg de St. Maurice have brought together first-class contributions from both established and up-and-coming scholars to consider how imagination and memory intertwine and sometimes diverge. Chapters draw on cases around the world, including Iran, Italy, Japan, Kenya, and the US, and include topics such as national identity, food insecurity, and the phenomenon of knowledge. Contributions represent a range of disciplines.

including anthropology history philosophy psychology and sociology This volume is a veritable feast for the contemporary food studies scholar     Macdonald bards from mediæval times Keith Norman Macdonald,1900     Epoch Percy MacKaye,1927 Bibliography v 2 p CIV CVII     In Search of Memory: The Emergence of a New Science of Mind Eric R.
