veteran anthropologists with reflexive analyses of the state of anthropology today this book is a treatise on theory and method offering fresh insights into the production of anthropological knowledge from the creation of key concepts to major paradigm shifts Particular focus is given to how peripheral perspectives can help re shape the discipline and the ways that anthropologists think about contemporary culture and society From urban Maori communities in Aotearoa New Zealand to the Highlands of Papua New Guinea from Arnhem Land in Australia to the villages of Yorkshire these accounts take us to the heart of the anthropological endeavour decentring mainstream perspectives and revealing the intimate relationships and processes that create anthropological knowledge Misunderstanding in Social Life Juliane House,Gabriele Kasper,Steven Ross,2014-09-25 Misunderstanding is a pervasive phenomenon in social life sometimes with serious consequences for people's life chances. Misunderstandings are especially hazardous in high stakes events such as job interviews or in the legal system. In unequal power encounters, unsuccessful communication is regularly attributed to the less powerful participant, especially when those participants are members of an ethnic minority group. But even when communicative events are not prestructured by participants' differential positions in social hierarchies, misunderstandings occur at different levels of interactional and social engagement. Misunderstanding in Social Life examines such problematic talk in ordinary conversation and different institutional settings including socializing events and story tellings, education and assessment activities and interviews in TV news broadcasts, employment agencies, legal settings and language testing. The analyzed interactions are located in a variety of sociocultural environments and conducted in a range of languages including English, French, German, Hebrew, Japanese, such language varieties as Aboriginal Australian English and Maori New Zealand English and nonnative varieties. The original studies included in this volume adopt a variety of theoretical perspectives including discourse pragmatic approaches, conversation analysis, interactional sociolinguistics, social constructionism, tropological and narrative analysis. They represent multiple views of misunderstanding as a multilayered discourse event.

Thinking about the Teaching of Thinking Dorothy R. Howie, 2019-08-06. Thinking about the Teaching of Thinking provides an accessible and comprehensive introduction to Feuerstein's theory of Mediated Learning Experience and its related tools and programmes. It details up to date international and New Zealand research on the Feuerstein approach which reflects the current issues in the teaching of thinking. The book begins by defining what is meant by the teaching of thinking and provides an easy to understand explanation of the Feuerstein method and its value for children with learning challenges. It champions a whole school approach to the teaching of thinking and details the practical tools and programmes developed by Feuerstein such as Instrumental Enrichment and the Learning Propensity Assessment Device to aid in its implementation. It also recognises the key importance of cultural factors in the teaching of thinking, bringing together the author's considerable research experience using the Feuerstein method in the multicultural New Zealand context with her extensive knowledge of international Feuerstein research. This book provides a user friendly and unique coverage of the Feuerstein method for researchers and postgraduate students researching and working in educational psychology. It will also be of great value for teachers and parents looking to understand and decide on implementation of the Feuerstein approach in their schools.

Emergent Masculinities in the Pacific Aletta Biersack, Martha Macintyre, 2018-10-11. Emergent Masculinities in the Pacific focuses on the plasticity and contingent nature of Pacific Island masculinities over the course of colonial and postcolonial histories. The several case histories concern the use of sports to recuperate but also refashion past masculinities in the name of contemporary masculine pride, the effects of market participation on younger males, how urbanisation and migration set the stage for experimenting with male gender and sexuality, the impacts of military and labour histories on local masculinities, masculinity and violence in war and gender violence and structural violence and disruptions in male gender. identity Depicting contemporary Pacific Island societies as a space of gender invention and pluralism as indigenous gender regimes respond to the stimulations of transnational flows the book asks a key historical question Do emergent masculinities signal a rupture or some continuity with past masculinities This book was originally published as a special double issue of The Asia Pacific Journal of Anthropology Violence, Society, and the Church Gerald A. Arbuckle, 2004 The reality of violence and the fear it generates is constantly in the news Terrorist attacks across the world and other abuses of power such as the sexual abuses in the Catholic Church the continuance of patriarchalism racism and the negative effects of globalization highlight the relevance of this book Here the author uniquely explains these forms of violence in the wider context of their cultural roots

Old Black Cloud Jacqueline Leckie, 2024-06-13 Mental depression is a serious issue in contemporary New Zealand and it has an increasingly high profile But during our history depression has often been hidden under a long black cloud of denial that we have not always lived up to the Kiwi ideal of being pragmatic and have not always coped Using historic patient records as a starting place and informed by her own experience of depression academic Jacqueline Leckie's timely social history of depression in Aotearoa analyses its medical cultural and social contexts through an historical lens From detailing its links to melancholia and explaining its expression within Indigenous and migrant communities this engrossing book interrogates how depression was medicalised and has been treated and how New Zealanders have lived with it cultural studies social psychology and anthropology Tauira Joan Metge,2015-09-01 In te reo Maori tauira means both student and teacher and this book by acclaimed educator and anthropologist Joan Metge shows that Maori educational practices had a particular form and philosophy Maori focused on learning by doing teaching in context learning in a group memorizing and advancement when ready Parents grandparents and community leaders imparted cultural knowledge as well as practical skills to the younger generation through daily life and storytelling in whanau and community activities In preserving this evidence and these voices from the past this important book also offers much inspiration for the future

Tuamaka Joan Metge,Hon Sir Edward Taihakurei Durie,2013-11-01 From the point of view of a renowned anthropologist this invaluable volume narrates the history of a multicultural New Zealand in which both Maori and non Maori individuals cohabitate Arguing that the Treaty of Waitangi of 1840 signed by the indigenous Maori and the British established a foundation from which New Zealanders could grow and prosper this account demonstrates how two cultures met disputed and dealt with diversity In addition this unique record analyzes the country s languages and myths and explores how they have influenced New Zealand society Moving and engaging this record covers six decades of enlightening field work New Zealand English Allan Bell,Koenraad Kuiper,2000-02-15 New Zealand English is currently one of the most researched varieties of English world wide This book presents an up to date account of all the major aspects of New Zealand English by leading scholars as well as younger specialists in each of the major fields of enquiry The book is authoritative in its range and represents not only a synopsis of past research but also new research in many areas of study It is of interest not just to specialists in regional varieties of English but many of the chapters detail new approaches to the study of dialect phenomena It contains an introduction describing the external history of New Zealand English and the development of the study of New Zealand English It comes with a full bibliography of work on New Zealand English and is fully indexed This book is a significant landmark in the study of English varieties and will prove indispensable for anyone who is a student of English and New Zealand English Small Talk Justine Coupland,2014-06-11 This study presents a new perspective on small talk and its crucial role in everyday communication The new approach presented here is supported by analyses of interactional data in specific settings private and public face to face and telephone talk They vary from gossip at the family dinner table and intimate keeping in touch phone conversations to interpersonally focused talk in institutional settings such as the government office and the university research seminar Drawing on a range of methodological approaches including Discourse Analysis and Pragmatics Interpersonal Communication and Conversation Analysis the author elevates small talk to a new status as functionally multifaceted but central to social interaction as a whole Conspiracy Theorizing Gerald Arbuckle,2024-05-01 Conspiracy Theorizing explore how should individuals with the Christian faith should react to conspiracy theories their untruths and their dangers This book outlines the way that conspiracy theories are the fundamental basis for this stigmatization and scapegoating It goes further to explain that scapegoating is fostering extreme divisions within in societies and between nations with each side often demonizing the other This book states how conspiracy theories satisfy people s needs for certainty security and a positive self image in a world they feel is disintegrating Uncovering deeper when the comforting securities of cultures crumble paranoia makes sense This book demonstrates that an inability to live with uncertainty and ambiguity draws people to conspiracy theories when they validate their apprehensions The commentary in this book also validates that since conspiracy theories can never be verified by objective research and truths they are one of the most problematic subjects to expose This book aims to answer these questions What are conspiracy theories Why do they arise especially in times of cultural upheavals Are they harmful What do the Christian Scriptures say about them Readers that are interested in religion Christianity and conspiracy theories would enjoy this book Conflict Mediation Across Cultures David W. Augsburger,1992-01-01 Believing not only that conflict is inevitable in human life but that it is essential and can be quite constructive Augsburger proposes a shift to an international approach in resolving conflict Augsburger focuses on interpersonal and group conflicts and provides a comparison of conflict patterns within and among various cultures The SAGE Handbook of Social Anthropology Richard Fardon,Oliva Harris,Trevor H J Marchand,Cris Shore,Veronica Strang,Richard Wilson,Mark Nuttall,2012-07-25 In two volumes the SAGE Handbook of Social Anthropology provides the definitive overview of contemporary research in the discipline It explains the what where and how of current and anticipated work in Social Anthropology With 80 authors contributing more than 60 chapters this is the most comprehensive and up to date statement of research in Social Anthropology available and the essential point of departure for future projects The Handbook is divided into four sections Part I Interfaces examines Social Anthropology s disciplinary connections from Art and Literature to Politics and Economics from Linguistics to Biomedicine from History to Media Studies Part II Places examines place region culture and history from regional area studies to a globalized world Part III Methods examines issues of method from archives to war zones from development projects to art objects and from ethics to comparison Part IV Futures anticipates anthropologies to come in the Brain Sciences in post Development in the Body and Health and in new Technologies and Materialities Edited by the leading figures in social anthropology the Handbook includes a substantive introduction by Richard Fardon a think piece by Jean and John Comaroff and a concluding last word on futures by Marilyn Strathern The authors each at the leading edge of the discipline contribute in depth chapters on both the foundational ideas and the latest research Comprehensive and detailed this magisterial Handbook overviews the last 25 years of the social anthropological imagination It will speak to scholars in Social Anthropology and its many related disciplines Navigating Unconventional Doctoral Journeys Georgina Tsolidis,2025-05-15 This edited book delves into the experiences of a group of women who as mature aged students took on doctoral studies persevered and succeeded Drawing on their own experiences the group of women from varied backgrounds consider with hindsight what prompted them to begin doctoral studies what hurdles they faced the strategies that supported their completions and how their doctoral success influenced their future journeys The editor of the collection Georgina Tsolidis was their supervisor The chapter authors Stella Coram Annabelle Leve Melinda McPherson and Vikki Pollard explore their motivation to enter doctoral study in turn These case studies contribute to an overarching analysis of why women who are classified as mature aged students and have child rearing work and other commitments choose to undertake such a challenging academic journey The book will be of interest to researchers and postgraduate students of higher education sociology of education and gender studies
