ONE OF THE 20th CENTURY S FINEST MEMOIRS the sweeping candidly told story of a life in writing and politics with an introduction by Vivian Gornick who referred to the book as literary gold Stops you in your tracks I would like to persuade everyone to read it Sunday Times A compulsively readable beautifully written account of a fascinating 20th century woman and life This candid affecting portrait of a woman who loathed domesticity explores how she sought to balance a literary career with political commitment After a lifetime of writing a novel every year Storm Jameson turned to memoir with this stated ambition I am trying to write without lying The result was an extraordinary reckoning with how she had lived her childhood shadowed by a tempestuous dissatisfied mother an early unhappy marriage and her decision to leave her young son behind while she worked in London a tenaciously pursued literary career always marked by the struggle to make money and her lifelong political activism including as the first female president of English PEN a role she used to help refugees escape Nazi Germany In a richly ironic conversational voice Jameson tells of the great figures she knew and events she witnessed from encounters with H G Wells and Rose Macaulay to travels across Europe as fascism was rising Throughout she writes with electric candour and immediacy about her own motivations and psychology as she traces her lifelong struggle to live on her own terms      The Matter of Araby in Medieval England Dorothee Metlitzki, 2005-07-01 To understand the significance of Arabic material in medieval literature we must recognize the concrete reality of Islam in the medieval European experience Intimate contacts beginning with the Crusades yielded considerable knowledge about Araby beyond the merely stereotypical and propagandistic Arabian culture was manifest in scientific and philosophical investigations and the Arab presence pervaded medieval romance where caricatures of Saracens were not merely a catering to popular taste but were a way of coping emotionally with a real threat In England as well as in continental Europe Islam figured in the best intellectual efforts of the age Dorothee Metlitzki considers Scientific and Philosophical Learning in Part One of this book and discusses the transmission of Arabian culture by way of the Crusades and through the courts of Sicily and Spain She sees the work of Latin translators from the Arabic in the twelfth and thirteenth centuries as the background of a medieval heritage of learning that expressed itself in the subject matter theme and imagery not only of a scholar poet like Chaucer but also of the poets of popular romance In Part Two The Literary Heritage Metlitzki deals with Arabian source books with Araby in history and romance and with Mandeville s Travels She concludes with a general assessment of the cultural force of Araby in England during the middle Ages      On the Art of Reading, Lectures Delivered in the University of Cambridge 1916-1918 Arthur Thomas Quiller-Couch, 1920      Saint Paul , 1892      Saint Paul Frederic William Henry Myers, 1892      *Saint Paul.
