Autobiographical Occasions and Original Acts Albert E. Stone, 1982-09 Stone rescues autobiography from the thickets of recent critical theory in which the life portrayed has often seemed less important than the inventive literary techniques He argues that the techniques are important because knowledge of the life is important to our culture Restricting himself primarily to 16 writers of the 20th century Stone juxtaposes two or three figures in given chapters such as Becoming a Woman in Male America Margaret Mead and Anais Nin and Two Recreate One The Act of Collaboration in Recent Black Autobiography Ossie Guffy Nate Shaw Malcolm X Other writers considered are W E B DuBois Henry Adams Black Elk Thomas Merton Louis Sullivan Richard Wright Norman Mailer Frank Conroy and Lillian Hellman Intercourse Andrea Dworkin, 2008-08-01 Andrea Dworkin once called Feminism's Malcolm X has been worshipped reviled criticized and analyzed but never ignored The power of her writing the passion of her ideals and the ferocity of her intellect have spurred the arguments and activism of two generations of feminists Now the book that she's best known for in which she provoked the argument that ultimately split apart the feminist movement is being reissued for the young women and men of the twenty first century Intercourse enraged as many readers as it inspired when it was first published in 1987 In it Dworkin argues that in a male supremacist society sex between men and women constitutes a central part of women's subordination to men This argument was quickly and falsely simplified to all sex is rape in the public arena adding fire to Dworkin's already radical persona In her introduction to this twentieth anniversary edition of Intercourse Ariel Levy the author of Female Chauvinist Pigs discusses the circumstances of Dworkin's untimely death in the spring of 2005 and the enormous impact of her life and work Dworkin's argument she points out is the stickiest question of feminism Can a woman fight the power when he shares her bed Guiding Teams to Excellence With Equity John Krownapple, 2016-10-28 Guide your school through its cultural proficiency transformation Despite the best efforts of equity leaders our schools suffer from persistent inequities Guiding the Journey to Excellence with Equity is a must read for anyone who supports professional learning in our schools It defines a process of inside out growth that helps develop culturally proficient educators with the facilitation skills needed to navigate the obstacles that arise during equity transformations Written with an equity lens this book Includes a powerful vignette that illustrates common challenges and solutions Focuses on mental models for managing group energy Is grounded in a systems

Otto Rank and the Creation of Modern Psychotherapy Robert Kramer, 2025-07-04 Once considered Sigmund Freud's designated heir Otto Rank was an interdisciplinary thinker and prodigious author of twenty-two books. After being expelled from Freud's inner circle in 1926 due to Freud's opposition to the pre-Oedipal thesis of The Trauma of Birth (1924), Rank had a highly productive life as a teacher, psychotherapist, and writer. In this book, noted Rank scholar Robert Kramer argues that Rank, not Freud, created modern psychotherapy, which focuses on the therapist-client relationship, Rank's will therapy, and his teaching on relationship and the creative will. This impacted not only modern psychotherapy but also social work and existential psychology. His influence can particularly be seen in the work of Carl Rogers, Psychotherapy, Jessie Taft, and Virginia Robinson, Social Work, and Rollo May, and Irvin Yalom, Existential Psychology. A dazzling thinker, Rank influenced many artists and writers, including Samuel Beckett, Salvador Dalí, Anaïs Nin, Henry Miller, Betty Friedan, D.W. Winnicott, and most significantly Ernest Becker, Pulitzer prize-winning author of The Denial of Death (1973). Kramer argues that if the 20th century was the century of Freud, the 21st century is shaping up to be the century of Rank, as no other psychoanalyst's theories have ever been tested with as much empirical rigor and across so many different cultures as those of Rank. This book translates Rank's complex thought into language any reader can grasp easily.

The Ethnographic I Carolyn Ellis, 2004 Carolyn Ellis, the leading proponent of autoethnography, weaves both methodological advice and her own personal stories into an intriguing narrative about a fictional graduate course she instructs. Through Ellis's interactions with her students, you are given useful strategies for conducting a study, including the need for introspection, the struggles of the budding ethnographic writer, the practical problems in explaining results of this method to outsiders, and the moral and ethical issues that get raised in this intimate form of research.

Oceans under Glass Samantha Muka, 2022-12-08 A welcome dive into the world of aquarium craft that offers much needed knowledge about undersea environments. Atlantic coral is rapidly disappearing in the wild. To save the species, they will have to be reproduced quickly in captivity, and so for the last decade, conservationists have been at work trying to preserve their lingering numbers and figure out how to rebuild once thriving coral reefs from a few survivors. Captive environments built in dedicated aquariums offer some hope for these corals. This book examines these specialized tanks, charting the development of tank craft throughout the twentieth century to better understand how aquarium modeling has enhanced our knowledge of the marine environment. Aquariums are essential to the way we understand the ocean. Used to investigate an array of scientific questions, from animal behavior to cancer research and climate change, they are a crucial factor in the fight to mitigate the climate disaster already threatening our seas. To understand the historical development of this scientific tool and the groups that have contributed to our knowledge about the ocean, Samantha Muka takes up specialty systems, including photographic aquariums, Kriesel tanks for jellyfish, and hatching systems to examine the creation of ocean simulations and their effect on our interactions with underwater life. Lively and engaging, Oceans under Glass offers a fresh history about how the aquarium has been used in modern marine biology and how integral it is to knowing the marine world passionate sex is on the decline in Western culture and what is necessary to save it Sex is dying in America Inundated with sex and starved for it obsessed with it yet clueless about it we are slowly forgetting how to make love The crisis of modern sexuality is seen in high divorce rates in the degradation of sexuality through pornography and tasteless displays of empty counterfeit erotica Most of all it is seen in sexless marriages and platonic relationships where cybersex has become more addictive than the real thing Sex has become so trivialized coarsened and vulgarized that couples no longer feel its pull The once powerful and irresistible magnetism of sex is being diluted and drained The authors propose replacing the 1960s sexual revolution with a new sensual revolution a rediscovery of intimacy that encourages and ennobles human relationships elevates healthy lust and gets us from looking up from the glowing screens of our smartphones to the people around us most especially the people we love the most Lust for Love embraces the idea that what our most important relationships need most is lust It is necessary to rediscover what is sexy again how to bring back romance and to understand that in addition to love we need lust to repair our unfulfilling sex lives and broken relationships Lust for Love proposes a return to what lovemaking was always meant to be a desire to know and experience another person in the deepest possible way

Space and Muslim Urban Life Simon O'Meara, 2007-08-09 This book develops academic understanding of Muslim urban space by pursuing the structural logic of the premodern Arab Muslim city or medina With particular reference to The Book of Walls an historical discourse of Islamic law whose primary subject is the wall the book determines the meaning of a wall and then uses it to analyze the space of Fez One of a growing number of studies to address space as a category of critical analysis the book makes the following contributions to scholarship Methodologically it breaks with the tradition of viewing Islamic architecture as a well defined object observed by a specialist at an aesthetically directed distance rather it inhabits the logic of this architecture by rethinking it discursively from within the culture that produced it Hermeneutically it sheds new light on one of North Africa's oldest medinas and thereby illuminates a type of environment still common to much of the Arab Muslim world Empirically it brings to the attention of mainstream scholarship a legal discourse and aesthetic that contributed to the form and longevity of this type of environment and it exposes a preoccupation with walls and other limits in premodern urban Arab Muslim culture and a mythical paradigm informing the foundation narratives of a number of historic medinas

Presenting a fresh perspective for the understanding of Muslim urban society and thought this innovative study will be of interest to students and researchers of Islamic studies architecture and sociology
