Rethinking Our Classrooms, Volume 1 , Rethinking Our Classrooms Wayne Au, Bill Bigelow, Stan Karp, 2007 Since the first edition was published in 1994 Rethinking Our Classrooms has sold over 180 000 copies The Education Digest ,1999 Confronting Our Discomfort Tamar Jacobson, 2003 How do our own attitudes get in the way of anti bias in the classroom In this practical resource Tamar Jacobson provides a framework for early childhood teachers and education professors to confront this issue head on And she knows whereof she speaks Growing up Jewish in the former colony of Rhodesia Jacobson is in a unique position to challenge us with her disquiet move us with her perspective and change our ideas What s more she guides us along the tricky path towards an anti bias curriculum showing us how to see our own shortcomings stop the perpetuation of negatives and clear the way for children to gain a greater understanding of the world and its possibilities Anti-Bias Curriculum for the Preschool Classroom YWCA Minneapolis Early Childhood Education Department, 2021-04-13 The YWCA Minneapolis Early Childhood Education s anti biased and play based curriculum uses practical and real life experiences to support teacher learning and practice With thrilling success in 2016 94% of infants through preschoolers enrolled in this program were on track with age appropriate development This curriculum is flexible enough to accommodate state or local standards while remaining open to children s ideas interests and questions The YWCA Minneapolis Early Childhood Education Department has been providing quality education for forty years delivering a powerful blend of high quality full time early childhood education direct service and advocacy for children from infants through ten year olds in partnership with their families Our World, Our Rights Janet C. Schmidt, Patrick A. Manson, Tricia A. Windschitl, 2000 Critical Issues in Early Childhood Teacher Education Miranda Lin, Ithel Jones, 2020-06-01 In recent years there have been significant changes in education across the globe largely as a result of changing demographics technological developments and increased globalization Relatedly the changing needs of societies and families along with new research findings provide new directions in early childhood education. Consequently, early childhood teachers today are faced with higher and more complex expectations to help ensure that their students achieve their full potential. Such expectations suggest that early childhood teachers should be professionals who are able to draw on a robust knowledge base in making educational decisions. It follows that teacher education programs should develop and implement innovative programs that can potentially enhance the quality of our future teachers. An awareness of pressing issues in the field of early childhood teacher education led the editors to develop this volume. The chapters in these two volumes bring together scholars from across the US and the globe who are interested in improving the quality of early childhood teacher education. The chapters present their experiences, perspectives, and lessons learned as they addressed some of the challenging issues concerning the education and preparation of future early childhood teachers. The various issues and perspectives from different states in the US or countries across the globe provide insights into current issues and dilemmas facing the field. The contributions of these scholars should inform the discourse on early childhood teacher education and help those who work with preservice teachers improve the quality of their work. Young Children, 2001

Roots and Wings Stacey York, 2016-06-27 Use the updated activities, examples, and research to improve your anti-bias and multicultural education programs. This clear and practical guide includes expanded information on English language learners, family engagement, culturally responsive teaching, and staff training. Stacey York teaches child development at Rochester Community and Technical College and established E-LECT, a collaborative effort between thirteen Minnesota community and technical colleges to provide e-learning for early childhood teachers.
