Committee on Foreign Relations, 1990 Threat Assessment, Military Strategy, and Defense Planning United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Armed Services, 1992 India's Strategic Future Ross Babbage, Sandy Gordon, 2016-07-27 South Asia has inherited a volatile ethnic and social mix that generates powerful political unrest between the nations of the region Within this setting India continues its quest for regional great power status This volume asks whether India can continue to build on its military base and extend its strategic reach or whether the problems of a troubled nation and neighbourhood act as a restraint on these aspirations If it does eventually achieve these aims what kind of power is it likely to be Rethinking the Unthinkable Ivo H. Daalder, Terry Terriff, 2014-02-04 Rethinking the Unthinkable examines the future direction of nuclear arms control in the post Cold War security environment Believing that the new environment requires a radical rethinking of the purpose and role of nuclear weapons in international politics the contributors address many fundamental issues influencing further US Russian and European nuclear arms reductions This volume is a product of the Project on Rethinking Arms Control sponsored by the Center for International and Security Studies in Maryland Arms Control, the FRG, and the Future of East-West Relations Wolfram F. Hanrieder, 2019-04-05 The political dimension of arms control has always had special significance for the Federal Republic of Germany not only because of the issue of a divided Germany and a partitioned Europe but also because of the country's key position in the Western security alliance In the wake of NATO's recent decision to deploy more nuclear weapons on German soil and in the absence of progress on arms control it has become clear that arms control measures and negotiations have assumed an importance far beyond their military technical components fundamental questions about the nature of East West relations and the future shape of the transatlantic alliance and the European political order also have been raised These essays explore the implications of arms control negotiations for the Federal Republic of Germany and consider why Germany has traditionally found it impossible to divorce considerations of arms control from their larger political context Hearings, Reports and Prints of the Senate Committee on Foreign

Whitehead, 1987 Future Soviet Interests in Arms Control Institute for Defense Analyses. International and Social Studies Division, 1970 The Future: Warfare, military forces and technology, 1993 Hard Power, Soft Power and the Future of Transatlantic Relations Thomas L. Ilgen, 2016-04-22 The dynamics of transatlantic relations in the twenty first century have been shaped by an American preference for the exercise of its considerable hard power capabilities while Europeans have preferred to draw upon the considerable soft power resources that have grown from their enviable internal processes of integration These diverging power preferences have differential impacts on the management of Atlantic security economic and social and cultural relations The contributors long time observers and analysts of the Atlantic partnership debate how problematic security relations are likely to continue to be discuss how successfully economic affairs will be managed and examine the continuing frictions in domestic politics of social and cultural matters that should be manageable if both European and American leaders work actively and responsibly to encourage policy convergence The Future of the International Nuclear Non-Proliferation Regime Marianne van Leeuwen, 2023-10-20 The 1995 conference on the review and extension of the Nuclear Non Proliferation Treaty may well mark an important turning point The treaty itself but also the wider international regime built around it are at stake The Future of the International Nuclear Non Proliferation Regime deals with various aspects of the problems of nuclear proliferation and the international struggle against it Authors from Europe the United States and Australia have contributed to this book which was produced under the auspices of the Netherlands Institute of International Relations Clingendael The reader is first offered regional case studies on North Korea South Asia the Middle East and the former Soviet Union followed by chapters on nuclear safeguards and export controls systems and contributions on a Comprehensive Test Ban Treaty and security guarantees The two concluding chapters evaluate and propose policies to strengthen the non proliferation regime beyond 1995 It will be of interest to policy makers students of international relations and journalists Future Trends in East Asian International Relations Quansheng Zhao, 2014-03-18 The world has undergone significant change since the end of the Cold War One such development is that the Asia Pacific has become increasingly prominent in international affairs This comprehensive study provides a detailed understanding of key issues actors and future trends in the region The Future of the US-Republic of Korea Military Relationship Kim Jung-Ik, 2016-07-27 As the international security situation has changed after the collapse of the Soviet Union the book examines the implication of the new security environment to the security of South Korea and how the strategic and military relations with the United States will develop In the new era the lack of common interests has made the mutual defence sceptical This book suggests that South Korea should eventually develop a long term strategy with a goal of self reliance
