

“Gadgil formula”

The Gadgil formula was formulated with the formulation of the fourth five year plan for the distribution of plan transfers amongst the states. It was named after the then deputy chairman of the Planning Commission Dr. D.R. Gadgil. The central assistance provided for in the first three plans and annual plans of 1966-1969 lacked objectivity in its formulation and did not lead to equal and balanced growth in the states. The National Development Council (NDC) approved the following formula:

1. Special Category states like Assam, Jammu and Kashmir and Nagaland were given preference. Their needs should first be met out of the total pool of Central assistance.
2. The remaining balance of the Central assistance should be distributed among the remaining States on the basis of the following criteria: (i) 60 per cent on the basis of population; (ii) 10 per cent on the basis of tax effort, determined on the basis of individual State's per capita tax receipts as percentage of the State's per capita income; (iii) 10 per cent on the basis of per capita State income, assistance going only to States whose per capita incomes are below the national average; (iv) 10 per cent on the basis of spill-over into the Fourth plan of major continuing irrigation and power projects; (v) 10 per cent for special problems of individual States.

Economy of Federalism in India M. Govinda Rao,Nirvikar Singh,2006-12-18 This is a comprehensive work on India s fiscal federalism The book surveys and analyses the evolution of fiscal federalism from the angle of political economy and brings to bear analytical skills of a very high order to assess and relate the political and administrative dimensions of India s federal system to fiscal federal issues The authors present a synthesized framework combining both economic and political elements in a political economy prism such as the Centre State relations with not only the political perspectives but also the economic ones with the belief that only such a framework can provide a useful guide to implementable reform of policies Growth and Development Planning in India K. L. Datta,2020-11-30 The debate around growth has been an important feature of economic planning in India since Independence This book deals with the wide range of issues related to the country s growth and development between 1951 and 2011 covering the 11 Five Year Plans formulated and implemented during this period as well as in the decade after that The author traces the changing nature of planning over time from rigid state control on economic activities to reliance on market based planning in the time of economic reforms He has dealt with the transition from growth measures in the 1970s to the use of a mix of growth and redistribution in the 1980s and the economic reforms and liberalization measures from 1991 onwards and the inclusive growth we have seen in the twenty first century The central theme of the book is to analyse the role that planning played in maximizing the rate of economic growth and in improving the living standards of the people Considering India s rapidly changing socio economic environment many of the issues around growth and development are contentious The author discusses them here with academic rigour and an insider s insight thus enabling a fair assessment Planning in the 20th Century and Beyond Santosh Mehrotra,Sylvie Guichard,2020-10-29
