MSE Cross-Linguistic Transfer of Writing Strategies Karen Forbes, 2020-10-19 In the context of increasingly multilingual global educational settings this book provides a timely exploration of the phenomenon of cross linguistic transfer of writing strategies in particular transfer from the foreign language to the first language and presents a compelling case for a multilingual approach to writing pedagogy The book presents evidence from a classroom based intervention study conducted in a secondary school in England on cross linguistic strategy transfer It suggests that even beginner or low proficiency foreign language learners can develop effective skills and strategies in the foreign language classroom which can also positively influence writing in other languages including their first language This book ultimately encourages more joined up cross curricular cross linguistic thinking related to language in schools by exploring the potential for collaboration between languages teachers Thesis and Dissertation Writing in a Second Language Brian Paltridge,Sue Starfield,2019-07-25 Fully updated and packed with new material the second edition of Thesis and Dissertation Writing in a Second Language is the ideal guide for non native speaker students and their supervisors working on writing a thesis or dissertation in English Considering the purposes of thesis and dissertation of writing alongside writer reader relationships this book uses accessible language and practical examples to discuss issues that are crucial to successful thesis and dissertation writing This edition offers Insights into the experience of being a doctoral writer issues of writer identity and writing with authority Typical language and discourse features of theses and dissertations Advice on the structure and organisation of key sections Suggestions for online resources which support writing Extracts from completed theses and dissertations Guidance on understanding examiner expectations Advice on publishing from a PhD Suitable for students from all disciplines Thesis and Dissertation Writing in a Second Language is essential reading for non native speaker students looking to complete a thesis or dissertation in English Tracking Interaction in Chinese Scholars' Academic Writing Jing Wei,2024-06-15 This book tracks changes in the use of metadiscourse in Chinese scholars English and Chinese research articles discusses how these changes reflect changes in Chinese scholars interactions with their peers in China and outside China and analyzes how Chinese scholars are responding to changes in the academic context that embrace and shape rhetorical practices in the academic world Around the turn of the twenty first century the Chinese government declared the goal of enhancing international soft power and one important way to achieve this goal is to promote China s global academic influence China has indeed made remarkable strides in terms of academic output by publishing Chinese scholars research papers and monographs around the world However international soft power means more than just the export of papers or books it means connecting to and participating in the academic world For this to happen Chinese scholars must get to know their international counterparts understand their rhetorical preferences and be willing and able to accommodate their needs Academic Writing and Plagiarism Diane Pecorari,2015-06-21 Plagiarism has long been regarded with concern by the university community as a serious act of wrongdoing threatening core academic values There has been a perceived increase in plagiarism over recent years due in part to issues raised by the new media a diverse student population and the rise in English as a lingua franca This book examines plagiarism the inappropriate relationship between a text and its sources from a linguistic perspective Diane Pecorari brings recent linguistic research to bear on plagiarism including processes of first and second language writers interplay between reading and writing writer s identity and voice and the expectations of the academic discourse community Using empirical data drawn from a large sample of student writing compared against written sources Academic Writing and Plagiarism argues that some plagiarism in this linguistic context can be regarded as a failure of pedagogy rather than a deliberate attempt to transgress The book examines the implications of this gap between the institutions expectations of the students student performance and institutional awareness and suggests pedagogic solutions to be implemented at student tutor and institutional levels Academic Writing and Plagiarism is a cutting edge research monograph which will be essential reading for researchers in applied linguistics

The Language of Schooling Mary J. Schleppegrell, 2004-04-26 This book is about how language is used in the context of schooling It demonstrates that the variety of English expected at school differs from the interactional language that students use for social purposes outside of school and provides a linguistic analysis of the challenges of the school curriculum particularly for non native speakers of English speakers of non standard dialects and students who have little exposure to academic language outside of schools The Language of Schooling A Functional Linguistics Perspective builds on current sociolinguistic and discourse analytic studies of language in school but adds a new dimension the framework of functional linguistic analysis This framework focuses not just on the structure of words and sentences but on how texts are constructed how particular grammatical choices create meanings in the different kinds of texts students are asked to read and write at school The Language of Schooling A Functional Linguistics Perspective provides a functional description of the kinds of texts students are expected to read and write at school relates research from other sociolinguistic and language development perspectives to research from the systemic functional linguistics perspective focuses on the increasing linguistic demands of contexts of advanced literacy middle school through college analyzes the genres typically encountered at school with extensive description of the grammatical features of the expository essay a gatekeeping genre for secondary school graduates reviews the grammatical features of disciplinary genres in science and history and argues for more explicit attention to language in teaching all subjects with a particular focus on what is needed for the development of critical literacy This book will enable researchers and students of language in education to recognize how the grammatical and discourse features of the language of schooling construct the content areas role relationships and purposes and expectations of schools It also will enable them to better understand the nature of language itself and how it emerges from and helps to maintain social structures and institutions and to apply these understandings to creating classroom environments that build on the strengths students bring to school
