Institutionenvergleich Und Institutionendynamik:

The Historiography of Contemporary Science and Technology Thomas Söderquist, 2013-01-11 More than ninety percent of all scientific history has been made during the last half century So far however only a fraction of historical scholarship has dealt with this period Merely a decade ago most scientific historians considered recent science the scientific culture created lived and remembered by contemporary scientists an area of study best left to the historical actors themselves Technological Change and Regional Development in Europe Ludwig Schätzl, Javier Revilla Diez, 2012-12-06 This book presents the findings of the extensive research programme funded by the Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft German Research Council and entitled Technological Change and Regional Development in Europe The goal of this programme was to carry out research by means of empirical surveys into the relationship between technological change and regional development Over a period of six years a total of 50 research projects have been undertaken in three phases each lasting two years This research programme has succeeded in actively involving leading German regional scientists from many universities as well as non university research institutions In addition numerous research projects were carried out in close co operation with internationally renowned partners We should like to express our gratitude for the support provided by the Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft Without their financial backing of the research programme it would not have been possible to undertake such an ambitious project Thanks also go to the contributors of this volume for their willingness to participate in our joint project We wish in addition to acknowledge the contribution of Prof Dr Philip Cooke whose refereeing of the chapters has enhanced the quality of the work presented here Finally our thanks go to Angela Spence for her expert editorial assistance linguistic editing and the preparation of the Index and also Franco Vaio for taking care of the technical aspects and production of the final copy Their combined efforts have been crucial for successfully bringing together contributions from so many different authors in a single volume National Capitalisms, Global Competition, and Economic Performance Sigrid Quack, Glenn Morgan, Richard Whitley, 2000 Why are some firms successful on global markets whilst others are not In this collection of papers a group of distinguished international researchers examine the inter relationship between national context firm performance and global competitiveness In a series of empirical studies covering major industries such as banking telecommunications construction automobiles and airlines in a number of European countries Great Britain France Germany Holland Finland Slovenia the studies show how distinctive patterns of firm competences and capabilities arise from national contexts These influence the way in which firms perform in response to changing technologies and competitive pressures Thus the impact of the globalisation of economic activity may be to reinforce existing national differences in firm performance rather than producing a homogenisation and standardisation This book will be of interest to researchers in business and management sociology economics and political science for its comparative organizational approach to problems of economic performance The Future of the German Economy Rebecca

Harding, William E. Paterson, 2000 Flagships of Imperialism is the first scholarly monograph on the history of the P the founders attitudes to technical advances the shareholding base the company s involvement in the opium trade and with its acquisition of mail Admiralty and other government contracts It was the P O s status as a government contractor which above all else implicated its fortunes in the wider politics of empire as illustrated by the book s concluding account of the company s rescue from the edge of a financial precipice by the award of a new government mail contract prompted among other things by the Abyssinian expedition of 1867 Flagships of Imperialism will be of interest to transport and company historians and to historians of the British empire alike as well as to anyone interested in the history of British ships and shipping in the nineteenth century

Regional Innovation Systems Philip N. Cooke, Martin Heidenreich, Hans-Joachim Braczyk, 2004 Since the first edition was published in 1998 there has been a worldwide innovation led boom subsequent slump This new edition registers this change offers an interesting test of the robustness of the original arguments

Tomiuk, K. Wöhrmann, A. Sentker, 2012-12-06 This selected collection of contributions focuses on the modification of organisms through genetic manipulation Scientists from various disciplines assess the quality of our knowledge on which risk assessment of gene technology methods is currently based Molecular biology and ecology but also aspects of evolutionary and population genetics human genetics and genetically modified food are among the topics covered The book analyzes the impetus behind and progress in research methods which have been introduced into gene technology risk assessment procedures over the last three years and in so doing reveals gaps in our understanding of evolutionary processes The history of risk assessment and ethical implications with respect to the deliberate release of GMOs are considered Finally the transfer of knowledge from the laboratory to the public and the role of the media in this process are discussed This monograph will be of great interest to all those concerned with the risk assessment of genetechonology methods

Varieties of Capitalism Peter A. Hall,David Soskice,2001-08-30 What are the most fundamental differences among the political economies of the developed world How do national institutional differences condition economic performance public policy and social well being Will they survive the pressures for convergence generated by globalization and technological change These have long been central questions in comparative political economy This book provides a new and coherent set of answers to them Building on the new economics of organization the authors develop an important new theory about which differences among national political economies are most significant for economic policy and performance Drawing on a distinction between liberal and coordinated market economies they argue that there is more than one path to economic success Nations need not converge to a single Anglo American model They develop a new theory of comparative institutionaladvantage that transforms our understanding of international trade offers new explanations for the response of firms and nations to the challenges of globalization and provides a new theory of national interest to explain the conduct of nations in international relations The analysis brings the firm back into the centre of comparative political economy It provides new perspectives on economic and social policy making that illuminate the role of business in the development of the welfare state and the dilemmas facing those who make economic policy in the contemporary world Emphasizing the institutional complementarities that link labour relations corporate finance and national legal systems the authors bring interdisciplinary perspectives to bear on issues of strategic management economic performance and institutional change This pathbreaking work sets new agendas in the study of comparative political economy As such it will be of value to academics and graduate students in economics business and political science as well as to many others with interests in international relations social policy making and the law reading for students of international business and international management      State and Administration in Japan and Germany Michio Muramatsu, Frieder Naschold, 1997 A comparison of politics and administration in Japan and Germany seems at first to be a comparison between similar highly industrialized states This volume provides the first in depth study about the two countries the differences in their administrative and political party systems the differences in the international environment which they faced after World War Two and during the Cold War      New Frontiers in the Public Sector Management Frieder Naschold, 2017-10-10 No detailed description available for New Frontiers in the Public Sector Management      Worlds of Work Daniel B. Cornfield, Randy Hodson, 2012-12-06 The advent of transnational economic production and market integration compels sociologists of work to look beyond traditional national boundaries and build an international sociology of work in order to effectively address the human scientific and practical challenges posed by global economic transnationalism The purpose of this volume is to promote transnational dialogue about the sociology of work and help build a truly international discipline in this field      Social Studies of Science and Technology: Looking Back, Ahead B. Joerges, H. Nowotny, 2012-12-06 BERNW ARD JOERGES AND HELGA NOWOTNY YET ANOTHER TURN The thing that doesn't fit is the thing that's most interesting Richard Feynman This volume was originally conceived as a contribution to yet another turn not captured by one of the many adjectives that have served to describe the collective meandering of the scholarly community in search of direction It was meant to mark the millennial turn a seemingly purely chronological event but one in search for great meanings and invested with loaded significances The editors wanted to seize the opportunity of the moment in order to pause and reflect on the sociology and history of social studies of science and technology The moment came and went and the new millennium barely nine months later thrust its historical marker upon the world through a horrendous and cruel shock in an unforeseen and unforeseeable way Since then the world appears more vulnerable and volatile fragmented and fraught with uncertainty The universal values bequeathed by the Enlightenment are either refused or appear refuted The dream of a universal civilization which has accompanied the unfolding of the existing multiple modernities in their historically unique trajectories has been discarded and its promises in tatters      Systemic Competitiveness Klaus Esser, Wolfgang Hillebrand, Dirk Messner, Jörg Meyer-Stamer, 2013-10-18 The authors emphasize that an economy's competitiveness relies on purposive and intermeshed measures at the meta macro meso and micro level and a multidimensional guidance concept consisting of competition dialogue and shared decision making which integrates the key groups of actors      Government Formation in Central and Eastern Europe Dorothea Keudel-Kaiser, 2014-12-15 The formation of governments without a majority in parliament is a counterintuitive albeit empirically relevant phenomenon minority governments make up about one third of all governments in Europe The author offers an analysis of the conditions leading to the formation of minority governments in Central and Eastern Europe and provides the reader with a detailed overview of the processes underlying the formation of governments from the early 1990s up to 2010
