Futures We Are In:

Futures we are in F. Emery, 2012-12-06 After explicating the analytical framework I will proceed to develop scenarios as follows 1 General scenarios maladaptive and adaptive 2 The future for the Western group of societies Within this will seek to identify the main changes in the natures of work leisure family organisation education and life styles 3 The future for the major Asian powers China Japan and India 4 A world scenario centred about the first two scenarios but also aimed to locate within this pattern the most probable future for sets of the smaller societies and under developed countries The scenarios will be developed in that order for good reasons Sociological forecasting has to deal in the first instance with sets of societies that are closely interdependent each with the other A scenario for Western societies generally is required before one can hope to write one for the individual countries e g France Australia because they are not evolving independently The widespread upsurge of student revolts in 1967 68 well illustrates this interdependence Some writers like Stevens 1970 have taken the U S A as the model of the future for the other smaller Western societies There is some justification for this as the U S has certainly been the leading part in the West for some decades However there is danger in assuming that that will persist A change in the near future in the problems that commonly confront Western societies may make the U S example depasse old hat if not down right misleading

The Future We Choose Christiana Figueres, Tom Rivett-Carnac, 2020 In this cautionary but optimistic book Figueres and Rivett Carnac the architects of the 2015 Paris Climate Change Agreement tackle arguably the most urgent and consequential challenge humankind has ever faced the world s changing climate and the fate of humanity In The Future We Choose the authors outline two possible scenarios for the planet In one they describe what life on Earth will be like by 2050 if we fail to meet the Paris targets for carbon dioxide emission reduction In the other they describe what it will take to create and live in a carbon neutral regenerative world They argue for confronting the climate crisis head on with determination and optimism How we all of us address the climate crisis in the next thirty years will determine not only the world we will live in but also the world we will bequeath to our children and theirs The Future We Choose presents our options and tells us in no uncertain terms what governments corporations and each of us can and must do to fend off disaster

The Future We Ask For Don C. Davis ThB BA Mdiv, 2015-03-11 Which is better to live on the holding edge of the past or the growing edge of the future Don Davis writes on the growing edge of the future His novel A Place In The Story is about choosing to live on the growing edge The seven sequels are more than just the best of serious fiction they tell the story of Dr Kelly beloved granddad who is also a down to earth philosopher of life future vision speaker and writer and a most unusual professor Through A Place In The Story we can shadow Dr Kellys faith journey story and dare to dream our best dreams then give them their best chance to happen as fellow pioneers of new tomorrows and the new sacred We live in the greatest age in all human history We are indebted to the past but we owe more to the future The rewards have never been greater for the human family to choose the identity markers of the Big Ten Universal Qualities to define our best future When we choose the Big Ten Universal Qualities for our identity markers our brain creates a kind of inner voice a talisman an alter ego that magnetizes the identity markers that lead us to our higher self     The Future We Need Erica Smiley,Sarita Gupta,2022-04-15 In The Future We Need Erica Smiley and Sarita Gupta bring a novel perspective to building worker power and what labor organizing could look like in the future suggesting ways to evolve collective bargaining to match the needs of modern people not only changing their wages and working conditions but being able to govern over more aspects of their lives Weaving together stories of real working people Smiley and Gupta position the struggle to build collective bargaining power as a central element in the effort to build a healthy democracy and explore both existing levers of power and new ones we must build for workers to have the ability to negotiate in today and tomorrow s contexts The Future We Need illustrates the necessity of centralizing the fight against white supremacy and gender discrimination while offering paths forward to harness the power of collective bargaining in every area for a new era     A Future We Can Love Susan Bauer-Wu,2024-09-10 Discover wisdom and guidance to face the climate emergency from the most influential spiritual and environmental leaders of our time including the Dalai Lama Greta Thunberg Joanna Macy Vandana Shiva Paul Hawken Katharine Hayhoe and Matthieu Ricard When the Dalai Lama and Greta Thunberg spoke for the first time in January 2021 millions of people around the world took notice It is encouraging to see how you have opened the eyes of the world to the urgency to protect our planet our only home the Dalai Lama wrote to Greta before their meeting A Future We Can Love shares the words of these two great figures generations apart bringing them into dialogue with dozens of visionary scientists activists and spiritual luminaries These include indigenous scholar and artist Lyla June medical biochemist and author Diana Beresford Kroeger climate scientist and Zen teacher Kritee Kanko interfaith environmental leader Dekila Chungyalpa Buddhist teacher Willa Blythe Baker Rabbi Steve Leder and many more Through this world changing conversation readers embark on a four part journey toward active hope in the face of the climate crisis from knowledge of climate science through the capacity for change and to the will that is needed and the actions we can take The book will help you comfort your climate anxiety and metabolize grief or burnout into wonderment and useful energy recognize interdependence as key to our well being and as a lens for understanding both the climate crisis and its solutions clarify why feedback loops leave us no time to wait on climate action develop your own rituals and practices for connecting to Earth and renewing hope overcome common obstacles to speaking and acting clearly on behalf of the human and wild communities most affected by the climate crisis A Future We Can Love inspires each of us to rise to the occasion to ensure a brighter future for generations to come     The Future We Want Sarah Leonard,Bhaskar Sunkara,2016-02-02 A stirring blueprint for American equality from the breakout stars The New York Times of the young new left Democrat Republican the list of presidential candidates confirms that business is proceeding pretty much as usual The Future We Want proposes something different In a sharp rousing collective manifesto ten young cultural and political critics dismantle the usual liberal solutions to America's ills and propose a pragmatic alternative. What would finance look like without Wall Street? Or the workplace with responsibility shared by the entire workforce? From a campaign to limit work hours to a program for full employment to proposals for a new feminism, The Future We Want has the courage to think of alternatives that are both utopian and possible. Brilliantly clear and provocative, The Future We Want, edited by Jacobin magazine founder Bhaskar Sunkara and the Nation's Sarah Leonard, harnesses the energy and creativity of an angry generation and announces the arrival of a new political left that not only protests but plans. The Future We Want Aditya Goel, 2014-03-26

Water and sanitation problems have reached boiling point; children are dying unnecessarily at the rate of 20 jumbo jets crashing every day. We forget that the water cycle and life cycle are one. Only a fool tests the depth of water with both feet. What makes the desert beautiful is that it somewhere hides a well. As I travel around the world, people think the only place where there is potential conflict over water is the Middle East, but they are completely wrong. We have the problem all over the world. The cure for anything is salt water: sweat, tears, or the sea. In one drop of water are found all the secrets of the oceans. Thus it is necessary to conserve and use this resource efficiently. Building the future we want Rajendra K. Pachauri, 2014-08-01

The 2015 edition of A Planet for Life reaches bookshelves in a landmark year for the world. A new development cooperation framework is being crafted while sustainable development goals (SDGs) are being laid out to address the 21st century's most urgent sustainable development issues. A Planet for Life provides first-hand analysis and narrative of ongoing transformation and sustainable development challenges in key countries. It tours five continents to shed light on what countries and regions are actually doing to achieve sustainable development, tackling their own local and global problems and exploring different pathways towards sustainability. It explores implementation issues and financing for development options, more specifically with an overview of key propositions for making sustainable development financing a lever to transform economies and societies. Cities steering towards sustainability ISBN 9788179931318 Innovation for Sustainable Development ISBN 9788179935569 Reducing Inequalities: a sustainable development challenge ISBN 9788179935309 Towards Agricultural Change ISBN 9788179934432 Oceans: the new frontier ISBN 9788179934029 The Future We Chose Busani Ngcaweni, 2014-01-17

This book foregrounds emerging and different perspectives on the centenary of the ANC, which was celebrated in February 2012. Differing in tenor, methodology and style, we present nineteen chapters that tackle various epochs and events in the making of the centenary of the oldest political organisation in Africa. The book offers new angles to our understanding of what sustained the ANC over one hundred years in spite of all the internal and external contradictions. There is arguably a view that part of what distinguishes the ANC from other revolutionary movements in the continent is that from the turn of the twentieth century its founders prioritised national unity across tribal, ethnic, linguistic, religious, gender and racial identities. This ideal of national unity informed their responses to the formation of the Union of South Africa in 1910 and the declaration of the South African Republic in 1961. In principle, the leadership was opposed not to these manifestations of concrete nation state formation but to the practice of excluding the majority of South African citizens according to racial markers As a contribution to the historiography of the ANC and that of South Africa which it was established to liberate the book tackles the following critical questions what traits in the ANC s genetic code have kept it alive for one hundred years Is the ANC on course to meeting its historical mission of building an equitable nonracial non sexist and socially democratic society as articulated in the Africans Claims the Freedom Charter and the Strategy and Tactics documents Finally would the ANC continue to retain relevance for a bicentenary especially as it now contends with new internal and external contradictions in an increasingly unequally society and unipolar world order This new hypothetical architecture hopefully will be employed by many others engaged in the study of the rise and fall of political organisations

Shaping the future we want Buckler, Carolee, Creech, Heather, 2014-11-10      The Education We Need for a Future We Can't Predict Thomas Hatch, Jordan Corson, Sarah Gerth van den Berg, 2021-01-16 Improve Schools and Transform Education In order for educational systems to change we must reevaluate deep seated beliefs about learning teaching schooling and race that perpetuate inequitable opportunities and outcomes Hatch Corson and Gerth van den Berg challenge the narrative when it comes to the grammar of schooling or the conventional structures practices and beliefs that define educational experiences for so many children to cast a new vision of what school could be The book addresses current systemic problems and solutions as it Highlights global examples of successful school change Describes strategies that improve educational opportunities and performance Explores promising approaches in developing new learning opportunities Outlines conditions for supporting wide scale educational improvement This provocative book approaches education reform by highlighting what works while also demonstrating what can be accomplished if we redefine conventional schools We can make the schools we have more efficient more effective and more equitable all while creating powerful opportunities to support all aspects of students development You won t find a better book on system change in education than this one We learn why schools don t change how they can improve what it takes to change a system and in the final analysis the possibilities of system change Above all The Education We Need renders complexity into clarity as the writing is so clear and compelling A powerful read on a topic of utmost importance Michael Fullan Professor Emeritus OISE University of Toronto I cannot recommend this book highly enough Tom tackles long standing and emerging educational issues in new ways with an impressive understanding of the challenging complexities but also feasible possibilities for ensuring excellence and equity for all students Carol Campbell Associate Professor Ontario Institute for Studies in Education University of Toronto      The Future We Wish We Had Martin Harry Greenberg, Rebecca Lickiss, 2007 Featuring contributions from Esther M Friesner Kevin J Anderson Mike Resnick and Irene Radford this brilliant collection of original stories imagines a vast array of futures in which androids time twists and personal jet cars run rampant and that might someday become a reality Original
