Gabriele Munter:

Wassily Kandinsky and Gabriele Münter Wassily Kandinsky, Annegret Hoberg, Gabriele Münter, 1994 The ill starred love affair between Wassily Kandinsky and Gabriele Munter is one of the most intriguing episodes in the history of twentieth century art a story of happiness and pain trust and betrayal idyllic harmony and bitter conflict set against the backdrop of the revolutionary upheavals that attended the birth of Modernism Living and working together in Munich and in the Bavarian countryside Kandinsky and Munter jointly became the moving spirits of the Blue Rider school which pioneered the epochal turn from figurative painting to abstraction This book traces the development of the couple s personal and artistic relationship from its beginnings in 1902 to the key moment in 1914 when Kandinsky fled Germany and returned to his native Russia before finally abandoning Munter in 1917 The fascinating and often moving story of their life together and of the underlying tensions that eventually drove them apart is told in letters some of which are published here for the first time in diary extracts and memoirs and in superb reproductions of their finest paintings and sketches Gabriele Muentner

Gabriele Münter, 1877-1962 Gabriele Mu nter, 1963 Gabriele Münter Reinhold Heller, Milwaukee Art Museum, 1997 The work of Gabriele Munter 1877 1962 shines like a jewel in the male dominated avant garde Expressionist movement Most accounts of the frenetically creative years in Munich and Murnau fail to recognize the uniqueness of Munter s vision her work is unjustly eclipsed by that of her colleagues not least Vassily Kandinsky s This book redresses the balance Some one hundred of the artist s most seminal works are reproduced in this lavishly illustrated volume they include several from private collections that have never before been published Gabriele Munter The Years of Expressionism 1903 1920 is an exploration of Munter s crucial contribution to German Expressionism in the genres of landscape portrait and still life painting Her place and significance in the development of this movement are critically examined with particular attention paid to the iconography of her paintings and the lyrical strength of her work BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Gabriele Münter, 1877 to 1962 Gabriele Münter, 1981 Gabriele Münter, Murnau to Stockholm (1908-1917) Gabriele Münter, 1961 Gabriele Münter: Retrospective Ivan Ristić, Hans-Peter Wipplinger, 2023 Gabriele Münter Matthias Mühling, 2017 This volume presents the paintings of Gabriele M nter in ten thematic sections that bring the artist s creative process to the fore For the first time M nter s paintings are accompanied by a large number of her photographs from North America taken around the turn of the nineteenth to the twentieth century The picture that emerges from the whole is that of an extraordinarily open minded and adventuresome artist Gabriele Münter Gabriele Münter, 1963 Gabriele Münter Gabriele Münter, 1963 Naive and Outsider Painting from Germany and Paintings by Gabriele Münter Gabriele Münter, 1983 Gabriele Münter Emily Goldstein, Gabriele Münter, 1986 Gabriele Münter , 1960 Gabriele Münter Gabriele Münter, Annegret

Hoberg, Shulamith Behr, Barnaby Wright, 2005 German Expressionist M ü n t e r 1877 1962 was one of the co founders of The Blue Rider artists group and was Wassily Kandinsky companion Largely unknown outside Germany her reputation eclipsed by male contemporaries M ü n t e r s work was the subject of a 2005 exhibition at the Courtauld Institute of Art Gallery London for which this catalogue was pr Gabriele Münter ,1960 Under the open sky Sarah Louisa Henn, Matthias Mühling, 2020 Wassily Kandinsky and Gabriele M ü n t e r we know them as leading figures of the Blue Rider Yet the two were close collaborators for years before the artists group was founded The exhibition undertakes a pioneering reconstruction of their itinerant life between 1902 and 1908 The pair traveled widely and light working under the open sky to create paintings in small formats and photographs Oil sketches produced right in front of the motifs and photographs show scenes and sceneries in and around Kallm n z Rotterdam Tunis Rapallo Paris and other destinations Among these works are oil studies photographs and sketchbooks by Gabriele M ü n t e r that have never been on display in an exhibition Letting us observe the two partners unusually close shared engagement with the same motifs and creative techniques they also illustrate how each developed his or her own and personal perspective on the settings in which they found themselves Having enrolled at the Phalanx art school in Munich in 1901 M ü n t e r took up an invitation from Kandinsky who taught there to join his class on a work retreat in Kochel in the summer of 1902 Carrying cameras palettes small pasteboards folding easels and resealable paint tubes they got on their bicycles and explored the landscapes along the edge of the Bavarian Alps They spent a second summer with Kandinsky s painting class in Kallm n z the following year this time as a couple Here they fell into a form of working in tandem that they would continue on their travels during the next several years and that left a clearly recognizable imprint on their art They approached the same motif sampling different techniques used photographs captured along the way as sources of inspiration for drawings woodcuts and paintings and discussed the innovative ideas that each was developing From 1904 until 1908 the couple was mostly on the road Mobility was the defining characteristic of their private life as well as their work on their art in which they dedicated themselves to the landscapes and architectures of their travel destinations Whether in Germany or the Netherlands in Italy or Tunisia they followed the itineraries recommended in the guidebooks of the time and selected destinations that had long been popular with tourists Their technique evinces the influence of Impressionism rarely using the brush they applied virtually unmixed paints with the palette knife The formats are small and intimate with a focus on the handling of color Unaffected by social realities they sought to render the surfaces of the world around them as it presented itself to the eye Besides the oil sketches they gathered a great number of photographs the majority taken by M ü n t e r who never went out without her Kodak roll film camera Suggesting the painter s keen eye for composition these pictures possess a striking quality that for today s beholder lends them genuinely artistic value in addition to their function as private documentation Similarities as well as differences between the photographic and painted pictures speak to the questions that drove the two artists shared quest for a modernist idiom a contemporary pictorial aesthetic It led them to reject academic convention and embrace the Impressionist model in Kallm n z no less than in Carthage Their wanderings came to a close after four years abroad including in 1906 1907 an entire year in Paris back in Germany they spent the winter in Berlin and the spring in South Tyrol before deciding in the early summer of 1908 to abandon the restless and rather lonely life on the road and settle down in Munich for good Their return marks the end of the exhibition which draws attention to the creative symbiosis between Kandinsky and M nter in the early years of their relationship between 1902 and 1908 Curated by Sarah Louisa Henn and Matthias M hling Museum s website Gabriele Münter ,1960
