Gamble On Passion:

Gamble on Passion Jacqueline Baird,1994 Gamble on Passion Random House,1993-12-01 Gamble on Passion Jacqueline Baird,1981 Challenging the Bard Gary Rosenshield,2013-07-08 In this book the author engages with the critical histories of two literary titans illuminating how Dostoevsky reacted to challenged adapted and ultimately transformed the work of his predecessor Pushkin Focusing primarily on Dostoevsky s works through 1866 including Poor Folk The Double Mr Prokharichin The Gambler and Crime and Punishment the author observes that the younger writer s way to literary greatness was not around Pushkin but through him Passion's Gamble L. Benjamin,1984 Transgressing Boundaries in Jeanette Winterson's Fiction Sonia Front,2009 The subsequent chapters of the book deal with selected questions from Jeanette Winterson s fiction such as gender issues love and eroticism language and time constituting areas within which Winterson s characters seek their identity As they contest and repudiate cliché s stereotypes and patterns their journey of self discovery is accomplished through transgression The book analyzes how the subversion of phallogocentric narrative and scenarios entails the reenvisaging of relations between the genders and reconceptualization of female desire The author attempts to determine the consequences of Winterson s manipulations with gender sexuality and time and her disruption of the binary system Passion in Action Rowland Stout,2025-06-05 Developing a sophisticated and original approach to the nature of emotion this volume demonstrates that the way we feel about things is simultaneously a product of our reason and a force on it an aspect both of our agency and of our passivity As a force on the way we think about things emotions are passions and felt as such As a product of the way we think about things having emotions means we find values in our world Starting from a conception of what it is to be sensitive to reason Stout develops an account of emotional dispositions as manifested in forming and maintaining goals When these dispositions are active we feel like behaving in certain ways and this feeling characterizes the phenomenological aspect of emotional states Each type of emotion corresponds to a characteristic behavioural pattern Since emotional states are rational responses to features of our environment having an emotion means that we are treating our environment as meriting that emotional state i.e. as having value It follows that every emotion corresponds to a rational perspective a way of thinking about things The familiar problem of emotional recalcitrance where you know your emotional state is not rational but cannot stop feeling that way is resolved by showing how we may have rational perspectives on our rational perspectives Brockton's Perils Justin Kent Richardson,1890 Passion and Purpose in the Humanities Marcus Bussey,Camila Mozzini-Alister,Bingxin Wang,Samantha Willcocks,2024-10-09 This book takes readers on a journey into the experiences struggles and triumphs of early career researchers in the humanities In the spirit of guiding emerging scholars and researchers in higher education the edited volume highlights lived experiences of researchers and ways to navigate the struggles and values of research in the humanities Featuring 20 unique essays by emergent scholars who weave their personal lives into their research passions this book offers a window into the experience
