Gonzales, Roberto G. 2011. "Learning to be Illegal: Undocumented Youth and Shifting Legal Contexts in the Transition to Adulthood." American Sociological Review 76(4): 602-619.

- Summarize (2-4 sentences)
 - How does this text define/measure the outcome of immigrant integration?
 - What are the key explanatory variables?
 - What are the causal processes of mechanisms at work how do the listed factors impact the outcome)?
- Analyze (3-5 sentences):
 - What does this source offer to your analysis (ideas about variables or mechanisms you can use to defend your thesis statement/respond to the question being asked?)
 - Does it represent one of many competing explanations/theories to explain your outcome
 - Does it represent a conflict or gap in the literature about your topic
 - Does it explain your topic, but in an unsatisfactory way (that you will address with your research)
 - What does this source NOT offer/what are its limitations (what does the source get wrong, how do its predictions differ from the reality of your case)?

Annotated bibliography

This text measures the outcome of integration through 3 transition periods; discovery period (16-18), learning to be illegal (18-24) and the coping period (25-29). It focuses on the economic and social outcomes. The mechanism is how legal status blocks economic opportunities and limits integration. This document offers an analysis on how illegal status will influence integration throughout the generation. Which responds to a part of the essay's prompt. This text competes with different explanations as it has valuable statistics and case studies. However, this text does not look at a gap in the literature since many academic sources explore illegal migration and its outcome. This source does not offer comparisons on the different legal status, which limits my research and requires me to look at another document for comparison.
