Department of Lands, 1919 Crossing Home Ground David Pitt-Brooke, 2016-11-12 Like John Muir David Pitt Brooke stepped out for a walk one morning a long walk of a thousand kilometres or more through the arid valleys of southern interior British Columbia He went in search of beauty and lost grace in a landscape that has seen decades of development and upheaval In Crossing Home Ground he reports back providing a day by day account of his journey's experiences from the practical challenges dealing with blisters rain and dehydration to sublime moments of discovery and reconnection with the natural world Through the course of this journey Pitt Brooke's encounters with the natural world generate starting points for reflections on larger issues the delicate interconnections of a healthy landscape and most especially the increasingly fragile bond between human beings and their home places There is no escaping the impact of human beings on the natural world not even in the most remote countryside but he finds hope and consolation in surviving pockets of loveliness the kindness of strangers and the transformative process of the walking itself a personal pilgrimage across home ground Crossing Home

Ground is a book that though rooted in one specific place and time will evoke a universal sense of recognition in a wide variety of readers. It will appeal to hikers, natural history enthusiasts and anyone who loves the wild countryside and is concerned about the disappearance of Canada's natural spaces. Pitt Brooke's grassland odyssey is sure to become a classic of British Columbia nature writing.

Buckaroos and Mud Pups Ken Mather, 2011-02-01 Remarkable cattle drives, famous ranches and legendary characters are at the heart of Ken Mather's account of the early days of ranching in British Columbia. These are stories about drovers, ranchers, cowboys and mud pups, the remittance men of the ranching industry. You'll meet such people as the flamboyant Harper brothers, drovers who went on to become the biggest landowners in BC with interests in the Harper Perry Hat Creek and famous Gang ranches; Johnny Wilson, one of the most successful ranchers in the industry who became known as the BC Cattle King; Jim Madden, nicknamed Big Kid for his exuberant personality and childish innocence, and whose simple lifestyle and colourful adventures made him famous in the Nicola and surrounding valleys; Coutts Marjoribanks, a mud pup whose skills as a cowboy and his exploits such as riding his horse up the steep steps and into the Kalamalka Hotel bar far outshone his talents as the ranch manager; his rich family forced him to be. The story begins at the time of BC's first gold rush and the start of a decade that would see more than 22,000 head of cattle brought into the colony. The author takes readers through to 1914, by which time ranching in the BC Interior had become big business. Complete with informative tidbits about the cowboy's tools of the trade, Buckaroos and Mud Pups is an entertaining look at fascinating times and the men who made them so.

A Voice of Her Own Thelma Poirier, 2005 With this book, the editors have brought to light a little-discussed aspect of ranching: the valuable contributions of women in an industry traditionally thought of as the domain of men. To them, the ranch means many things: it is a business, a home and a place to raise their children. In their own words, they share their experiences, their successes and their hardships, and clearly demonstrate the important role women have played and continue to play in the history and economy of the ranching industry in Canada.
