Institutional Development In Divided Societies:

Institutional Development in Divided Societies Bertus De Villiers, Frank Delmartino, André Alen, 1998 Since the mid 1980s the world has witnessed a democratization tide sweeping across Africa Europe Asia and South America This book details the effects of such change for people and institutions alike within these countries Economic Development, Inequality and War E. Nafziger, J. Auvinen, 2003-09-15 Economic Development Inequality and War shows how economic decline income inequality pervasive rent seeking by ruling elites political authoritarianism military centrality and competition for mineral exports contribute to war and humanitarian emergencies Economic regress and political decay bring about relative deprivation perception by social groups of injustice arising from a growing discrepancy between what they expect and get Nafziger and Auvinen indicate that both economic greed and social grievances drive contemporary civil wars Finally the authors also identify policies for preventing humanitarian emergencies The Development of Political Institutions Federico Ferrara, 2022-01-18 While the literature on new institutionalism explains the stability of institutional arrangements within countries and the divergence of paths of institutional development between countries Federico Ferrara takes a historical institutionalist approach to theorize dynamic processes of institutional reproduction institutional decay and institutional change in explaining the development of political institutions Ferrara synthesizes power based or power distributional explanations and ideas based legitimation explanations He specifies the psychological microfoundations of processes of institutional development drawing heavily from the findings of experimental psychology to ensure that the explanation is grounded in clear and realistic assumptions regarding human motivation cognition and behavior Aside from being of interest to scholars and graduate students in political science and other social scientific disciplines whose research concentrates on the genesis of political institutions their evolution over time and their impact on the stability of political order and the quality of governance the book will be required reading in graduate courses and seminars in comparative politics where the study of institutions and their development ranks among the subfield s most important subjects

External Democracy Promotion and Diversity Among International Agencies Simone Beetz, 2017-09-11 The book offers new insight into the diversity of democracy promotion It takes up the puzzle of mixed results for international agencies in external democracy promotion despite the global goal of democracy and the attempt to shape a common policy emphasized in various international agreements On the background of backlashes and the search for new answers it analyzes how the UNDP and the EC promoted democracy in Rwanda from 2003 until 2013 with a selective outlook until today As a result it outlines how democracy strategies differ Furthermore it develops a new concept of variances which can be applied for other international organizations and agencies as well as in other recipient states Aid, Institutions and Development Ashok Chakravarti, 2005 This accessible book is a powerful critique of the effectiveness of development aid It skilfully combines a wealth of practical experience with a thorough examination of recent academic research It will certainly challenge the defenders of aid to rethink their position for the twenty first century John Toye Department of Economics Oxford UK This is an excellent book interesting and extremely well written It offers a masterly survey of existing work in the field and will have a wide appeal amongst policymakers and academic economists with an interest in development A P Thirlwall University of Kent Canterbury UK This book makes a significant contribution by examining an important issue namely the effects of foreign aid on development The author provides an insightful critical review of the relevant academic literature and presents a careful evaluation of recent foreign aid initiatives and approaches The reader is struck by the author s painstaking and wide ranging research on the subject interspersed with thoughtful comments based on his own experiences Scholars and practitioners working on development will find much that is insightful informative provocative and stimulating Amitava Krishna Dutt University of Notre Dame US In spite of massive flows over the past 50 years aid has failed to have any significant impact on development Marginalization from the world economy and increases in absolute poverty are causing countries to degenerate into failed oppressive and in some cases dangerous states To address this malaise Ashok Chakravarti argues that there should be more recognition of the role economic and political governance can play in achieving positive and sustainable development outcomes Using the latest empirical findings on aid and growth this book reveals how good governance can be achieved by radically restructuring the international aid architecture This can be realised if the governments of donor nations and international financial institutions refocus their aid programs away from the transfer of resources and so called poverty reduction measures and instead play a more forceful role in the developing world to achieve the necessary political and institutional reform Only in this way can aid become an effective instrument of growth and poverty reduction in the 21st century Aid Institutions and Development presents a new thoroughly critical and holistic perspective on this topical and problematic subject Academics and researchers in development economics policymakers NGOs aid managers and informed readers will all find much to challenge and engage them within this book

Modern State Development, Capacity, and Institutions Derica Lambrechts, 2017-07-31 This book makes an important original conceptual and theoretical contribution to our understanding of modern state development the role of the state and the South African transition to democracy Its focus on related concepts such as state capacity political trust and tolerance adds to insights on the dynamics of political and democratic transitions Furthermore the selected focus areas as well as the comparative approach add new insights into the peculiarities of the South African transition state development state capacity and state institutions Its focus on societal dynamics and state society relations is a significant contribution

Global Institutions, Marginalization, and Development Craig Murphy, 2005 Craig Murphy s groundbreaking book examines the measures that global institutions have taken assesses the limited success of global governance and provides a coruscating expose of its failures

Public Policies in Shared Societies M. Fitzduff, 2013-10-17 Communities throughout the world are increasingly diverse in their racial ethnic and religious make up Using examples drawn from over 50 countries in a variety of fields from economics to education this book explores how governmental economic and social institutions are adapting their policies to create more cohesive and peaceful societies

Growth and Institutions in African Development Augustin K. Fosu, 2015-03-24 Recent years have seen a sustained research effort exploring the African development experience The extant literature has offered a large set of explanations as to why the African development record has lagged behind that of other regions of the developing world This new volume brings international contributors together to focus on the role of growth and institutions First it provides brief evidence on the growth and institutional records as well as on development outcomes during the post independence period Second it targets certain growth determinants including industrial embeddedness innovation exchange rate regimes and environmental quality Third it sheds light on the dynamics and distribution of growth and on growth enhancing sectors of the economy Finally it investigates several issues of institutional development as well as institutions generating development outcomes Though focused on these two key areas the coverage strives to achieve a comprehensive analysis of how Africa's development may have been enhanced or undermined and to offer lessons for the future This volume is essential reading for all scholars of development economics and development studies

Rethinking Institutions, Processes and Development in Africa Ernest Aniche, Toyin Falola, 2021-10-18 African scholarship concerning the nexus between institutions and development is still dominated by the economic perspective of development despite the emergence of the humanistic perspective of development The humanistic perspective is a more embracing encompassing and comprehensive view of development than its economic counterpart and offers a better explanation of the African situation It is essential to examine the relationships between democratic political institutions and human development This collection examines democratic institutions and processes in post independence Africa The contributors examine the political institutional processes in post colonial Africa evaluating the workings of institutions such as education bureaucracy interest groups trade unions and problems of enforcements in Africa It also discusses the relevance of creative arts for political socialization as well as the role effects of privatization on service delivery in contemporary African societies

The Power of Civil Society in the Middle East and North Africa Ibrahim Natil, Chiara Pierobon, Lilian Tauber, 2019-05-24 This book investigates the power of civil society in the Middle East and North Africa MENA in the context of the post Arab Spring era as well as more long standing challenges and constraints in the region In recent years local civil society actors have faced significant challenges from social conservatism conflict violence and the absence of democracy and exclusive political systems Over the course of the book the authors investigate how the sector has succeeded in achieving its own objectives despite these shifting conditions the restrictive political environment and the complexity of the socio cultural and economic context Structured around the three themes of peace building development and change the book also addresses challenges faced by civil society organizations linked to ethnic linguistic and cultural diversities as well as religious salient differences that are crucial markers of social and political identity Case studies are drawn from the Palestinian Occupied Territories Jordan Iran Nigeria Niger Egypt and Morocco and particular effort has been made to showcase original research from contributors who are from the region This book will be of particular interest to researchers working on development peace building conflict resolution civil society and politics within the MENA region

Political Institutions in East Timor Lydia M. Beuman, 2016-02-05 In 2002 East Timor became an independent state following a long conflict with Indonesia and went on to adopt a semi presidential form of government In a semi presidential system there is a directly elected fixed term president prime minister and government who are collectively responsible for the legislature Over 50 countries in the world have adopted such a system This book examines the politics of semi presidentialism in East Timor from 2002 2012 and post 2012 political developments It analyses the impact of semi presidentialism on the performance of East Timor s democracy and looks at whether semi presidentialism encourages power sharing between competing forces or whether it provoke a power struggle that threatens democratic stability Using East Timor as a case study the author explains whether the adoption of semi presidentialism helps or hinders the process of democratisation in new democracies It is of interest to researchers in the fields of Political Science Conflict Resolution and Asian Studies in particular Southeast Asian Politics The Oxford Handbook of the African Sahel Leonardo A. Villalón, 2021-10-15 Long on the margins of both scholarly and policy concerns the countries of the West African Sahel have recently attracted world attention primarily as a key battleground in the global war on terror This book moves beyond this narrow focus providing a multidimensional and interdisciplinary assessment of the region in all of its complexity The focus is on the six countries at the heart of the Sahelian geographic space Senegal Mauritania Mali Burkina Faso Niger and Chad Collectively the chapters explore the commonalities and interconnections that link these countries and their fates while also underscoring their diversity and the variations in their current realities The Sahel today is at an important crossroads under multiple pressures of diverse kinds environmental political demographic and economic as well as rapidly changing social and religious dynamics It is also marked by striking dynamism and experimentation drawing on a long history of innovation and cultural transfer In many ways the Sahel is today on the cutting edge of grand natural experiments exploring how humans will adapt to climate change to technological innovation to the global movement of populations and the restructuring of world politics to urbanization social change and rapid demographic growth and to inter religious contact The region is a weathervane on the front lines of the forces of global change In nine thematic sections the chapters in this book offer holistic analyses of the key forces shaping the region Including scholars based in Africa Europe and the United States the authors represent an exceptional breadth and depth of expertise on the Sahel The Politics of Global Competitiveness Paul Cammack, 2022-02-03 Marx predicted in Capital 1867 that as capitalism became global patterns of work would be transformed and workers would need to develop versatility flexibility and mobility This general law of social production as he called it is now in evidence all around us in global value chains zero hours contracts and contract work organised through digital platforms It results from competition between capitalists scientific and technological revolutions in production and incessant advances in the division of labour as production processes are broken down into ever smaller steps This book documents the leading roles of the Paris based Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development and the Washington based World Bank as advocates of these developments They do not as generally supposed simply represent the interests of the advanced economies or the West and their transnational corporations They promote a single global model of capitalist development without limits and on a genuinely global scale It calls upon all states to adjust continually to the structural and social demands of competitiveness which they see as essential to the global hegemony of capital over labour The OECD and the World Bank propose policies that give girls and women equal access to education and paid work reform welfare to make work pay introduce flexible labour contracts that make hiring and firing easier focus education on skills that boost employability and draw workers in the developing world from the informal sector into the formal sector where they can be more productive This is the politics of global competitiveness

Conflict Management in Divided Societies Stefan Wolff, Christalla Yakinthou, 2013-03 This textbook takes a multi perspective approach to the study of conflict management in divided societies The philosophies underpinning constitutional design are clearly explained including power sharing centripetalism power dividing and territorial self governance The actors and processes involved and the practicalities of the settlement process are covered in conceptual and theoretical contributions that include the evolution of diplomacy in peacemaking The book ends with empirical case studies that explore the realities on the ground by specialists drawing on their experience of working in conflict zones

Markets, Governance, and Institutions in the Process of Economic Development Ajit Mishra, Tridip Ray, 2018 With contributions from past and present collaborators this book celebrates the contributions of Kaushik Basu to development economics It reflects on the issues of rent control child labour labour laws harrasment shared prosperity and gender empowerment in the broader context of interactions between markets governments and institutions

Judicial Independence in Transitional Democracies Nauman Reayat, Rhona K. M. Smith, Moohyung Cho, 2024-12-31 This book presents interdisciplinary and comparative analyses of judicial independence in transitional democracies across Asia Latin America Eastern Europe the Middle East and Africa Although judicial empowerment and independence in transitional democracies have gained both academic and real world prominence in recent decades an ongoing debate persists regarding the nature scope and determinants of judicial independence in transitional settings Some transitional democracies successfully develop democracy and the rule of law with the sustained growth of judicial independence whereas others grapple with substantial challenges and move more towards authoritarianism This book examines factors that drive de jure and de facto judicial independence in transitional democracies and evaluates their relationship In doing so it identifies challenges and opportunities associated with developing judicial independence in transitional democracies At the intersection of political science and law the work will be a valuable resource for academics researchers and policymakers in constitutional law constitutional politics and human rights law
