Im Growing Too:

The Poetical Works of John Godfrey Saxe John Godfrey Saxe, 1900      The Poetical Works John Godfrey Saxe, 1889

Dreaming Ecology Deborah Bird Rose, 2024-05-07 In the author's own words Dreaming Ecology explores a holistic understanding of the interconnections of people country kinship creation and the living world within a context of mobility. Implicitly it asks how people lived so sustainably for so long. It offers a telling critique of the loss of Indigenous life human and non human in the wake of white settler colonialism and this becoming cattle country. It offers a fresh perspective on nomadics grounded in footwalk epistemology and an ethics of return sustained across different species events practices and scales. This is the final and most substantial of Debbie's love letters to the Aboriginal people of the Victoria River Downs. I say this because there is such a sense of reverence wonder and respect throughout the book. The introduction of concepts of double death footwalk epistemology wild country are not only organising ideas but characterisations arising from what Debbie hears sees and feels of herself and Aboriginal others. I think of it in terms of love if love is care reciprocal respect deep connectivity and a strong desire to never make less of the people she chose to commit herself to Richard Davis. This book was a pleasure to read filled with careful description of people places and various plants and animals and insightful analysis of the patterns and commitments that hold them together in the world Thom van Dooren      Notion Jack

Peterson, 2010-02-25 This book is different from the moment you pick it up the words pop out at you like a puzzle or maze the structure is something else each passage has its own story and the whole book seems to flow      I'm Ascending, Now
