Imaginary Letters:

Imaginary Letters Mary Butts, 2019 Imaginary Letters takes the form of eight letters addressed by an unnamed narrator to the imagined mother of Boris Polterasky a White Russian exile living a bohemian life in Paris The narrator loves Boris but it quickly becomes clear that Boris's interest lies elsewhere This edition presents each letter in the novel separately each set uniquely on different stock Each letter is presented in an envelope and the envelopes held by a ribbon into what seems to be a cloth bound book The form of each letter helps to reflect the passage of time and the changing mood of the book as it progresses not all are easy to read and there is a feeling of someone's notes to themselves held keep sake style for posterity

Publisher's website Russomania Rebecca Beasley, 2020-03-31 Russomania Russian Culture and the Creation of British Modernism provides a new account of modernist literature's emergence in Britain British writers played a central role in the dissemination of Russian literature and culture during the early twentieth century and their writing was transformed by the encounter This study restores the thick history of that moment by analyzing networks of dissemination and reception to recover the role of neglected as well as canonical figures and institutions as well as individuals The dominant account of British modernism privileges a Francophile genealogy but the turn of the century debate about the future of British writing was a triangular debate a debate not only between French and English models but between French English and Russian models Francophile modernists associated Russian literature especially the Tolstoyan novel with an uncritical immersion in life at the expense of a mastery of style and while individual works might be admired Russian literature as a whole was represented as a dangerous model for British writing This supposed danger was closely bound up with the politics of the period and this book investigates how Russian culture was deployed in the close relationships between writers editors and politicians who made up the early twentieth century intellectual class the British intelligentsia Russomania argues that the most significant impact of Russian culture is not to be found in stylistic borrowings between canonical authors but in the shaping of the major intellectual questions of the period the relation between language and action writer and audience and the work of art and lived experience The resulting account brings an occluded genealogy of early modernism to the fore with a different arrangement of protagonists different critical values and stronger lines of connection to the realist experiments of the Victorian past and the anti formalism and revived romanticism of the 1930s and 1940s future Library of Congress

Mary Butts Joel Hawkes, 2024-04-04 A scholarly and experimental collection that offers fresh insight with a feminist focus into the often overlooked modernist writer Mary Butts and the contested processes of recovering such an author

Scholars instrumental in the recovery of Mary Butts along with newer writers publishers printers and artists enter into conversation exploring the work of the British author whose body of work plays between high modernist forms and more popular genres writing that can be described as occult Gothic queer proto environmental and feminist Taking its cue from Butts s experimental rhythmic writing and the transnational artistic communities in which Butts moved in the 1920s the collection is a non linear exchange rather than a collection of isolated arguments a conversation constructed from classical academic chapters knight s move non academic reflections and short responses to these This conversation lies at the intersection of feminism and reconstruction Chapters range between Butts s writing techniques and forms her position in the modernist canon contested sites of feminism in her work critical reception of that work queer and post critical readings and the success of and the need for a feminist recovery of the author The collection aims to be a feminist engagement while asking questions of what this might look like why it is needed and how such an approach offers fresh insight into an erudite playful difficult contradictory and experimental body of work Ultimately the collection asks how should we reconstruct the author and her work for the contemporary reader

Rhetoric and the New Testament Stanley E. Porter, Thomas H. Olbricht, 1993-10-01 What role did classical rhetoric play in the writing of the New Testament What role does classical and modern rhetoric play in interpreting the New Testament today What role should classical and modern rhetoric play in New Testament interpretation These and related questions are asked in this collection of over twenty essays originally delivered as papers at the 1992 Heidelberg Conference on Rhetorical Criticism of Biblical Documents This conference the first of several scheduled to address fundamental rhetorical issues of increasing importance in New Testament study drew scholars from three continents and over fourteen countries making it a truly international scholarly event and this a truly cosmopolitan publication The authors varying contexts resulted in a lively and challenging discussion well reflected in this volume s essays The first part discusses rhetoric in the light of extended interpretation of a variety of New Testament texts Luke and Acts most of Paul s letters and other New Testament documents are scrutinized using various rhetorical categories In the second part questions of rhetoric and methodology are raised New approaches are tested in a number of essays that push the boundaries of traditional rhetorical study These essays provide an excellent sampling of some of the major work being done in rhetorical study of the New Testament and suggest several avenues for future research

The Fire Robin Blaser, 2006-09-29 Spanning four decades of meditation on the avant garde in poetry art and philosophy the essays collected in The Fire reveal Robin Blaser s strikingly fresh perspective on New American poets deconstructive philosophies current events and the state of humanities now The essays gathered in one volume for the first time include commentaries on Jack Spicer Charles Olson Robert Duncan Mary Butts George Bowering Louis Dudek Christos Dikeakos and J S Bach Blaser emerged from the Berkeley Renaissance of the 1940s and 1950s having studied under legendary medieval scholar Ernst Kantorowicz and having been a major participant in the burgeoning literary scene His response to the cultural and political events of his time has been to construct a poetic voice that offers a singular perspective on a shareable world and to pose that voice alongside others as a source of countermemory and potential agency. Conceived as conversations, these essays brilliantly reflect that ethos as they re-read the cultural events of the past fifty years. Life and Letters in the Ancient Greek World John Muir, 2008-11-19 This survey of Greek letter writing from a well-known and respected author introduces students to the whole range of letter writing in the Greek world and its problems.
