

BELIEF SYSTEMS

DEFINITION

Belief systems are structured sets of principles or tenets held to be true by individuals or larger groups, encompassing aspects such as morality, life purpose, or empirical reality. They profoundly influence human behavior, shaping individual code of conduct, societal actions, values, and perceptions.

TYPES

Religious - These are belief systems that explain the origins of the universe, the existence of gods, and can set out moral codes.

Political - These are belief systems that explain how societies should be managed and governed, and are often based on ideas about power and resource distribution..

Facts, Words and Beliefs Timothy L.S. Sprigge,2022-04-29 First published in 1970 Facts Words and Beliefs is concerned primarily with formulating the following question and suggesting the right way of answering it how can a few stray images or muttered words running through our mind constitute our envisagement of situation perhaps remote in time and place from our present position From a practical point of view the moments when we envisage the nature of some situation which we believe to exist may not be of any great importance It would seem that our belief in the existence of such situations lies in some sort of adjustment of our behaviour to them which will be useful if the situations really exist from the point of view of survival and comfort The author suggests that these moments of conscious envisagement of such absent situations may be rather a sign of such successful adjustment than a factor in bringing it about hence of no practical value in themselves However if knowledge has any sort of intrinsic value it must surely lie in those moments when one does consciously envisage some aspects of the world more or less as it really is and to try to understand the nature of these moments is to try to understand all that is of intrinsic value in knowledge This book is a must read for scholars and researchers of philosophy The American Journal of Psychology Granville Stanley
