Fisheries Technologies For Developing Countries:

Fisheries Technologies for Developing Countries National Research Council, Policy and Global Affairs, Board on Science and Technology for International Development, 1988-02-01 In developing countries traditional fishermen are important food contributors yet technological information and development assistance to third world nations often focuses on agriculture and industrial fishing without addressing the needs of independent small scale fishermen This book explores technological considerations of small scale primitive fishing technologies and describes innovative relatively inexpensive methods and tools that have already been successfully applied in developing countries It offers practical information about all aspects of small scale fishing including boat design and construction fishing methods and gear artificial reef construction and fish aggregating devices techniques for coastal mariculture and simple methods for processing and preserving fish once they are caught Fisheries Technologies for Developing Countries is illustrated throughout with photographs of the devices and construction methods described in the text

Fisheries Technologies for Developing Countries National Research Council (U.S.). Board on Science and Technology for International Development, 1988 Fisheries Technologies for Developing Countries, 1988 Fisheries Technologies for Developing Countries National Research Council, Research Council National Research Council, Adam Starchild, 2002-08 The future of traditional fisheries will be shaped by the attention given to their special problems and by the recognition of their unique value Declining stocks of readily accessible fish competition from industrial fishermen high operating costs less than optimal gear and vessels poor storage and marketing facilities and little access to credit all tend to limit development for fishermen in the traditional sector Many developing countries have ignored traditional fishermen and have concentrated their assistance in industrial fisheries Developing countries could increase their fish harvest and improve the quality of life for their coastal dwellers by providing traditional fishing communities with access to modest technical and financial resources and by assuring protection for their fishing grounds The evaluation and introduction of some of the technologies described in this report could initiate this process Fisheries Technologies for Developing Countries Board on Science and Technology for International Development, 1988

Technology and Developing Countries Richard Heeks, 2020-04-28 The relationship between technology and development is explored by economists policy analysts and other experts The adoption of technology is studied in five main areas agriculture energy infrastructure the introduction of technology and the success and constraints of technological diffusion as a whole This volume also examines the technology transfer between North and South from a perspective of training environmental impact and aid dependency The emphasis is not placed simply on finding problems but ways forward are examined By bringing together both practical and intellectual analysis this collection signposts future directions in the technologydevelopment relationship Aquaculture Technology in Developing Countries Randall E.

Brummett, 2016-04-08 Aquaculture technology has been evolving rapidly over the last two decades led by an increasingly skilled cadre of researchers in developing countries Rather than copying or adapting work done in industrialized countries to their situations these scientists are moving aquaculture research out of the box to explore species and production systems relevant to their natural resources economies and social institutions Studies from India Latin America the Middle East and Africa are highlighted in this collection of papers covering the entire gamut of aquaculture science from comparison of tilapia breeds novel feed ingredients for indigenous species improving disease resistance water use efficiency traditional farming systems spatial planning and economics More than a how to book this volume introduces the researchers and institutions leading the development of aquaculture as it expands into new frontiers This book was based on a special issue of the Journal of Applied Aquaculture Transferring Food Production Technology To Developing Nations Joseph J Molnar,2019-06-18 This book explores the social economic and policy problems associated with introducing new agriculture and aquaculture technology to developing nations as a means for expanding food supplies and increasing well being The contributors examine three general facets of planning for technology transfer and consider methodologies that enable effective A.I.D. Research and Development Abstracts ,1990 A.I.D. Research and Development Abstracts United States. Agency for International Development,1989 Science and Technology in International Economic Law Bryan Mercurio,Kuei-Jung Ni,2013-12-13 Science and technology plays an increasingly important role in the continued development of international economic law This book brings together well known and rising scholars to explore the status and interaction of science technology and international economic law The book reviews the place of science and technology in the development of international economic law with a view to ensure a balance between the promotion of trade and investment liberalisation and decision making based on a sound scientific process without hampering technological development The book features chapters from a range of experts including Lukasz Gruszczynski J rgen Kurtz Andrew Mitchell and Peter K Yu who examine a wide range of issues such as investment law international trade law and international intellectual property By bringing together these issues the book asks how international trade and investment regimes utilise science and technology and whether they do so fairly and in the interest of broader public policies This book will be of great interest to researchers of international economic law health law technology law and international intellectual property law Outlook for Fish to 2020 Delgado, Christopher L.,Wada, Nikolas,Rosegrant, Mark W.,Meijer, Siet,Ahmed, Mahfuzuddin,2003-01-01 The seemingly inexhaustible oceans have proved to be finite after all Landings of wild fish have leveled off since the mid 1980s and many stocks of fish are fished so heavily that their future is threatened And yet the world s appetite for fish has continued to increase particularly as urban populations and incomes grow in developing countries Aquaculture fish farming has arrived to meet this increased demand Production of fish from aquaculture has exploded in the past 20 years and continues to expand around the world But will aquaculture be sufficient to provide affordable fish to the world over the next 20 years And what environmental and poverty problems will aquaculture face as it expands Using a global model of supply and demand for food and feed commodities this report projects the likely changes in the fisheries sector over the next two decades given present trends As prices for most food commodities fall fish prices are expected to rise reflecting demand for fish that outpaces the ability of the world to supply it Alternative scenarios using different assumptions are also investigated The model shows that developing countries will consume and produce a much greater share of the world's fish in the future and trade in fish commodities will also increase As aquaculture expands especially in developing countries environmental concerns such as effluent pollution escaped farmed fish land conversion and pressure on stocks from fishmeal demand will only increase with time unless technologies and policies promote sustainable intensification And small poor producers are at risk of being excluded from rapidly growing export markets unless ways can be found to facilitate affordable certification of food safety and environmentally sound production Report of the First Session of the Sub-Committee on Fish Trade, Rome, 7-10 October 1986 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations. Sub-Committee on Fish Trade, 1987-01-01 At its Sixteenth Session the Committee on Fisheries decided to establish a Sub Committee on Fish Trade to serve as a multilateral framework for consultations on international trade in fishery products The Sub Committee reviewed past and recent trends in international fish trade and activities of FAO and other international organizations in this area Regional Cooperation for the Sustainable Development and Management in Northeast Asia Yongrok Choi, 2018-08-15 This book is a printed edition of the Special Issue Regional Cooperation for the Sustainable Development and Management in Northeast Asia that was published in Sustainability Globalisation in Fisheries and Aquaculture Opportunities and Challenges OECD, 2010-04-14 This overview of globalisation in fisheries and aquaculture finds that global markets for fish and fish products have changed considerably over the past few decades and continue to do so but that countries must work harder on fisheries and aquaculture management to remain sustainable Strategies and Options for Increasing and Sustaining Fisheries and Aquaculture Production to Benefit Poorer Households in Asia, 2008 A Marine Science Affairs Program in the International Decade of Oceans Exploration, 1975 Science, Technology and American Diplomacy United States. President, 1980 Information Technology in Fisheries and Aquaculture Parvaiz Ahmad Ganie, Ravindra Posti, Pramod Kumar Pandey, 2025-01-29 This book connects information technology IT to the fisheries and aquaculture sectors The topics covered in the book explore the diverse ways in which IT contributes to promoting sustainable practices and efficient management in aquatic environments From examining current challenges through a technological lens to investigating advanced applications like Internet of Things IoT remote sensing and machine learning the book covers a wide range of themes The chapters address crucial aspects such as precision nutrition disease management environmental monitoring and the economic effects of adopting IT It also bridges the gap between traditional aquaculture practices and the transformative potential of information technology This book serves as a reference for researchers practitioners policymakers and students in the field of fisheries and aquaculture Report of the FAO World Conference on Fisheries
