Esthetic Qualities and Values in Literature Dushan Bresky, Miroslav Malik, 1984 Literary Practice I is the first volume of a critical trilogy Vols II Esthetic of Style and III Esthetics of Literary Subjects are soon to follow This seminal work marks an unprecedented collaboration between critic humanist and a bio cybernetist developing two independent yet complementary methods of evaluating literary art Critic Bresky identifies textual stimuli in subject matter and style recording both their density and fluctuating intensity within the microcontext His graphical synthesis provides the base for a broad assessment of the macrotext For scientific substantiation of his humanistic approach Bresky invites biocybernetist Malik to measure the physiological energy changes related to the critic's sentient perception of the text The resulting biometric profile parallels Bresky's résumé of stimuli Contemporary theorists will find this joint exploration by a humanist and a scientist both original and controversial It not only challenges the long domination of bloodless academic theoretism it uses modern techniques to reassert the traditional goals of literary practice and criticism Esthetics of Style Dushan Bresky, Brian Gill, Miroslav Malik, 1989 Applying the criteria of esthetic evaluation outlined in Literary Practice I Bresky continues his trilogy with multilevel valuatory analysis of the writing techniques distinguishing literary art Each chapter defines and illustrates stylistic elements categorized as semantic rhetorical macrorhetorical prosodic syntactic and compositional macrosyntactic stimuli The main goal is to appraise the scope and power of their stimulative intensity Bresky again collaborates with biometrist Miroslav Malik and invited Brian Gill to contribute the chapter on the esthetics of syntax In recording reader responses Malik uses new sensitive equipment reflecting the evolution of biometric methods The results demonstrate the auxiliary role of biometric measurements in the assessment of elusive esthetic impact With its mini anthology of illustrative texts the study can serve not only as a scholarly reference but also as a textbook in literature courses devoted to criticism theory or creative writing The author is now completing Literary Practice III Esthetics of Literary Subjects Oppian's Halieutica Emily Kneebone, 2020-10-08 Reveals the sophistication of a once popular Greek didactic epic on the sea and its fish addressed to the Roman emperor The Philosophy of Literature Peter Lamarque, 2008-08-11 By exploring central issues in the philosophy of literature illustrated by a wide range of novels poems and plays Philosophy of Literature gets to the heart of why literature matters to us and sheds new light on the nature and interpretation of literary works Provides a comprehensive study along with original insights into the philosophy of literature Develops a unique point of view from one of the field's leading exponents Offers examples of key issues using excerpts from well known novels poems and plays from different historical periods The Bloomsbury Companion to Aesthetics Anna Christina Ribeiro, 2015-05-21 The Bloomsbury Companion to Aesthetics presents a practical study guide to emerging topics and art forms in aesthetics and the philosophy of art Placing contemporary discussion in its historical context this companion begins with an introduction to the history of aesthetics Surveying the central topics terms and figures and noting the changes in the roles the arts played over the

This Is Not a Copy Kaja Marczevska, 2018-02-22 In This Is Not a Copy Kaja Marczevska identifies a characteristic copy paste tendency in contemporary culture a shift in attitude that allows reproduction and plagiarizing to become a norm in cultural production This inclination can be observed in literature and non literary forms of writing at an unprecedented level as experiments with text redefine the nature of creativity Responding to these transformations Marczevska argues that we must radically rethink our conceptions of artistic practice and proposes a move away from the familiar categories of copying and originality creativity and plagiarism in favour of the notion of iteration Developing the new concept of the

Iterative Turn This Is Not a Copy identifies and theorizes the turn toward ubiquitous iteration as a condition of text based creative practices as they emerge in response to contemporary technologies Conceiving of writing as iterative invites us to address a set of new critical questions about contemporary culture Combining discussion of literature experimental and electronic writing mainstream and independent publishing with debates in 20th and 21st century art contemporary media culture transforming technologies and copyright laws This Is Not a Copy offers a timely and urgently needed argument introducing a unique new perspective on practices that permeate our contemporary culture Metaphors, Narratives, Emotions

Stefán Snævarr, 2010 This book argues that there is a complex logical and epistemological interplay between the concepts of metaphor narrative and emotions They share a number of important similarities and connections In the first place all three are constituted by aspect seeing the seeing as or perception of Gestalts Secondly all three are meaning endowing devices helping us to furnish our world with meaning Thirdly the threesome constitutes a trinity Emotions have both a narrative and metaphoric structure and we can analyse the concepts of metaphors and narratives partly in each other's terms Further the concept of narratives can partly be analysed in the terms of emotions And if emotions have both a narrative structure and a metaphoric one then the concept of emotions must to some extent be analysable through the concepts of narratives and metaphors But there is more Metaphors especially poetic ones are important tools for the understanding of the tacit sides of emotions perhaps because of the metaphoric structure of emotions The notion that narrations can be tools for understanding emotions follows from two facts narrations are devices for explanation and emotions have a narrative structure Fourthly the threesome has an impact on our rationality It has become commonplace to say that emotions have a cognitive content that narratives have an explanatory function and that metaphors can perform cognitive functions This book is the first attempt to articulate the implications that these new ways of seeing the three concepts entail for our concept of reason The cognitive roles of the threesome suggest a richer notion of rationality than has traditionally been held a rationality enlivened with metaphoric narrative and emotive qualities Stefan Snævarr Reykjavik 1953 studied philosophy and related subjects in Norway and Germany Professor at Lillehammer University College in Norway he is the author of several books of various kind in English Norwegian and Icelandic Swoon Naomi

Negotiating Difference Michael Awkward, 1995-03 Encamped within the limits of experience and authenticity critics today often stake out their positions according to race and ethnicity sexuality and gender and vigilantly guard the boundaries against any incursions into their privileged territory In this book Michael Awkward raids the borders of contemporary criticism to show how debilitating such protectionist stances can be and how much might be gained by crossing our cultural boundaries From Spike Lee's She's Gotta Have It to Michael Jackson's physical transmutations from Toni Morrison's Song of Solomon to August Wilson's Fences from male scholars' investments in feminism to white scholars in black texts Awkward explores cultural moments that challenge the exclusive critical authority of race and gender In each instance he confronts the question What do artists scholars and others concerned with representations of Afro American life make of the view that gender race and sexuality circumscribe their own and others' lives and narratives Throughout he demonstrates the perils and merits of the sort of boundary crossing this book ultimately makes a black male feminism In pursuing a black male feminist criticism Awkward's study acknowledges the complexities of interpretation in an age when a variety of powerful discourses have proliferated on the subject of racial gendered and sexual difference at the same time it identifies this proliferation as an opportunity to negotiate seemingly fixed cultural and critical positions

Popular Measures Amy M. E. Morris, 2005 Popular Measures examines the influence of Congregationalist church practices on poetry and poetics in early New England It considers how the rejection of set prayers and the privileging of more spontaneous oral forms such as the plain style sermon and the conversion narrative in colonial churches influenced the style of locally written religious verse The book consists of an overview of church practices and their implications for poetry followed by a series of case studies focusing on texts written at different stages of the colony's development from 1640 to 1700 the Bay Psalm Book Michael Wigglesworth's The Day of Doom and Edward Taylor's Gods Determinations The investigation concludes that colonial religious writers transformed the poetic conventions they had inherited from England in order to enhance the effectiveness of their verse in a culture that portrayed forms and formality as at best able to lead an individual only halfway on the journey towards salvation University of Delaware Press particular related topics focusing on the two important cross cutting aims of the volume 1 explicating the roles reading writing dialogic engagement and epistemic cognition hold in high literacy development and 2 providing examples of practices recommended to develop high literacy
