McCarroll, 2014-04-01 Our experiences of hope in the face of difficulties are as varied as our lives and yet there has been very little examination of the ways we hope A skilled and compassionate storyteller McCarroll introduces readers to five expressions of hope through detailed and poignant case studies On that foundation she then builds a discussion of the possibilities limitations and value of each approach The result is an engaging and optimistic exploration of hope in difficult times The Complete Guide to Crisis & Trauma Counseling H. Norman Wright, 2011-12-14 Many pastors and lay counselors have had minimal training in clinical methods of grief and trauma counseling The Complete Guide to Crisis and Trauma Counseling is a biblical practical guide to pastoral counseling written by one of the most respected Christian therapists of our time Dr H Norman Wright brings more than 40 years of clinical and classroom experience to this topic and shares real life dialogs from his decades in private practice to demonstrate healthy healing counseling sessions Readers will learn how to counsel and coach both believers and non believers who are in crisis

Pastoral Care in Hospitals, Second Edition Neville A. Kirkwood, 2005-10 Bringing comfort and concern to the bedside of the sick or dying is a challenge for lay people and clergy alike In this practical guide Neville Kirkwood shares his wisdom gleaned from some twenty years of experience as a hospital chaplain on the art of hospital visitation This classic handbook is now updated with an all new section addressing best practices for hospital chaplains Pastoral Care in Hospitals with additional sections addressed to clergy and trained lay pastoral workers as well as ordinary lay people who simply want to visit their fellow parishioners shows visitors ways to make the encounter meaningful and enriching to the patient Kirkwood guides readers through the minefield of hospital visits from false heartiness to too much talking and offers a theology of visitation that can guide both professionals and laity in their ministry A variety of exercises and a section of prayers for specific circumstances make this a must have resource for all who work with the sick and dying and an excellent text for course work

The Restoring Word J. Randall Nichols, 2003-07-08 This bridge building work about the roles of pastor and preacher and how they can be effectively integrated quickly became a classic when it was first published and has never been duplicated The author argues that while they sometimes seem to conflict these ministry functions share a common process and a common goal and can be synchronized around the image of restoration Preserving both psychological awareness and theological integrity the preacher is invited into the pulpit with an enhanced sense of the power and influence of preaching in people s living and growing Challenging some of the most cherished assumptions of homiletics Dr Nichols invites preachers to restored confidence in the importance of preaching in the formation of Christian community spiritual growth for hurting people and the renewal of worship as a communitas experience of the divine human encounter The Restoring Word grows out of the author s lifetime of experience as a preacher psychotherapist and teacher It is a deeply involving story about how the person of the preacher becomes a tool for the enactment of grace in the always mysterious process of proclaiming the Word Therapeutically accurate pastorally sensitive and theologically challenging The Restoring Word walks its readers through a long neglected garden slowly and lovingly coming to life

Wholeness in Hope Care Daniel Johannes Louw, 2015 Throughout his life the apartheid activist Nelson Mandela Madiba maintained In the darkest moment there is always hope We must never give up Hope as a mode of the courage to be Paul Tillich points to what the Sociologist Peter Berger calls signals of transcendence Wholeness in Hope Care explores the rich tradition of hope in wisdom philosophy and Christian theology It connects non hope un hope Gabriel Marcel inespoir to a theology of compassion in soul care cura animarum Resurrection hope theologia resurrectionis points to the healing of life cura vitae and the preservation of land cura terrae In order to describe the helping and healing dimension in pastoral caregiving the term promissiotherapy has been coined Daniel Johannes Louw was Dean of the faculty of theology at the University of Stellenbosch 2001 2005 President of the International Academy of Practical Theology IAPT 2003 2005 and President of the

Thomas Lewis offers spiritual resources for the many persons today suffering from depression By turning his readers toward praying the Psalms as he did in his own battle with depression Lewis assists those seeking hope and a healing touch to find in his words a cup of cold water in parched land He speaks frankly about his own battle with deep depression discusses the types of depression the symptoms and where to get help and then lays out several Psalms of lament that can support people in times of depression and form a foundation for all other approaches to treating the illness This book will prove to be an invaluable resource for those engaged in pastoral care and counseling for those who have loved ones suffering from depression and persons suffering from depression themselves The Integrated Protestant Ethic and the Spirit of

Environmentalism S. Steiner-Aeschliman, 1999 The theory and data of environmental science suggest that growth in rates of population consumption and environmental degradation as a result of the activities of industrialized societies has created an ecological crisis to which modern societies must adapt However adaptation is problematic Max Weber studied adaptive social change during the industrial revolution The evolution of this new way of life was initially problematic because individuals who established industrialism were socialized under feudalism In this dissertation I consider The Protestant Ethic and the Spirit of Capitalism as a theoretical treatise framed by modern human ecology in order to study social change in the context of the ecological crisis of industrialism The Protestant Ethic is known for describing how religious ideas influenced the unfolding of modern capitalism in the West However there is nothing inherent in Protestantism that requires linkage to industrialism I argue that Protestantism has evolved and that it need not necessarily promote environmental exploitation although under industrialism it has I identify a green subculture within Protestantism and consider how Protestantism s weakness may also be its strength The very sociological structure that in the absence of ecologically realistic norms permits widespread ecosystem degradation by industrial capitalism may also generate ecologically realistic norms for a natural capitalism Weber contended that rationality was problematic because it paradoxically results in a dual crisis of management and meaning where human agency becomes imprisoned as if in an iron cage The irrational continuation of environmentally degrading social practices eventually contributes to a legitimization crisis People turn to religion as an alternative authority If science and religion converge on environmental values they might catalyze social change unless they are too distorted by ideological bias Adaptive social change only occurs if ethical and ecological values are in accordance with the sustainability of ecosystems Hence to adapt to the ecological crisis sociocultural systems require socialization into ecological realism because ecologically rational societies may still be maladaptively organized around environmentally unsustainable trajectories

Religious Melancholy and Protestant Experience in America Julius H. Rubin, 1994 This thought provoking study examines an apparent paradox in the history of American Protestant evangelical religion Fervent believers who devoted themselves completely to the challenges of making a Christian life who longed to know God's rapturous love all too often languished in despair feeling forsaken by God Indeed some individuals became obsessed by guilt terror of damnation and the idea that they had committed an unpardonable sin Ironically those most devoted to fostering the soul's maturation seemingly neglected the well being of the psyche Drawing upon many sources including unpublished diaries spiritual narratives and case studies of patients treated in nineteenth century asylums Julius Rubin thoroughly explores religious melancholy as a distinctive stance toward life a grieving over the loss of God's love and an obsession and psycho pathology associated with the spiritual itinerary of conversion The varieties of this spiritual sickness include sinners who would fast unto death evangelical anorexia nervosa religious suicides and those obsessed with unpardonable sin From colonial Puritans like Michael Wigglesworth to contemporary evangelicals like Billy Graham Rubin shows that religious melancholy has shaped the experience of self and identity for those who sought rebirth as children of God Religious Melancholy and Protestant Experience in America offers a fresh and revealing look at a widely recognized phenomenon It will be of interest to scholars and students of religious studies American history psychology and sociology of religion
