Fires Were Started:

Fires Were Started – Brian Winston, 2019-07-25 Humphrey Jennings 1907-50 was perhaps the most gifted film maker of the British documentary movement. Involved in the Mass Observation project of the 1930s, Jennings' talent lay in picturing ordinary life in ways that were inventive yet authentic. Fires Were Started (1943) is his major achievement. A film about a day's work for a unit of mainly auxiliary volunteer firemen at the height of the blitz, it blends observation with reconstruction to achieve a particularly poignant kind of propaganda. Lindsay Anderson expressed the opinion of many commentators and viewers when he wrote in Sight and Sound in a 1954 article reprinted as an appendix to this volume that Jennings was the only real poet the British cinema has yet produced. But how could a documentarist also be a poet? This is one of the questions addressed by Brian Winston in his study of Fires Were Started, a question which is particularly relevant today in the wake of the massive public controversies surrounding faked documentaries. For Winston, documentary film making is always creatively treated actuality and must be taken as such if it is to be properly valued and understood.

Publisher's website The Concise Routledge Encyclopedia of the Documentary Film Ian Aitken, 2013 This reference work explores the history of the documentary film. It discusses individual films and filmmakers, examines national and regional filmmaking traditions, elaborates on production companies, organizations, festivals, and institutions, explores themes, issues, and representations, and describes various styles, techniques, and technical issues.

Documentary Film Carl Rollyson, 2006-11 Documentary Film: Contexts and Criticism is designed to complement Rollyson's Documentary Film: A Primer. The films discussed in this volume include Zelig, the Lumière brothers' documentaries, Nanook of the North, The Man With a Movie Camera, Triumph of the Will, Olympia, The Wonderful Horrible Life of Leni Riefenstahl, Why We Fight, Fires Were Started, and several Jill Craigie films, including an extended discussion of Two Hours From London, her controversial examination of the Balkan wars and the siege of Dubrovnik. What sets this text apart from other studies of documentary is that it includes a wide array of student comments on the films and reviews very much centered in discussions of the documentary tradition In this same vein Rollyson has included his essay Jill Craigie and the Documentary Tradition exploring her relationship with John Grierson and other prominent documentary filmmakers This dialogic text captures some of the actual give and take of the classroom and the range of opinion that even the best critics cannot convey What should emerge from the reading of these comments are the different voices mindsets through which the films are viewed Bulletin Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station,1929 Report of the Forester United States.
