Artificial Intelligence Applications and Innovations Ilias Maglogiannis, Lazaros Iliadis, John Macintyre, Markos Avlonitis, Antonios Papaleonidas, 2024-06-21 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 20th IFIP WG 12.5 International Conference on Artificial Intelligence Applications and Innovations AIAI 2024 held in Corfu Greece during June 27-30 2024. The 100 full papers and 8 short papers included in this book were carefully reviewed and selected from 213 submissions. The diverse nature of papers presented demonstrates the vitality of AI algorithms and approaches. It certainly proves the very wide range of AI applications as well.

Time Matters T.M. Rudavsky, 2012-02-01 Despite the importance of time and cosmology to Western thought surprisingly little attention has been paid to these issues in histories of Jewish philosophy. Focusing on how medieval philosophers constructed a philosophical theology that was sensitive to religious constraints and yet also incorporated compelling elements of science and philosophy T. M. Rudavsky traces the development of the concepts of time cosmology and creation in the writings of Ibn Gabirol Maimonides Gersonides Crescas Spinoza and others.

The End(s) of Religion Eric Bain-Selbo, 2022-01-13 Eric Bain Selbo argues that the study of religion from philosophers to psychologists and historians of religion to sociologists has separated out the ends or goals of religion and thus created the conditions by which institutional religion is increasingly irrelevant in contemporary Western culture. There is ample evidence that institutional religion is in trouble and little evidence that it will strengthen in the future giving some reason to believe that we are in the process of seeing the end of religion At the same time various cultural practices have met in the past and continue to meet today certain fundamental human needs needs that we might identify as religious that now are being fulfilled through what Bain Selbo calls the religion of culture The End s of Religion traces the way that the very study of religion has led to institutional religion being viewed as just one human institution that can address our particular religious needs rather than the sole institution to do so In turn ultimately we can begin to see how other institutions or forms of culture can function to serve these same needs or ends

Animal Learning M. E. Bitterman,V. M. LoLordo,J. Bruce Overmier,Michael E. Rashotte,2012-12-06 For ten days a number of neuroscientists met at Reisensburg to attend a series of lectures and discussions an Institute on animal learning The students were drawn from a wide variety of disciplines including anatomy biochemistry pharmacology physiolo gy and zoology It is probably true to say that many of them had at best a sketchy knowledge about the learning behavior of animals about the conditions which are necessary for learning to take place and about the theories that psychologists have constructed about the learning processes Was the Institute of any benefit to those neuro scientists whose interests lay in studying the functioning of the nervous system by manipulating it or probing it in some direct way Some twenty years ago the answer to this question would probably have been No and there is a very good reason why this view might have been held especially by students of the mammalian nervous system At that time most investigators used anaesthetised animals or animals immobilized in some other way such as by surgically isolating the brain from the spinal cord by dividing the brain at various levels or through the use of paralyzing agents These con ditions achieved two things On the one hand they allowed sub stantial advances to be made particularly in the analysis of sensory processing and in the analysis of the neuronal mechanisms of relatively simple reflex action On the other hand the experi mental conditions virtually eliminated complex behavior

What Causes Human Behavior Stephen F. Ledoux,2017-09-27

What experts are saying about What Causes Human Behavior Stephen Ledoux's book is a strong non compromising theoretical and philosophical argument that the answers come from behaviorology the natural science of behavior that the answers do not come from astrology theology etc or from psychology the mentalistic unnatural science of the mind And he supports his argument with examples of effective science based applications of applied behaviorology applied behavior analysis and with analyses of human behavior in everyday life going from simple behaviors to complex verbal behavior with suggestions that behaviorology is crucial to the solutions of the world problems of overpopulation sustainability and global warming But also he's not afraid to make these complex topics more readable by using an occasional contraction an informed expression and even a little humor i.e. he's way cool Richard Malott Ph.D Professor Western Michigan University Professor Ledoux has written a primer on a newly emerging discipline behaviorology It is the natural science of environment behavior relations and an intellectually challenging subject one that variously intersects with astrology psychology philosophy education and physiology plus other biological and behavioral sciences Ledoux's discussion of explanatory fictions and a variety of other explanatory fallacies alone however is worth the price of admission And there is so much more John Stone Ph.D Professor East Tennessee State University Johnson City and President Education Consumers Foundation at www.educationconsumers.org

The Contingent Nature of Life Marcus Düwell,Christoph Rehmann-Sutter,Dietmar Mieth,2008-04-19 This volume explores the different dimensions of how the contingency of life and especially human life is relevant for ethical discussions and the normative frameworks in bioethics It explores the relevance of the notion contingency needs and desires for moral argumentation and bioethics The volume discusses those notions in a philosophical perspective Additionally the volume is a contribution to a deeper reflection on basic philosophical assumptions of bioethics Figural Synthesis Peter C. Dodwell, Terry Caelli, 2021-12-30 The aim of this book originally published in 1984 was to bring together a number of approaches to this important topic Significant advances had been made in the two decades before publication in our understanding of many aspects of the coding that occurs along the visual pathways The major developments had been associated with probing the nature of logical processes whether physiologically or psychophysically and relatively less attention had been devoted to the problem of how such locally coded knowledge is put together to yield coherent representations of spatially and temporally extended patterns that is to figural synthesis Thus while a great deal was known about the responses of individual cells in the visual system to controlled stimulation and about the specificity of the orientational and spatial frequency tuning of channels assessed psychophysically there had been much less discussion of how such knowledge could be brought to bear on the general problems of understanding pattern recognition Navarin Basin Lease Offering, 1984 Destination Marketing and Management Youcheng Wang, Abraham Pizam, 2011 This book offers a comprehensive understanding of the concept and scope of the tourism industry in general and of destination marketing and management in particular Taking an integrated and comprehensive approach it focuses on both the macro and micro aspects of destination marketing and management The book consists of 27 chapters presented in seven parts with the following themes concept scope and structure of destination marketing and management destination planning and policy consumer decision making processes destination marketing research destination branding and positioning destination product development and distribution the role of emerging technologies in destination marketing destination stakeholder management destination safety disaster and crisis management destination competitiveness and sustainability and challenges and opportunities for destination marketing and management
