Editorials Of Henry Watterson:

The editorials of Henry Watterson Henry Watterson, Arthur Krock, 1923 The Editorials of Henry Watterson Arthur Krock, 1926 When the Courier Journal began its life the South was in the grasp of Northern Troops and Carpetbaggers Mr Watterson wanted to bring the Southern people to a true appreciation of the greatness and benevolence of Abraham Lincoln and an understanding of the miseries wrought upon the South by his murder He also in his writings tried to convince the Government at Washington that the South should be released from military rule Selected Articles from Various Periodicals by and about Henry Watterson Henry Watterson, 1888 Partisans of the Southern Press Carl R. Osthaus, 2021-12-14 Carl R Osthaus examines the southern contribution to American Press history from Thomas Ritchie's mastery of sectional politics and the New Orleans Picayune's popular voice and use of local color to the emergence of progressive New South editors Henry Watterson Francis Dawson and Henry Grady who imitated as far as possible the New Journalism of the 1880s Unlike black and reform editors who spoke for minorities and the poor the South's mainstream editors of the nineteenth century advanced the interests of the elite and helped create the myth of southern unity The southern press diverged from national standards in the years of sectionalism Civil War and Reconstruction Addicted to editorial diatribes rather than to news gathering these southern editors of the middle period were violent partisan and vindictive They exemplified and defended freedom of the press but the South's press was free only because southern society was closed This work broadens our understanding of journalism of the South while making a valuable contribution to southern history Political Editorial 1916-1988 Heinz-D. Fischer, 2012-02-14 The School of Journalism at Columbia University has awarded the Pulitzer Prize since 1917 Nowadays there are prizes in 21 categories from the fields of journalism literature and music The Pulitzer Prize Archive presents the history of this award from its beginnings to the present In parts A to E the awarding of the prize in each category is documented commented and arranged chronologically Part F covers the history of the prize biographically and bibliographically Part G provides the background to the decisions American Journalists Donald A. Ritchie, 2007 This volume profiles 60 American journalists from colonial times to the present and focuses on news reporters editors publishers and broadcasters whose careers significantly advanced or were symbolic of major changes in their profession Illustrations fact boxes and quotations from the subjects themselves together with the depth and breadth of historical information make this volume an illuminating and fascinating read Marse Henry Henry Watterson, 2009-01-01 Henry Watterson 1840 1921 was an American journalist who founded the Louisville Courier Journal He also served part of one term in the United States House of Representatives as a Democrat He became a newspaper reporter early in his life He fought for the Confederate States of America during the American Civil War and edited a pro Confederate newspaper the Chattanooga Rebel After the war Watterson edited newspapers in several states before settling down in Louisville Kentucky to edit the Louisville Journal He was a leader of the Liberal Republican movement in 1872 He was called the last of the great personal journalists writing colorful and controversial editorials on many topics He won the Pulitzer Prize in 1918 for two editorials supporting U S entry into World War I His works include History of the Spanish American War 1899 The Compromises of Life 1902 and Marse Henry 1919
