Parrett,S. Steve

Kang,2013-03-05 With the decline of traditional Sunday school and education programs in recent years many Christians have not learned the fundamental doctrinal content of the faith In this text Gary Parrett and Steve Kang set forth a thoroughly biblical vision for intentional teaching of the Christian faith that attends to both the content and process of educational and formational ministries     A Many Colored Kingdom Elizabeth Conde-Frazier,S Steve Kang,2004-03-01 How do ethnic and cultural diversity affect spiritual formation The authors of A Many Colored Kingdom explore Christian formation and teaching in the church with a particular focus on intercultural and interethnic relationships Well qualified to speak on issues of diversity the authors describe relevant aspects of their own personal journeys key issues emerging from their studies and teaching germane to race culture and ethnicity and teaching implications that bring right practice to bear on church ministry A final chapter contains a conversation among the authors responding to one another s insights and concerns This book will be required reading for those engaged in as well as those preparing for a life of teaching and ministry in our increasingly multicultural world     Online Small Groups as Sites of Teaching Simon Hallonsten,2024-04-25 Centered around a reflective narrative recounting the experiences of a participatory action research project into leading online small groups for adults in the Church of Sweden Diocese of Stockholm during 2021 and 2022 the dissertation argues for the need to reconceptualize and reemphasize teaching as an important aspect in Christian religious education Employing creative non fiction methods the dissertation aims to broaden the scope of the initial Online Small Groups project by inviting readers to join into a learning journey The narrative account is complemented with more traditional forms of analysis that connect experiences from online small groups in the Church of Sweden to similar research from Anglo Saxon countries noting especially how notions of community diverge due to different ecclesiological understandings Insights are then synthesized into eight teaching strategies aimed at communicating actionable knowledge to small group leaders before noting how the study complements research on Christian religious education and particularly the current debate about learning and teaching in the Church of Sweden     Educating People of Faith John H. Van Engen,2004 A much needed addition to the emerging literature on the formative power of religious practices Educating People of Faith creates a vivid portrait of the lived practices that shaped the faith of Jews and Christians in synagogues and churches from antiquity up to the seventeenth century This significant book is the work of Jewish Roman Catholic Orthodox and Protestant scholars who wished to discover and describe how Jews and Christians through history have been formed in religious ways of thinking and acting Rather than focusing solely on either intellectual or social life the authors all use the concept of practices as they attend to the embodied contextual character of religious formation Their studies of religious figures community life and traditional practices such as preaching sacraments and catechesis are colorful detailed and revealing The authors are also careful to cover the nature of religious education across all social levels from the textual formation of highly literate rabbis and monks engaged in Scripture study to the local formation of illiterate medieval Christians for whom the veneration of saints shrines street performances of religious dramas and public preaching by wandering preachers were profoundly formative Educating People of Faith will benefit scholars and teachers desiring a fuller perspective on how lived practices have historically formed people in religious faith It will also be useful to practical theologians and pastors who wish to make the resources of the past available to practitioners in the present Contributors John C Cavadini Anne L Clark Lawrence S Cunningham Joseph Goering Robert Goldenberg Stanley Samuel Harakas Robert M Kingdon Blake Leyerle Michael A Signer Philip M Soergel David C Steinmetz John Van Engen Lee Palmer Wandel Robert Louis Wilken Elliot R Wolfson

Griffiths, Julie Ooms, Rachel M. De Smith Roberts, 2024-05-28 This book helps readers develop practices that will result in deep formative and faithful reading so they can contribute to the flourishing of their communities and cultivate their own spiritual and intellectual depth The authors present reading as a remedy for three prevalent cultural vices distraction hostility and consumerism that impact the possibility of formative reading Informed by James K A Smith's work on the spiritual power of habit Deep Reading provides resources for engaging in formative and culturally subversive reading practices that teach readers how to resist vices love virtue and desire the good Rather than emphasizing the spiritual benefits of reading specific texts such as Dante's Divine Comedy or Adventures of Huckleberry Finn the authors focus on the practice of reading itself They examine practices many teachers students and avid readers employ such as reading lists reading logs and discussion and demonstrate how such practices can be more effectively and intentionally harnessed to result in deep reading The practices apply to any work that is meant to be read deeply Learning the Way Cassandra Carkuff Williams, 2009-03-31 How should the church respond to the changing cultural and societal changes going on around it Should it reject the historical traditions that served the early Christian church or should it turn a blind eye to the changes happening in modern society Neither as Cassandra D Carkuff Williams advocates it should and it must recover and reclaim our foundations and reinterpret them in light of present day realities In Learning the Way Reclaiming Wisdom from the Earliest Christian Communities Williams suggests that the biggest problems facing the church today are the victim mentality created out of its own presumptions and that we have allowed our cultures and societies to dictate the way in which we lead our churches Williams explores early Christian communities and their practices in order to create principles for discipleship formation She then offers expert advice on how to approach modern day issues of Christian education and the nurturing of disciples based on the examples set forth by our earliest forebears in the faith As Williams states Discipleship is a way of being grounded in vocation nurtured within community and guided by tradition This book provides an overview of the past in order that we might take the proven example and apply it toward our present and our future
