Life and Moral Education in Greater China John Chi-Kin Lee,Stephen Yam-wing Yip,Raymond Ho-Man Kong,2021-03-30 Arguing for life moral and values education as a bedrock for the original goals of school education this monograph explores how life and values education is conceptualised and imparted in Greater China Under a globalized transnational and technological world where there has been an increase in people s mobility in information and cultural exchanges there is also a growing emphasis on personal and professional ethics Against this context life moral and values education has gained attention for its impact on shaping students characters as future citizens However the cultivation of these values is made deeply diversified and complex by varying interpretations of life education and values education across societies given that different societies are influenced by different socio cultural traditions educational ideologies and religious beliefs The means and approaches towards life education also vary vastly from formal school subjects school based programmes as well as teachers and peers role modelling community services extra curricular activities school discipline charity work pastoral care and school ethos Recognising this inherent diversity and complexity in the approach to and the dissemination of life education the contributors to this volume survey the practice of life education in Greater China so far suggesting that life education is most effective when it is diversified dynamic and developmental across contexts This book will provide the opportunity for engaging in important and serious debates about the future and the values that will underpin it and will prove of special interest to scholars and practitioners working on education policies curriculum development and teacher education in Greater China Education in Indonesia Daniel Suryadarma,Gavin W. Jones,2013 In Indonesia as elsewhere in Asia education will inevitably play a key role in the national development experience as the twenty first century unfolds Not much international attention is paid to how the education sector is faring in Indonesia but that is not because nothing is happening The past decade has seen major changes in the structure of the education system and in the schooling trajectories of Indonesian children and adolescents The administration of primary and secondary education has been decentralized to the regions A new paradigm of school based management has been introduced Public spending on education has finally reached one fifth of total government spending as required by law But although enrolment rates at all levels continue to increase the quality of education remains low and has not improved and the tertiary sector continues to experience problems of autonomy and unsatisfactory performance
