Making Connections Marilyn Naidoo, 2021-11-19 Because of the disconnect within the curriculum and the lack of contextual relevance African theological education is still searching for appropriate approaches to ministerial training Integrative theological education refers to systematic attempts to connect major learning experiences appropriate to the education and formation of ministers It is seen as a solution to connect and transform ministry training The main premise of this book is that the key to enhancing theological education is the intentional integration of knowing with being and doing of theory with practice and of theology with life and ministry In this way all aspects of student learning are brought together holistically highlighting an educational strategy that is concerned with connections in human experience thereby supporting student learning Making Connections offers the opportunity to consider integration as an appropriate pedagogical approach to create the correct balance in making education more meaningful and fulfilling for the African revealing humanising education grounded in African philosophy and worldview

Integrating Work in Theological Education Kathleen A. Cahalan, Edward Foley, Gordon S. Mikoski, 2017-03-09 If only we could do a better job of helping students at connecting the dots theological educators commonly lament Integration often proposed as a solution to the woes of professional education for ministry would help students integrate knowledge skills spirituality and integrity When these remain disconnected incompetence ensues and the cost runs high for churches denominations and ministers themselves However we fail in thinking that integrating work is for students alone It is a multifaceted constructive process of learning that is contextual reflective and dialogical It aims toward important ends competent leaders who can guide Christian communities today It entails rhythms not stages and dynamic movement including disintegration Integrating work is learning in motion across domains and among and between persons It is social and communal born of a life of learning together for faculty staff administrators and students It is work that bridges the long standing gaps between school ministry practice and life It s a verb not a noun Here a diverse group of theological educators through descriptive case studies theological reflection and theory building offer a distinctive contribution to understanding integrating work and how best to achieve it across three domains in community curriculums and courses

The Crisis of Authority in Catholic Modernity Michael J. Lacey, Francis Oakley, 2011-04-06 One deep problem facing the Catholic church is the question of how its teaching authority is understood today It is fairly clear that while Rome continues to teach as if its authority were unchanged from the days before Vatican II 1962 65 the majority of Catholics within the first world church at least take a far more independent line and increasingly understand themselves rather than the church as the final arbiters of decision making especially on ethical questions This collection of essays explores the historical background and present ecclesial situation explaining the dramatic shift in attitude on the part of contemporary Catholics in the U S and Europe The overall purpose is neither to justify nor to repudiate the authority of the church s hierarchy but to cast some light on the context within which it operates the complexities and ambiguities of the historical tradition of belief and behavior it speaks for and the kinds of limits it confronts consciously or otherwise The authors do not hope to fix problems although some of the essays make suggestions but to contribute to a badly needed intra Catholic dialogue without which they believe problems will continue to fester and solutions will remain elusive

Locating US Theological Education In a Global Context Hendrik R. Pieterse, 2019-06-21

CONTRIBUTORS E Byron Anderson K K Yeo Margaret Eletta Guider OSF Lester Edwin J Ruiz Brent Waters Namsoon Kang Luis R Rivera and David Esterline Theological education in the United States finds itself in untested circumstances today Rapid social change is creating an increasing multicultural multiracial and multireligious context for leadership formation At the same time international enrollment cross border educational initiatives student and faculty exchanges and more are connecting US theological schools with a global community of Christian teaching and learning How do US theological institutions locate themselves within this global ecology of theological formation so as to be both responsible participants and creative shapers within it That is how do they discern their proper place and role It is questions like these that the contributors to this volume explore Building on the decades long discussion about the globalization of US theological education this book argues that in engaging such questions US theological institutions have much to gain from a sustained conversation with the burgeoning literature on the internationalization of American higher education This research offers

theological institutions a trove of insights and cautionary tales as they seek to discern their rightful place and role in educating leaders in and for a global Christian church CONTRIBUTORS E Byron Anderson K K Yeo Margaret Eletta Guider OSF Lester Edwin J Ruiz Brent Waters Namsoon Kang Luis R Rivera and David Esterline Priestly Ministry in Multiple Parishes Katarina Schuth, 2006 Just as important these voices provide insight for bishops diocesan staff and seminary educators as they strive to meet the special needs of these ministers and the people they serve BOOK JACKET Piety and Plurality Glenn Thomas Miller, 2014-06-09 I began studying American theological education in the 1970s and Piety and Plurality is the third of three studies In Piety and Intellect I examined the colonial and nineteenth century search for a form of theological education that was true to the church's confessional traditions and responsible to the intellectual demands of the age In Piety and Profession I described how that model was modified under the impact of the new biblical criticism and by the American belief in professionalism In this volume I have tried to bring the story up to date Unfortunately I did not find one unifying theme for the period Rather theological education seemed to move forward on a number of different levels each with its own story Here I have tried to capture some of the dynamics of this movement and to indicate how theological educators have struggled with the plurality in their midst In the process theological education has learned to live with its contradictions and problems As important as the stories are however there is also the story of the schools' struggles to live in the midst of a constant financial crisis that checked development at every stage Democratizing Biblical Studies Elisabeth Schüssler Fiorenza, 2009-01-01 Schüssler Fiorenza addresses such questions as What are the educational practices and procedures that are advocated by traditional educational models and how can they be changed What kinds of educational and communicative practices do biblical studies need to develop in order to fashion an emancipatory democratizing rhetorical space and a forum of many voices To envision articulate debate and practice a radical democratic ethos of biblical studies she identifies emerging didactic models that can foster such a radical democratic style of learning Pbk cover Religious Leadership Sharon Henderson Callahan, 2013-06-20 This title tackles issues relevant to leadership in the realm of religion It explores such themes as the contexts in which religious leaders move leadership in communities of faith leadership as taught in theological education and training religious leadership impacting social change and social justice and more Topics are examined from multiple perspectives traditions and faiths The Ministry Answer Book for Pastors Gary L.
