Comparative Education Robert F.

Arnové, Carlos Alberto Torres, 2007 Comparative Education examines the common problems facing education systems around the world as the result of global economic social and cultural forces. Issues related to the governance financing provision processes and outcomes of education systems for differently situated social groups are described and analyzed in specific regional national and local contexts. Hispanics and the Future of America National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on Population, Panel on Hispanics in the United States, 2006-02-23. Hispanics and the Future of America presents details of the complex story of a population that varies in many dimensions including national origin immigration status and generation. The papers in this volume draw on a wide variety of data sources to describe the contours of this population from the perspectives of history demography geography education family employment economic well being health and political engagement. They provide a rich source of information for researchers policy makers and others who want to better understand the fast growing and diverse population that we call Hispanic. The current period is a critical one for getting a better understanding of how Hispanics are being shaped by the U S experience. This will in turn affect the United States and the contours of the Hispanic future remain uncertain. The uncertainties include such issues as whether Hispanics especially immigrants improve their educational attainment and fluency in English and thereby improve their economic position whether growing numbers of foreign born Hispanics become citizens and achieve empowerment at the ballot box and through elected office whether impending health problems are successfully averted and whether Hispanics geographic dispersal accelerates their spatial and social integration. The papers in this volume provide invaluable information to explore these issues. Flagship Universities in Africa Damtew Teferra, 2017-06-26. This book advances an in depth comprehensive analysis of flagship universities in Africa the largest most selective and most prestigious universities on the continent. The book draws on a range of country specific case studies including Botswana Egypt Ethiopia Ghana Kenya Mauritius Nigeria Senegal Tanzania and Zambia to explore a range of issues associated with flagship universities and their role in higher education in Africa. Newly established institutions in new nation states and states emerging from conflict often rely on these flagship universities to train their academics and build their intelligentsia. Flagship universities are thus capacity builders and trend setters in their respective countries and sub regions. This volume brings together a range of scholars to celebrate the impact influence and contributions of African universities not only within Africa but across the globe. The book will be of great significance to students and researchers in the field of education particularly those with an interest in sociology and politics of higher education. Continuing Professional Development for Teachers Carol Morgan, Peter Neil, 2004-03-01. This volume is designed for teachers whether just setting out or climbing the ladder. It examines the complex set of options and requirements facing teachers from qualifying as a teacher to developing skills through middle and senior roles and continually improving teaching skills.
