Education Management in Learning Organizations Valerie C. Bryan, 2001      Research Anthology on Facilitating New Educational Practices Through Communities of Learning Management Association, Information Resources, 2020-10-30 With the future of education being disrupted and the onset of day to day uncertainties and challenges that have to be solved quickly teachers are now turning to professional development communities support communities where they can share and learn about effective practices to use in the classroom While transitioning to blended or online learning and keeping up with the technological advances in education these communities provide an essential backbone for teachers to rely on for support and updated knowledge on what educational practices are being utilized how they are working and what solutions have been found for the ever changing climate of education Research on the benefits and use of these communities as well as on the latest educational practices is essential in teacher development and student learning in the current culture of a rapidly changing educational environment The Research Anthology on Facilitating New Educational Practices Through Communities of Learning contains hand selected previously published research that provides information on the communities of learning that teachers are currently involved in to seek the latest educational practices The chapters cover the context of these communities the benefits and an overview of how this support is a necessary tool in today s practices of teaching and learning While highlighting topics such as learning communities teacher development mentoring and virtual communities this book is essential for inservice and preservice teachers administrators teacher educators practitioners stakeholders researchers academicians and students who are interested in how communities of practice tie into professional development teacher learning and the online shift in teaching      The IAF Handbook of Group Facilitation Sandy Schuman, 2012-06-15 Sponsored by the International Association of Facilitators The IAF Handbook of Group Facilitation offers the need to know basics in the field brought together by fifty leading practitioners and scholars This indispensable resource includes successful strategies and methods foundations and resources for anyone who works with groups The IAF Handbook of Group Facilitation provides an overview of the field for new and aspiring practitioners and a reliable reference for experienced group facilitators including chapters on Creating positive ongoing client relationships Building trust and improving communications Facilitating group brainstorming sessions Drawing out the best in people Developing a collaborative environment Designing and facilitating dialogue Managing conflicting agendas Working with multicultural groups Using improvisation Understanding virtual meetings Facilitating team start up Assessing group decision processes Building expertise in facilitation Reviewing core facilitation competencies Modeling positive professional attitudes      The Oxford Handbook of the Learning Organization Anders Örtengren, 2019-12-17 The concept of the learning organization is one of the most popular management ideas of the last few decades Since it was conceived as an idea in its own right it has been given various definitions and meanings such that we are still faced with the question as to whether any unified understanding of what the learning organization really is can be established This Handbook offers extensive reviews of both new and traditional perspectives on the concept and provides suggestions for how the learning organization can best be defined practiced studied and developed in future research With contributions from long standing scholars in the field as well as those new to the area this book aims to bridge the gap between traditional and more critical perspectives and in doing so find alternative features and angles to take the idea forward In addition to elaborating on and developing older definitions of the learning organization and suggesting updated and even new definitions the chapters also provide focused explorations on pertinent aspects of the learning organization such as ambidexterity gender inclusivity and systems thinking They also survey organizations that have made efforts towards becoming learning organizations how the learning organization can best be measured and studied and the universality of the idea itself Some of the questions raised in this book are answered or at least given tentative answers while other questions are left open In this way the book has the ambition to take the learning organization an important step further whilst having no intentions to take any final step instead the intention is that others will endeavour to continue where this book stops
