

Ways forward in higher education

Adjust financing schemes for the poor to benefit. Examine and tackle social determinants, such as income, that limit households to low-cost and low-quality higher education. Free tuition may help, but educational grants beyond tuition should also be prioritized to motivate the poorest household members to pursue higher education.

Promote the complementary relationship between private and public school education. Private and public schools both have something to offer. Harness their strengths to diversify options for pursuing education.

Improve education inputs. Promote voluntary accreditation. Encourage more HEIs to become recognized centers for excellence. Address low teacher qualifications.

Develop a research culture and build a functional innovation system. There must be enabling policies that encourage technological developments and network-building among HEIs. This system should also actively link students to the scientific community and market innovations.

Learn from the pandemic. Leverage technology to support learning. This includes ensuring availability, affordability, and meaningful access. Regularly produce and study granular data to uncover barriers to pursuing and implementing quality higher education.

Education The Values Crisis In Central:

Handbook of Reading Research, Volume III Michael L. Kamil, Peter B. Mosenthal, P. David Pearson, Rebecca Barr, 2016-11-18 In Volume III as in Volumes I and II the classic topics of reading are included from vocabulary and comprehension to reading instruction in the classroom and in addition each contributor was asked to include a brief history that chronicles the legacies within each of the volume s many topics However on the whole Volume III is not about tradition Rather it explores the verges of reading research between the time Volume II was published in 1991 and the research conducted after this date The editors identified two broad themes as representing the myriad of verges that have emerged since Volumes I and II were published 1 broadening the definition of reading and 2 broadening the reading research program The particulars of these new themes and topics are addressed World Yearbook of Education 2000 David Coulby, Robert Cowen, Crispin Jones, 2013-01-17 With contributions from international authors this text demonstrates that education systems and what it is to be educated are in transition and that societies and economies are changing dramatically The contributors explore expanding university systems financial responsibilities and curricula World Yearbook of Education 1997 Jagdish Gundara, 2012-12-06 This volume in the yearbook series examines the variety of educational responses to differing forms of diversity within states The growth of nationalism and regionalism in many parts of the world is considered alongside the emergence of such international structures as the European Community Problems and Prospects in European Education Francois Orivel, Jürgen Schriewer, Elizabeth S. Swing, 2000-06-30 Written by scholars and professionals from such organizations as the Council of Europe and the European Community this volume provides a comprehensive examination of education throughout Europe The particularities of national educational systems are of necessity within its purview but overall organization of the volume reflects such thematic and regional concerns as the impact of social and economic integration on education the modification of educational structures and curricula following the demise of communism in Eastern Europe degree equivalency the financing of educational change privatization the impact of migration and immigration national concerns intercultural education and multiculturalism The volume s experts discuss European education s common heritage and the distinct national traditions it preserves They deal with the interpretations of European education systems put forward in the shape of educational theories or reform oriented programs policies and ideologies as well as with the social actors forces and movements that have fuelled reform The book s chapters also address the challenges European education has to face as a consequence of processes of change occurring at multiple levels at the levels of cultural values socio political reconstruction intercultural migration supra national integration and ongoing global interconnection Inequality in Education Donald B. Holsinger, W. James Jacob, 2009-05-29 Inequality in Education Comparative and International Perspectives is a compilation of conceptual chapters and national case studies that includes a series of methods for measuring education inequalities The book provides up to date scholarly research on global trends in the distribution of formal schooling in national populations It also offers a strategic comparative and international education policy statement on recent shifts in education inequality and new approaches to explore develop and improve comparative education and policy research globally Contributing authors examine how education as a process interacts with government finance policy to form patterns of access to education services In addition to case perspectives from 18 countries across six geographic regions the volume includes six conceptual chapters on topics that influence education inequality such as gender disability language and economics and a summary chapter that presents new evidence on the pernicious consequences of inequality in the distribution of education The book offers 1 a better and more holistic understanding of ways to measure education inequalities and 2 strategies for facing the challenge of inequality in education in the processes of policy formation planning and implementation at the local regional national and global levels

Prospects ,1996 Processes of Transition in Education Systems Elizabeth A. McLeish, David Phillips, 1998-01-01 This volume is concerned with the stages or processes through which education systems pass in countries which are moving from authoritarian styles of government to various styles of democracy The authors have been concerned to identify common features that might be observable in systems which are on the surface at least very diverse those of Latvia South Africa and the former German Democratic Republic The authors postulate a model which might be applicable both to the countries with which they are principally concerned and to other countries in similar or comparable states of transition

Globalisation and Comparative Education Joseph Zajda, Val Rust, 2021-03-24 This book focuses on discourses of globalisation in comparative education research and the politics of education reforms It analyses and evaluates the shifts in methodological approaches to globalisation and education reforms as reflected in comparative education research and their impact on education policy and pedagogy The book covers topics such as globalisation and comparative education globalisation as a multidimensional construct methods and methodologies in comparative education the moral face of post structuralism and school reforms in the age of globalisation It offers a critical analysis of education policy reforms The book demonstrates a complex nexus between globalisation ideology and education reforms On one hand democratisation and progressive pedagogy is equated with equality inclusion equity tolerance and human rights while on the other hand globalisation is perceived by some critics at least to be a totalising force that is widening the socio economic status SES gap and cultural and economic capital between the rich and the poor and bringing power domination and control by corporate bodies and powerful political economic and educational organisations The perception of globalisation as dynamic and multi faceted processes clearly necessitates a multiple perspective approach in the study of comparative education globally This book contributes in a very scholarly way to a more holistic understanding of the nexus between globalisation comparative education research and education reforms

Change Forces in Post-Communist Eastern Europe John P. Anchan, Michael Fullan, Eleoussa Polyzoi, 2003-12-16 The collapse of communism and the adoption of parliamentary democracy led to rapid and dramatic educational change in countries formerly under the control of the Soviet Union Leaders of the affected countries acknowledged the need to develop educational systems during the rebuilding process and embraced this transformation in a short period of time This has provided researchers with a unique opportunity to investigate educational change as a living laboratory In this book the authors explore the complex nature of change in five former communist countries Russia the Czech Republic Hungary Romania and East Germany The authors consider Educational change as a process rather than as a event A comparison of such changes against a model for educational change developed by Michael Fullan for understanding large scale educational reform Analysis of issues at the national level where the original impetus for change has occurred With contributors from countries affected by such changes this book provides an insight into the process of educational change as a result of revolution rather than evolution This book will be of great interest to academics and researchers of educational change and those involved with educational reform It will also interest those looking at comparative education models and postgraduate students focussing their studies on issues of educational change and reform

Globalisation and Education Reforms Joseph Zajda, 2018-02-27 This book explores the interrelationship between ideology the state and education reforms placing it in a global context It examines some of the major education reforms and policy issues in a global culture particularly in light of recent shifts in quality and standards driven education and policy research The book critiques the neo liberal ideological imperatives of current education and policy reforms and illustrates the way the shifts in the relationship between the state and education policy affect current trends in education reforms and schooling globally With this as its focus the book s individual chapters highlight hand picked scholarly research on major discourses in the field of comparative education A compendium of the very latest thinking on the subject the book like the other volumes in the series offers a state of the art sourcebook for researchers practitioners and policymakers alike Not only do the chapters offer a timely overview of current issues affecting comparative education and education policy research in what is now a global educational culture they also outline future directions that education and policy reforms could take By doing so they provide a comprehensive picture of the intersecting and diverse discourses of globalisation and policy driven reforms in education Individual chapters critically assess the dominant discourses and debates on education and policy reforms Using diverse comparative education paradigms from critical theory to historical comparative research they address globalisation ideology and democracy and examine both the reasons for and outcomes of education reforms and policy change As such they provide an informed critique of models of quality and standards driven education reforms that are informed by Western dominant ideologies and social values
