Educational Policy An International Survey:

Educational Policy J. R. Hough, 1984 Power and Possibility Fergal Finnegan, Bernie Grummell, 2019-11-26 Power has been a defining and constitutive theme of adult education scholarship for over a century and is a central concern of many of the most famous and influential thinkers in the field Adult education has been particularly interested in how an analysis of power can be used to support transformative learning and democratic participation In a fragile and interdependent world these questions are more important than ever The aim of this collection is to offer an analysis of power and possibility in adult education which acknowledges analyzes and responds to the complexity and diversity that characterizes contemporary education and society Power and Possibility Adult Education in a Diverse and Complex World explores the topic of power and possibility theoretically historically and practically through a range of perspectives and in relation to varied areas of interest within contemporary adult education It is concerned with addressing how power works in and through adult education today by exploring what has changed in recent years and what is shaping and driving policy Alongside this the book explores ways of theorizing learning power and transformation that builds and extends adult education philosophy In particular it takes up the themes of diversity and solidarity and explores barriers and possibilities for change in relation to these themes The Study Of Educational Politics Jay D. Scribner, Donald H. Layton, 2003-08-29 This text is intended to be of use as a guide for students scholars and researchers of the politics of education and of educational policy studies The comprehensive work surveys major trends between 1969 and 1994 with chapters synthesising political and policy developments at local national and state levels in the US as well as in the international arena The text contains in depth examinations of the emerging micropolitics of the field of education as well as policy analysis and cultural and feminist studies and bibliographies are provided at the end of each chapter Designed as both a text and a reference volume this special yearbook was planned in conjunction with the 25th anniversary of the Politics of Education Association in 1994 Education in Flux Mathias Decuypere, Pieter Vanden Broeck, 2021-12-14 This book aims to gain a better grasp of how education both inside and outside school is shaped by our understanding of time Over the last decennia both education and policymaking have undergone radical changes transcending them far beyond the historical limits of the modern nation state where their contemporary shape originated The often discussed shift from government to governance in education policy together with the crystallization of newly emerging spaces of transnational education are illustrative in this respect The national grammar of schooling is set out to arrange time in class hours schooldays and yearly cohorts Its curricula establish what the past should teach to future generations But when education shifts perspectives towards transnational European or even global levels this past increasingly seems to lose relevance when understood as continuity and as tradition Instead in education as in policymaking the discontinuity expected to result from a future deemed open and undetermined becomes an endless resource for the development of new political and educational re forms How are contemporary education and education policy creating and reacting to particular forms of presents pasts or futures How do specific forms of education such as lifelong learning relate to our shifting understandings of time How are progress acceleration and time related in educational reform processes Through showing the contingency of time making in educational practices the contributions to this book seek to answer these questions and thus open avenues to think education and time anew The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Educational Philosophy and Theory Special Education and Globalisation Sheila Riddell,2018-10-16 Special Education and Globalization illustrates the way in which inclusive education has become the dominant discourse across Europe and the wider international context Contributions to this book highlight the tensions evident within each jurisdiction related to the construction of disability within specific historical and cultural antecedents These tensions often involve the relationship between official policy discourses and grassroots practices based on the assumptions of classroom practitioners who may have strong views on individual deficits Parents and voluntary organisations may also have an interest in asserting the specialness of specific conditions which require provision outside the mainstream Finally the emergence of new bureaucratic structures in an era of heightened national and individual competition often run counter to the ethos of co operation which informs inclusive practice This book was originally published as a special issue of Discourse Studies in the Cultural Politics of Education The PISA Effect on Global Educational Governance Louis Volante,2017-09-18 The Program for International Student Assessment PISA is an international achievement measure that assesses 15 year old student performance in the areas of reading mathematics and science literacy in over 70 countries and economies triennially By presenting an in depth examination of PISA s role in education governance and policy discourses this book provides the reader with a critical analysis of the educational change process within our increasingly global educational policy environment Exploring the prominent socio political drivers of large scale educational reform across the globe chapter authors examine PISA s national and global implications from a diverse range of regional contexts Through the presentation of cross disciplinary viewpoints and topical issues related to the PISA international survey this volume explains the degree to which PISA focused research is linked to national educational policy discourses and international education agendas Handbook of Education Policy Studies Guorui Fan,Thomas S. Popkewitz,2020-06-02 This open access handbook brings together the latest research from a wide range of internationally influential scholars to analyze educational policy research from international historical and interdisciplinary perspectives By effectively breaking through the boundaries between countries and disciplines it presents new theories techniques and methods for contemporary education policy and illustrates the educational policies and educational reform practices that various countries have introduced to meet the challenges of continuous change Based on an analysis of the nature of education policy and education reform this volume focuses on education reform and the concept of education quality Adopting a historical and comparative perspective it examines the dialectical relationship between education policy and education reform in various countries assesses theoretical and practical issues in the process of moving from regulation to multiple governance in contemporary education administration and explores the impact of globalization on national education reform and the interdependence between countries In addition it presents studies addressing educational policy research methodology from multiple perspectives Highlighting the changes in national education macro policies this volume comprehensively reveals the complex relationship between contemporary education reform and social change and explores the links between contemporary social political and economic systems and educational policy research and practice offering a holistic portrait of macro trends in contemporary education reform
