Educational Scenario In South Asian Countries:

Educational Scenario in South Asian Countries G. Ananda,2002 Economic Integration in South Asia: Issues and Pathways Action Aid International,2010 Economic Integration in South Asia Issues and Pathways is one of the volumes of the series Imagine a New South Asia presented by ActionAid International Asia It envisions a new South Asia free from human deprivation and demonstrates how South Asian countries can learn from the best practices in the region as well as from their failures and also by trying to emulate the successful strategies of East Asia China and Southeast Asian countries to introduce education and health systems Encyclopaedia of Education in South Asia Ramesh Chandra,2003-08 The literacy is the most potent factor so far as the social characteristic having deep bearing on the development of overall personalities of an individual is concerned The competence with knowledge not only makes us feel as responsible citizens it also Economic Integration in South Asia Muinul Islam,Nitai Chandra Nag,2010 Economic Integration in South Asia Issues and Pathways is one of the volumes of the series titled Imagine a New South Asia presented by ActionAid International Asia This volume envisions a new South Asia free from human deprivation and poverty where countries will become successful proud and inclusive societies This book demonstrates how South Asian countries can learn from the best practices in the region as well as from their failures and also by trying to emulate the successful strategies of introducing egalitarian education and health systems of East Asia China and Southeast Asian countries Rich in analysis and research this volume seeks an alternative people centred perspective and takes into account all those voices that have so long been unheard in policy making processes through reviews of case studies Not only will the findings of this volume be useful in conducting campaigns for appropriate policy and mindset changes but these will also eventually make the emergence of a highly integrated South Asia truly possible More and Better Jobs in South Asia The World Bank,2011-12-20 South Asia has created nearly 800 000 jobs per month during the last decade Robust economic growth in large parts of the region has created better jobs those that pay higher wages for wage workers and reduce poverty for the self employed the largest segment of the region s employed Going forward South Asia faces the enormous challenge of absorbing 1 to 1.2 million entrants to the labor force every month for the next two decades at rising levels of productivity This calls for an agenda that cuts across sectors and includes improving the reliability of electricity supply for firms in both urban and rural settings dealing decisively with issues of governance and corruption making access to land easier for urban informal firms and strengthening transport links between rural firms and their markets It requires improving nutrition in early childhood to avoid cognitive impairment intensifying the focus on quality of learning in education systems equipping workers with the skills that employers demand and reorienting labor market regulations and programs to protect workers rather than jobs The continuance of high economic growth to help improve job quality is not assured But the region s demography can provide a favorable tailwind The growth of workers exceeds that of dependents in much of the region The resources saved from having fewer dependents can be shifted to high priority investments in physical and human capital accumulation necessary to create productive jobs in countries with an enabling policy framework But the demographic window of opportunity is open for only the next three decades a fact which lends urgency to the reform agenda This book will be of interest to policy makers their advisers researchers and students of economics who seek solutions not only to the challenge of creating more and better jobs in South Asia but globally as well It is the first title in South Asia Development Matters a new series that will serve as a vehicle for in depth synthesis of economic and policy analysis on key development topics for South Asia The International Handbook of Educational Research in the Asia-Pacific Region J.P. Keeves,Ryo Watanabe,2013-11-11 The aim of the Handbook is to present readily accessible but scholarly sources of information about educational research in the Asia Pacific region The scale and scope of the Handbook is such that the articles included in it provide substantive contributions to knowledge and understanding of education in the Asia region In so doing the articles present the problems and issues facing education in the region and the findings of research conducted within the region that contribute to the resolution of these problems and issues Moreover since new problems and issues are constantly arising the articles in the Handbook also indicate the likely directions of future developments The different articles within the Handbook seek to conceptualize the problems in each specific content area under review provide an integration of the research conducted within that area the theoretical basis of the research the practical implications of the research and the contribution of the research towards the resolution of the problems identified Thus the articles do not involve the reporting of newly conducted research but rather require a synthesis of the research undertaken in a particular area with reference to the research methods employed and the theoretical frameworks on which the research is based In general the articles do not advocate a single point of view but rather present alternative points of view and comment on the debate and disagreements associated with the conduct and findings of the research Furthermore it should be noted that the Handbook is not concerned with research methodology and only considers the methods employed in inquiry in so far as the particular methods of research contribute to the effective investigation of problems and issues that have arisen in the conduct and provision of education at different levels within the region

Anthropogenic Pollution Arun Arya, Saikat Kumar Basu, 2016-07-01 The global environment has been going through significant challenges in recent times due to a number of factors such as industrial pollution expansion of agricultural land way beyond the fringe forest zones destruction of virgin forests loss of quality agricultural lands due to soil erosion loss of global wildlife and biodiversity climate change global warming devastating forest fires floods draughts melting of glaciers to mention only a handful. The list could possibly go on and on with never ending items being added covering every aspect of modern human life. But there is an important underlying hidden factor behind all these that we all need to identify and realize. The most alarming fact about this hidden factor is that they are all directly or indirectly impacted by human activities in some way or other. Human civilizations have reached great strides from the earliest days when men first discovered wheel or learnt the art of agriculture and crop and livestock breeding. We have seen the age of computronics robotics and now moving into the age of biotechnology genetic engineering and nanotechnology. Our science quests have stretched beyond the borders of the home planet and we have even started stretching hands in unlocking the secrets of distant members of our solar system. This is indeed tremendous progress there could be no doubt about that. But at the same time we also need to remember about the impending darkness too beneath the lamp that provides light to the rest of room. While we are standing in gaining a lot but are we paying enough attention to what we are also loosing at the same time. The loss of forested areas building up carbon dioxide in the global atmosphere pollution of both fresh and salt water via number of toxic chemicals both of inorganic and organic nature poor quality of the air we are breathing and the catastrophic loss of global biodiversity are these not a sign of regress instead of the so called and highly cherished progress towards a darker and destructive future. Human or anthropogenic impacts are in turn devastating the planet with our attention being shifted only to the shinning aspect of our civilizations. There is indeed a darker side of every bright picture that is being placed in front of our glaring eyes. There is no silver lining in every cloud that we see on the sky. We are becoming seriously myopic and choosing to ignore the deadly symptoms that are showing up in front of us every now and then as a result of our own activities. Anthropogenic impacts have been devastating to our global ecosystems and are challenging our local environments in a significant manner As responsible global citizens we strongly believe that we need to voice our concerns to the incessant global environmental pollution happening at every instance at different corners of earth Hence is the humble effort of coming up with an international peer reviewed volume on Anthropogenic Pollution Causes and Concerns The current volume is a collection of a number of articles from scientists academics researchers journalists bureaucrats and technocrats from different parts of the world Each article talks about a separate story and highlights some specific problems caused by anthropogenic impact and resulting in detrimental forms of environmental pollution Each article is complete with its table graphs diagrams and bibliography to cater to a wide range of readers from serious academics researchers and students to environmental enthusiasts and general public interested in stretching their boundary of knowledge way beyond traditional education The volume will also be useful for both under graduate and post graduate students specializing in environmental science studies and also for the MPhil curriculum and entry level PhD courses at different academic institutes Environmental Sustainability, Growth Trajectory and Gender Chandrima Chakraborty, Dipyaman Pal, 2022-06-09 Environmental Sustainability Growth Trajectory and Gender focuses on three major issues affecting developing economies environmental sustainability growth trajectory and gender Awareness is increased through an exploration of policies and actions that will enhance gender equality and sustainable development

Social Gains from Female Education K. Subbarao, Laura Raney, 1993-01-01 This paper on the social gains from female education is part of a series prepared by the World Bank on the benefits of improving opportunities for women The paper suggests that expanding women s opportunities enhances their productivity and earning potential and thus contributes to better economic performance and poverty alleviation Education raises the productivity and earnings of both men and women Over time female education also contributes to slower population growth and healthier families The Bank believes that in efforts to expand women s opportunities priority should be given to education through the secondary level reproductive health agriculture private entrepreneurship and the wage labor force This paper is concerned with the estimation of these social gains from female education at the secondary level The paper examines the role of female education measured by gross enrollment rates at the secondary level relative to and or in combination with some health and family planning services that influence fertility and infant mortality It uses reduced form estimation of the total fertility rate and infant mortality rate The paper presents cross country regressions based on data drawn from 72 developing countries The analysis in this paper generally shows that female secondary education family planning and health programs all affect fertility and mortality and the effect of female secondary education appears to be very strong Results suggest that family planning will reduce fertility more when combined with female education especially in countries that now have low female secondary enrollment levels DK
