Sacred and Secular Tensions in Higher Education Michael D. Waggoner, 2011-03 Sacred and secular worldviews have long held a place in U S higher education although non religious perspectives have usually been privileged in the modern era This book illustrates the importance of cultivating multiple worldviews      Reclaiming Goodness Hanan A. Alexander, 2001-05-22 Reclaiming Goodness Education and the Spiritual Quest begins with the premise that sound models for achieving both spiritual fulfillment and the good life are lacking in contemporary culture Arguing that contemporary education is responsible for having abandoned spirituality and the cultivation of goodness in people Hanan A Alexander advances a definition of spirituality which acknowledges an integral connection to education Reclaiming Goodness charts a way to reintegrate ethical and spiritual values with the values of critical thought and reason Written in accessible and non technical prose it will be of interest to professional educators as well as to a wider audience      "Real World" Ethics Robert J. Waggoner, Nathan C. Walker, 2018-08-01 From the founding of Harvard College in 1636 as a mission for training young clergy to the landmark 1968 Supreme Court decision in Epperson v Arkansas which struck down the state s ban on teaching evolution in schools religion and education in the United States have been inextricably linked Still today new fights emerge over the rights and limitations of religion in the classroom The Oxford Handbook of Religion and American Education brings together preeminent scholars from the fields of religion education law and political science to craft a comprehensive survey and assessment of the study of religion and education in the United States The essays in the first part develop six distinct conceptual lenses through which to view American education including Privatism Secularism Pluralism Religious Literacy Religious Liberty and Democracy The following four parts expand on these concepts in a diverse range of educational frames public schools faith based K 12 education higher education and lifespan faith development Designed for a diverse and interdisciplinary audience this addition to the Oxford Handbook series sets for itself a broad goal of understanding the place of religion and education in a modern democracy      Liberating Scholarly Writing Robert Nash, 2019-03-01 This book provides an alternative to the more conventional modes of qualitative and quantitative inquiry currently used in professional training programs particularly in education It features a very accessible presentation that combines application rationale critique and inspiration and is itself an example of this kind of writing It teaches students how to use personal writing in order to analyze explicate and advance their ideas And it encourages minority students women and others to find and express their authentic voices by teaching them to use their own lives as primary resources for their scholarship The Blackwell Guide to the Philosophy of Education Nigel Blake,Paul Smeyers,Richard D. Smith,Paul Standish,2008-06-09 In this important survey an international group of leading philosophers chart the development of philosophy of education in the twentieth century and point to significant questions for its future Presents a definitive introduction to the core areas of philosophy of education Contains 20 newly commissioned articles all of which are written by internationally distinguished scholars Each chapter reviews a problem examines the current state of the discipline with respect to the topic and discusses possible futures of the field Provides a solid foundation for further study Reimagining Liberal Education Hanan

Alexander,2015-01-29 This challenging and provocative book reimagines the justification substance process and study of education in open pluralistic liberal democratic societies Hanan Alexander argues that educators need to enable students to embark on a quest for intelligent spirituality while paying heed to a pedagogy of difference Through close analysis of the work of such thinkers as William James Charles Taylor Elliot Eisner Michael Oakeshott Isaiah Berlin Martin Buber Michael Apple and Terrence McLaughlin Reimagining Liberal Education offers an account of school curriculum and moral and religious instruction that throws new light on the possibilities of a nuanced rounded education for citizenship Divided into three parts Transcendental Pragmatism in Educational Research Pedagogy of Difference and the Other Face of Liberalism and Intelligent Spirituality in the Curriculum this is a thrilling work of philosophy that builds upon the author s award winning text Reclaiming Goodness Education and the Spiritual Quest Democratic Education Stretched Thin

,2007-02-22 Community, Diversity, and Conflict Among Schoolteachers Betty Achinstein,2002-01-11 Using richly textured case studies of two very different schools the author shows when teachers enact reforms in the name of community what often emerges is conflict Whether dealing with issues of teachers collaboration or how to meet the needs of a diverse student population conflicts within professional communities reflect important differences of beliefs and practices This book reframes conflict as constructive in building educational communities that learn and promote democratic values in schools

Computing and Educational Studies Eugene F. Provenzo, Jr.,2014-05-01 This special issue calls for a greater awareness of computing as a critical area of study for those interested in educational studies Its purpose is to open up a wider dialogue about computing and education than has previously existed in the field The questions raised provide the basis for a lively discussion and analysis of the role of educational studies in interpreting the role of computing in our culture and educational system This issue also provides a model for exploring other topics of similar significance and importance to the field in future issues of the journal Does God Make a Difference? Warren Nord,2010-11-10 In this provocative book Warren A Nord argues that public schools and universities leave the vast majority of students religiously illiterate Such education is not religiously neutral a matter of constitutional importance indeed it borders on secular indoctrination when measured against the requirements of a good liberal education and the demands of critical thinking Nord also argues that religious perspectives must be included in courses that address morality and those Big Questions that a good education cannot ignore He outlines a variety of civic reasons for studying religion and argues that the Establishment Clause doesn't just permit but requires taking religion seriously While acknowledging the difficulty of taking religion seriously in schools and universities Nord makes a cogent case for requiring both high school and undergraduate students to take a year long course in religious studies and for discussing religion in any course that deals with religiously controversial material The final chapters address how religion might best be addressed in history literature economics and perhaps most controversially science courses He also discusses Bible courses and the relevance of religion to moral education and ethics courses While his position will be taken by some as radical he argues that he is advocating a middle way in our culture wars Public schools and universities can neither promote religion nor ignore it Does God Make a Difference increases our understanding of a long and heated cultural conflict it also proposes a solution to the problem that is philosophically sound and in the long run eminently practical

The Challenge to Care in Schools, 2nd Edition Nel Noddings, 2015-04-26 After a decade of educational reforms The Challenge to Care in Schools is even more relevant now than when it was first published In her new Introduction Nel Noddings revisits her seminal book and places care as central to current debates on standardization accountability privatization and the continuous struggle between traditional and progressive methods of education Rather than forcing one side to yield to the other this book advocates an alternative responsive system that will allow the best ideas to flourish In the Second Edition Noddings once again envisions a school system built on the idea that different people have different strengths and that these strengths should be cultivated in an environment of caring not of competition She suggests that if we make the responsiveness characteristic of caring more basic than accountability we can accommodate both traditional and progressive preferences in one school system to the benefit of all especially the children Chapters address the practical and theoretical questions involved in organizing traditional and nontraditional areas of study around themes of care Introductory chapters focus on caring in general and on the problems of liberal education while the final chapter offers sound advice for implementing a caring curriculum in our schools Praise for the First Edition A welcome addition to the often fragmented discussion of what children need and what school and education should be Harvard Educational Review I recommend this book to all concerned about education personally and or professionally Journal of Moral Education In the morass of school reform that calls for such changes as national standards improved assessments and new ways of organizing schooling Noddings provides lucid thinking about the priorities we ought to consider Teachers College Record Becoming a Multicultural Educator William A. International Handbook of the Religious, Moral and Spiritual Dimensions in Education Marian de Souza,Gloria Durka,Kathleen Engebretson,Robert Jackson,Andrew McGrady,2007-06-04 In today s pluralistic world many cultures feel a shift in the relationship of people with religious traditions A corresponding movement is a resurgence of interest in human spirituality This Handbook presents the views of education scholars who engage these concepts every day in a collection of essays reflecting the international state of the discipline Out of these rises a vision for the emergence of a just and peaceful world      Scholarship and Christian Faith Douglas Jacobsen, Rhonda Hustedt Jacobsen, 2004-04-08 This book enters a lively discussion about religious faith and higher education in America that has been going on for a decade or more During this time many scholars have joined the debate about how best to understand the role of faith in the academy at large and in the special arena of church related Christian higher education The notion of faith informed scholarship has of course figured prominently in this conversation But argue Douglas and Rhonda Jacobsen the idea of Christian scholarship itself has been remarkably under discussed Most of the literature has assumed a definition of Christian scholarship that is Reformed and evangelical in orientation a model associated with the phrase the integration of faith and learning The authors offer a new definition and analysis of Christian scholarship that respects the insights of different Christian traditions e g Catholic Lutheran Anabaptist Wesleyan Pentecostal and that applies to the arts and to professional studies as much as it does to the humanities and the natural and social sciences The book itself is organized as a conversation Five chapters by the Jacobsens alternate with four contributed essays that sharpen illustrate or complicate the material in the preceding chapters The goal is both to map the complex terrain of Christian scholarship as it actually exists and to help foster better connections between Christian scholars of differing persuasions and between Christians and the academy as a whole      For Goodness Sake Walter Feinberg, 2013-01-11 While the fierce debate over religion in public schools receives ample media attention we rarely consider the implications of religious schools on moral education and liberal democracy In this groundbreaking work Walter Feinberg opens up a critical new dialogue to offer a complete discussion of the important role religious schools play in the formation of a democratic citizenry Feinberg a leading philosopher of education approaches the subject of religious education with a rare evenhandedness drawing on examples from Christian Jewish and Muslim schools and exploring topics as disparate as sex education and creationism For Goodness Sake provides a much needed take on a controversial topic demonstrating that the relationship between religion and schooling is not simply the exclusive concern of members of a given religious community but a relevant and vital issue for everyone who cares about education      Religion without Ulterior Motive Borgh, 2007-03-31 The awareness of the potential for abuse of religion has risen dramatically in the West since 9 11 We all seem to agree that the abuse of religion should be averted and condemnation of the abuse of religion is almost universal Bram van de Beek systematic theologian at Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam has radicalised this discourse by claiming that religion should not be allied to any cause not even to a good cause He illustrates this by the way theology has been instrumentalized within the Reformed tradition in e g apologetic theology liberation theology theocracy and pietism His thesis provokes fervent discussions Twelve prominent theologians react on issues such as public theology evangelical activism Christian life the relevance of reasons for faith the unity of the church and contextualization of religion in various parts of the world At stake is the assertion that precisely religion without ulterior motive is the best guarantee for relevant religion

Critical Lessons Nel Noddings, 2006-05-08 Critical Lessons concentrates on the critical reflective thinking that should be taught in high schools Taking seriously the Socratic advice know thyself it focuses on topics that will help students to understand the forces good and bad that work to socialize them This book argues why critical thinking is necessary in schools because it requires the discussion of critical issues how we learn the psychology of war what it means to make a home advertising and propaganda choosing an occupation gender and religion
