Hugo Zegarra Education and Disability in Cross-Cultural Perspective Susan Jeanne Peters, 2013-11-26 A radical departure from previous chronicles of education for people with disabilities this book views special education from a broader perspective Its central thesis is that cultural values and expectations play a dominant role in understanding the structure and function of special education While theories of the social construction of disability have been written about in a growing body of research since the 1960s no attempt has been made to create a cross cultural framework This work offers such a framework Eight chapters written by educators in each country s educational system cover the following nations China Great Britain Hungary Japan Iran Pakistan United States and Zimbabwe Historical discussions in each chapter provide a context for current practice An index and illustrations are also included Information Sources in the Social Sciences David Fisher, Sandra Price, Terry Hanstock, 2018-02-19 No detailed description available for Information Sources in the Social Sciences The Unification of German Education Val Dean Rust, Diane Rust, 1995 This study of the integration of East and West German education following the collapse of the German Democratic Republic in 1989 focuses on policy formation and implementation during this period of great social and political turbulence It is the result of a research project undertaken shortly after the unification The authors lived in East Germany for a full year looking carefully at individual schools vocational training centers teacher colleges and universities They asked macro analytic questions What are the conditions in which educational policy is successfully formulated How is this educational policy implemented What are the consequences of this policy From the start West Germany demanded a complete dismantling of the educational system in the former German Democratic Republic West German political leaders insisted as a condition of unification that all important agreements concerning education made by the GDR states be accepted by the new states The authors research shows that even before the unification East Germans had already opted for a system consistent with West German education law However the West Germans disregarded these changes and imposed their own version of reform on East Germany The study reveals that in this period of confusion the East Germans did not fully analyze the implications of the imposed conditions which now have unforeseen negative consequences The German situation is of great interest to all educators particularly students of educational policy making as well as researchers in political science economics and sociology Intense Years Gerald K. Letendre, Rebecca Erwin Fukuzawa, 2013-01-11 This volume examines the lives of young adolescents in Japanese middle schools focusing on the dynamics of school family and social life and explores the change from child to adolescent that takes place in the middle school years Educational Restructuring in the Context of Globalization and National Policy Holger Daun, 2002 This study posits that global change is being driven mainly by financial forces new patterns of economic growth and market ideology It then goes on to examine the forces opposing such globalizing processes such as religious and ethnic social movements throughout Africa Asia and Latin America South Asia and the Strategic Indian Ocean Army Library (U.S.), 1973 Politics of Classroom Life Nobuo K. Shimahara, 2014-04-08 The growing economic competition among the world's industrialized and developing nations has spurred comparisons and examinations of national school systems. An important aspect of any school system is school and classroom management, which is an indicator of the ultimate goals that a nation has for its future workers. In this volume, international scholars examine the daily life of elementary school classrooms in six nations with complex economies, an international presence, and salient minority and immigrant populations. These original essays analyze contemporary classroom management practices and policies as well as their historical and theoretical frameworks.

Russian Education Brian Holmes, Gerald H. Read, Natalya Voskresenskaya, 1995. First Published in 1995. Routledge is an imprint of Taylor & Francis, an informal company.

Qualitative Educational Research in Developing Countries Michael Crossley, Graham Vulliamy, 2013-10-15. This collection of 11 original in-depth accounts of qualitative research and evaluation in developing countries argues that such innovative methods offer considerable advantages over traditional methods. With examples drawn from Asia, Africa, the South Pacific, Central America, and the Caribbean, each chapter focuses upon a specific method such as qualitative interviews, fieldwork, or document analysis and considers related theoretical and practical issues. Key issues addressed include the identification of appropriate research questions, access, research ethics, practitioner research, case study, evaluation, North-South collaboration, and the potential of qualitative research for policy making and theory.

Third World Education Anthony R. Welch, 2002-05-03. This book debunks the argument that quality in education can only be achieved by limiting or trading off equality. The quality of schooling is a major issue for Third World nations across the globe. However, there is no single measure which is universally accepted. Whether it is as some economists might argue, an issue of the number of desks per classroom, or one of national sovereignty is widely disputed. Defining equality in education becomes increasingly difficult in an era of globalization in which there exists a wide gap between rich and poor, both within and between nations. In the context of an international move towards New Right politics and neo-liberal economic ideologies, both the quality and equality of education are imperiled. This book argues that any worthy definition of quality education must include the interests and participation of the underprivileged.

Distant Alliances Regina Cortina, Nelly P. Stromquist, 2019-01-04. In this ground-breaking study, Regina Cortina and Nelly Stromquist examine how the alliances of international agencies, national governments, and nongovernmental organizations have strengthened public support for educating girls and women in Latin America. Bringing a timely and readable account of the strategies pursued, the authors show how the strength of the women's movement has influenced the education of women and girls and thus has helped to reduce poverty and strengthen the citizenship of women in developing countries. The book's overview of recent initiatives, along with its illuminating case studies of developing nations, offers the reader a window into educational reform and the realities of social change in Latin America.

Education Lois Butler, 1989.

Quality Education for All Dean H. Nielson, William K. Cummings, 2014-04-08. Modern education, conceived in the late 18th century and expanded in the early 19th century to promote enlightenment and social equality, may finally be nearing its institutional limit Over the past decade following nearly a century of steady gains there has been little further advancement in modern education The modern system has proved effective in serving the interests of the established core of contemporary society but ineffective in reaching for the periphery The contributors to this volume offer various corrective approaches to correct this state of affairs Research in Education ,1972-05
