Facing The Future Reviving The Past:

Facing the Future, Reviving the Past John Kleinen, 1999 A Study of Social Change in a Northern Vietnamese Village is based on anthropological fieldwork between 1992 and 1996 in a small Red River delta village It treats the history of the village since its foundation in the mid seventeenth century based on existing French and Vietnamese archival materials At the same time the book discusses the essentialist character of the Vietnamese village community Special interest is devoted to internal politics within the village which enable powerful lineages and groups to re gain political and social power within the village The recent revival of religious activities as a result of the renovation policy is taken into consideration Since Vietnamese society is changing at a very fast pace a longitudinal study of this nature provides the reader with a firsthand account of the interplay between the reform under a Marxist regime and local village society

Alexander Soucy, 2012-07-31 The most common description of the supernatural landscape in Vietnam makes a distinction between Buddhist and non Buddhist sides The Buddha side ben phat is the focus of this investigation into the intersection of gender power and religious praxis Employing an anthropological approach to Buddhist practice that takes into account modes of action that are not only socially constructed and contextual but also negotiated by the actors The Buddha Side uniquely explores how gender and age affect understandings of what it means to be a Buddhist In seeking to map out the ways and meanings of Buddhist engagement Alexander Soucy examines everything from the skeptical statements of young men and devotional performances of young women to the pilgrimages of older women and performances of orthodoxy used by older men to assert their position within the pagoda space Soucy draws on more than four years experience conducting ethnographic research in Hanoi to investigate how religious practice is grounded in the constitution and marking of social identity From this in depth view he describes the critical role of religion in shaping social contexts and inserting selves into them Religion can thus be described as a form of theatre one in which social identities youth old age masculinity femininity authority are constructed and displayed via religious practice A compelling look at the performative aspect of Buddhism in contemporary Vietnam The Buddha Side will be welcomed by anyone with an interest in Buddhism as it is practiced on the ground

Essential Trade Ann Marie Leshkowich, 2014-09-30 My husband doesn't have a head for business complained Ngoc the owner of a children's clothing stall in Ben Thanh market Naturally it's because he's a man When the women who sell in Ho Chi Minh City's iconic marketplace speak their language suggests that activity in the market is shaped by timeless essential truths Vietnamese women are naturally adept at buying and selling while men are not Vietnamese prefer to do business with family members or through social contacts stallholders are by nature superstitious marketplace trading is by definition a small scale enterprise Essential Trade looks through the facade of these timeless truths and finds active participants in a political economy of appearances traders words and actions conform to stereotypes of themselves as poor weak women in order to clinch sales manage creditors and protect themselves from accusations of being greedy corrupt or bourgeois even as they quietly slip into southern Vietnam's growing middle class But Leshkowich argues that we should not dismiss the traders self disparaging words simply because of their essentialist logic In Ben Thanh market performing certain styles of femininity kinship relations social networks spirituality and class allowed traders to portray themselves as particular kinds of people who had the capacity to act in volatile political and economic circumstances When so much seems to be changing a claim that certain things or people are inherently or naturally a particular way can be both personally meaningful and strategically advantageous Based on ethnographic fieldwork and life history interviewing conducted over nearly two decades Essential Trade explores how women cloth and clothing traders like Ngoc have plied their wares through four decades of political and economic transformation civil war postwar economic restructuring socialist cooperativization and the frenetic competition of market socialism With close attention to daily activities and life narratives this groundbreaking work of critical feminist economic anthropology combines theoretical insight vivid ethnography and moving personal stories to illuminate how the interaction between gender and class has shaped people's lives and created market socialist political economy It provides a compelling account of postwar southern Vietnam as seen through the eyes of the dynamic women who have navigated forty years of profound change while building their businesses in the stalls of Ben Thanh market

Soldered states: nation-building in Germany and Vietnam Claire Sutherland, 2018-04-30 The book examines the power of nationalism to solder nation states back together rather than break them apart In this innovative cross continental comparison of nation building in Germany and Vietnam the focus is on their shared experience of division communism and regional integration offering original insights into how governments go about maintaining nation state legitimacy in the twenty first century Neither German nor Vietnamese governments have succeeded in effacing national division for a host of historical economic psychological sociological and even climatic reasons Yet their efforts tell us a great deal about how national identity is negotiated today The study offers a fresh perspective on nationalist ideology which will be of interest to specialists and students in comparative politics European and Southeast Asian studies as well as nationalism studies For the general reader it provides a fascinating introduction to contemporary nation building in a unique combination of cases across two continents

Vanishing Rice Fields Angelica Laura Lucia Wehrli, 2021 The book delineates how the quest for wealth and belief manifests itself in contemporary Vietnam Based on multi local and longitudinal ethnographic research the author examines how wealth is pursued by household members and entrepreneurs The quest for belief is brought into relief through inquiry into how norms and values have been re evaluated altered subverted or restored Focusing on the taboo topic of female feticide The study elucidates why some parents ultimately decide to commit feticide and why others especially entrepreneurs refrain from it The case of the entrepreneurs shows a possible way out of the vicious circle that leads to female feticide and perpetuates gender inequality communities others explore how rituals as intangible heritage are strategically employed by different groups all over the world to make their claims public and to improve and negotiate their position on a local national or global platform This book recognises ritualised performances as transnational and cross cultural phenomena which are not only tied to and defined via national territories and identities but which also demand new theoretical and methodological approaches towards the discussion of rituals and heritage

Competing for Land, Mangroves and Marine Resources in Coastal Vietnam Hue Le, 2021-08-30 This book presents a historical and ethnographic study of changing mangrove management in northern Vietnam over the past 100 years grounded in a case study in the Red River Delta in northern Vietnam The book shows that three primary socio economic dynamics have affected mangroves enclosure movements that have restricted access by different user communities over time such as the exclusion of women changing valuation of mangroves and their products and services and social and class differentiation caused by privatization of once common resources The result of these pressures have been erosions of norms rules and collective action to protect and nurture mangroves leading to widespread loss of coastal forests Sustainable mangrove management will require attention to these dynamics to address current day land conflicts The book will be of interest to policy makers practitioners and academics and students in forest policy management and governance rural livelihoods and globalization and agrarian change
