Facing Down The Tough Stuff:

Facing Down the Tough Stuff Karen Dockrey, Karen Dockery, 1998 Real kids who have faced down the tough stuff in life and lived to tell about it share their advice and encouragement with their peers      Dealing With The Tough Stuff Darren Hill, Alison Hill, Sean Richardson, 2016-02-01 A practical toolkit for handling workplace conflict and difficult conversations Dealing with the Tough Stuff is the business leader's critical guide to handling difficult conversations in the workplace. Based on the science of human behaviour both verbal and nonverbal, this book is packed full of practical and pragmatic strategies for managing conflict situations. You'll learn a variety of diagnostics, models and processes that you can start using today and you'll benefit from expert tips, tricks and tools for leading important conversations with empathy and assertiveness. This updated second edition includes new material on key conversations with distance workers as well as within the context of a fast growth company and a broad selection of real world case studies from a diverse array of workplaces. Backed by contemporary psychological theory and time tested amongst thousands of leaders, these highly relevant suggestions give you the power to deal with the tough stuff effectively and compassionately. The human element plays a large part in the manager's role yet many lack the training needed to deal with people effectively. This book helps you understand what makes people tick and helps you develop the human skills you need to manage. Achieve clarity and directness in your communications. Deal with anger, stubbornness and defensiveness. Develop the skills to manage immediate crises. Set priorities and build a foundation of strong communication. Avoiding the tough stuff can be extremely costly for managers, staff and the business as a whole. No one enjoys these conversations but they are inevitable and the right set of skills goes a long way toward making them run smoothly with greater results out the other side. Dealing with the Tough Stuff is your indispensable primer on human behaviour and effectively navigating tough conversations at work.

Stinkbug Sinead Stubbins, 2025-05-27 You're a stinkbug and they're worried if they come near you, your stench will get all over them and they won't be able to wash it off. When Edith and a select group of employees at Winked advertising agency are sent to Consequi, an elite three-day work retreat in the remote mountains, she sees an opportunity to impress her bosses and dodge an inevitable restructure. But this is no ordinary corporate retreat. Trapped together in the revamped convent, the threat of mass redundancy looms over them, their phones confiscated and the team-building activities becoming increasingly extreme, the work-family cracks begin to widen and Edith has a secret that threatens to make her the office outcast. The stinkbug. When Edith realises there's something suspicious about Consequi, she's faced with a decision: conform and shut up or accept stinkbug status and find out what's really going on. In this wildly original and deeply unhinged story, Sinead Stubbins turns her keen but empathetic eye on the lies we tell about ourselves in order to belong. Part anxious millennial fever dream, part searing workplace satire, this corporate gothic novel is perfect for fans of Yellowface, Nightbitch and Such a Fun Age.

Journeys in Cancerland John-Peter Bradford, Lisa Newman, 2012-05 Journeys in Cancerland offers two object lessons in patient participation. For a long time patients barely participated in their own care Once diagnosed with a disease like cancer they would enter an all consuming acute care system that took over their lives until they went into remission or died That this is no longer the case is due for the most part to patients and caregivers like John Peter Bradford and Lisa Newman who have begun to take charge of their care Their stories are not merely instructive about cancer they are lessons in how to live with life threatening illness and how to face death John Peter Bradford is CEO of Bradford Bachinski Limited and a member of the Cancer Care Advisory Committee of the Ottawa Regional Cancer Foundation Lisa Newman has over thirty years experience in the Ontario healthcare system as a clinician supervisor and manager Foreword by Sholom Glouberman President of the Patients Association of Canada
