unknown sports images that capture the uncapturable that allow us to experience kinetic beauty and that give us the essence and meaning the transcendent power of sports      Photography Wars Mia Collins, AI, 2025-02-26 Photography Wars explores the dynamic and often contentious history of photography through its most significant rivalries It argues that these conflicts driven by strong personalities and differing artistic visions were crucial in shaping photographic innovation For instance the book delves into the battle between pictorialism which favored artistic manipulation and straight photography which championed unvarnished realism illustrating how differing ideologies fueled creativity Another key area of exploration is the tension between documentary and staged photography sparking debates about truth and ethics in the medium The book examines these photographic rivalries within their socio cultural contexts highlighting the impact of technological advancements and evolving social attitudes By examining figures such as Alfred Stieglitz Henri Cartier Bresson and Cindy Sherman Photography Wars reveals how personal and professional conflicts influenced the evolution of photographic styles The book progresses from introducing core concepts to analyzing specific rivalries and their modern day relevance offering a unique lens through which to understand photography s past and present      The Rotarian ,1961-02 Established in 1911 The Rotarian is the official magazine of Rotary International and is circulated worldwide Each issue contains feature articles columns and departments about or of interest to Rotarians Seventeen Nobel Prize winners and 19 Pulitzer Prize winners from Mahatma Ghandi to Kurt Vonnegut Jr have written for the magazine      Forthcoming Books Rose Army, 2002-02

Illuminations Liz Heron, Val Williams, 2021-04-26 This selection of women s writings on photography proposes a new and different history demonstrating the ways in which women s perspectives have advanced photographic criticism over 150 years focusing it more deeply and with the advent of feminist approaches increasingly challenging its orthodoxies Included in the book are Rosalind Krauss Ingrid Sischy Vicki Goldberg and Carol Squiers      The Photography of Crisis Daniel H. Zylinska offers a new philosophy of photography going beyond the human centric view to consider imaging practices from which the human is absent Zylinska argues further that even those images produced by humans whether artists or amateurs entail a nonhuman mechanical element that is they involve the execution of technical and cultural algorithms that shape our image making devices as well as our viewing practices At the same time she notes photography is increasingly mobilized to document the precariousness of the human habitat and tasked with helping us imagine a better tomorrow With its conjoined human nonhuman agency and vision Zylinska claims photography functions as both a form of control and a life shaping force Zylinska explores the potential of photography for developing new modes of seeing and imagining and presents images from her own photographic project Active Perceptual Systems She also examines the challenges posed by digitization to established notions of art culture and the media In connecting biological extinction and technical obsolescence and discussing the parallels between photography and fossilization she proposes to understand photography as a light induced process of fossilization across media and across time scales
