Faith Hope And Decisionmaking The Kingdom Of God And Social Policy:

Faith, Hope and Decision-making Harold Tonks, 1984 Born in 1910 into an industrial environment in northern Switzerland Arthur Rich's spiritual and intellectual wrestlings were how the Christian Gospel could embrace the real world of industry and work This book tells how he worked out this Gospel and gave it a shakingly honest intellectual expression that the non theologian could equally well discuss What he says could be sharply illuminating in the setting of British culture and religion For this reason his method especially the idea that New Testament agape love is a secular decision making agent is tested out on the issues of work and worklessness thrown up for Christians and non Christians in today's British society

Theology and Economic Ethics Sean Doherty, 2014-03 In the wake of the economic crisis few questions are more pressing than those around the ethics of finance and economics Theology and Economic Ethics expands the self critical resources of contemporary theological economic ethics by bringing the method of a pre modern thinker Martin Luther 1483 1546 into interaction with that of a modern contribution to social ethics the Swiss theologian Arthur Rich 1910 92 The work is undertaken through a close engagement with a selected publication of Luther his 1519 20 Grosser Sermon von dem Wucher and of Rich his masterwork Wirtschaftsethik published in two volumes in 1984 and 1990 respectively It is the first substantial treatment in English of Rich's magnum opus Sean Doherty introduces Luther's sermon on usury situates it in its context then provides a commentary on this work discussing how Luther brings key theological motifs to bear on a particular economic question The study proceeds with a sketch of Arthur Rich's life and work and presents Rich's method as set out in Wirtschaftsethik Doherty illuminates Rich's understanding of ethics his approach to Scripture and his adoption of the thought of Max Weber and John Rawls Bringing insights from the study of Luther to bear in an analysis of Rich's method Doherty questions some of Rich's assumptions and notes ways in which a more self critical approach could have made his project more successful Finally the book makes tentative suggestions as to the wider applicability of these findings for a Christian approach to economic ethics

Celluloid Saviours Emily Caston, 2020-05-22 In Celluloid Saviours the author analyses a corpus of US films dating from the silent era that she calls film blanc In these fantasy films a guardian spirit with extraordinary powers suspends the ordinary known laws of time and space and a main character reforms himself or herself in life changing ways The author argues that the historical pattern of film blanc relates to the rise and fall of liberal and reform thought in US politics specifically to conceptions of human nature as a tabula rasa This conception is evident both in the early feature films featuring angels such as Chaplin's The Kid and much later examples such as the 1980s box office hit Trading Places She argues that this narrative tradition runs from Hollywood's beginnings to the present day and is foreshadowed in the English ghost stories of Charles Dickens The classic era of film blanc is epitomised in the enduringly popular film It's a Wonderful Life More recent examples of narrative form analysed by Caston include The Truman Show and Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind

Jesus Imandars and Christ Bhaktas Jonas Adelin Jørgensen, 2008 The massive changes of Christianity during the 20th century raise the perennial question about its identity in a new radical form. The author addresses the question of identity and asks how globalisation, religious pluralism and the polycentric nature of Christianity affect Christian self-identification and theological reflection. First, religious life and theological reflection among believers in Jesus from Muslim and Hindu background in South Asia is presented in two empirical studies. Secondly, the findings are analysed and interpreted within a broad theoretical framework drawing on models for syncretistic processes from history of religions, cultural anthropology and Christian theology. Finally, the study concludes with a systematic theological perspective on the interreligious hermeneutics underlying the changes of Christianity and discusses how interreligious hermeneutics might inform missiology as well as Christian theologies of religions and how this might challenge our understanding of the church's nature and mission. In conclusion, it is argued that a global polycentric Christianity can be interpreted as fellowship created by the Spirit and centred on Christ.

Theology Out of Place Lynne Price, 2002-10-15. As a theological biography of Professor Walter J. Hollenweger, this book surveys his extensive interests, varied methods and wide-ranging reflection. But Price also incorporates an enquiry into the nature and function of western academic theology relating to Christian practice today. Hollenweger's research into Pentecostalism, Ecumenism and Intercultural Theology is here brought together in a synthetic overview. Issues such as the unity and diversity of the Bible and its interpretations, the particular and universal dimensions of worldwide Christianity and relations between Christians and between Christians and the others are all exploited in order to stimulate fresh thinking on the mission of the churches.

Sino-Christian Theology Pan-Chiu Lai, 2010. Sino-Christian theology usually refers to an intellectual movement emerged in Mainland China since the late 1980s. The present volume aims to provide a self-explaining sketch of the historical development of this theological as well as cultural movement. In addition to the analyses on the theoretical issues involved and the articulations of the prospect, concrete examples are also offered to illustrate the characteristics of the movement.

From Migrants to Missionaries Benjamin Simon, 2010. The denominational plurality in continental Europe keeps growing. The churches of African origin are of increasing number. Seeking for a new identity in their new home, the concept of Diaspora and the question for legal issues get important for their identity. To what extent is their identity determined rather by seclusion or openness? Are the churches missionizing amongst Germans and are there ecumenical relations? What are the characteristics of such a new identity? How does it develop? By analyzing three different types of churches of African origin in the German context, especially by examining their sermons, the author demonstrates how those churches develop in a missionary direction and how they can become ecumenical partners.

Intercultural Perceptions and Prospects of World Christianity Richard Friedli, Jan A. B. Jongeneel, Klaus Koschorke, 2010. Business and Economic Ethics Arthur Rich, 2006 This book is a fundamental and unique masterpiece which reflects the discussions on business and economic ethics over decades in German speaking countries and does so by systematically developing an Ethics of Economic Systems from a Christian theological perspective with a firm foundation in the western philosophical and economic literature Neither in German speaking nor English speaking regions has this complex theme been dealt with in such a comprehensive and thorough manner Ethics is a matter of doing justice to the human without twisting the facts and ignoring the constraints The study introduces seven criteria of human justice that fundamentally relate to the Christian revelation and at the same time establish a humanistic and universal approach Subsequently it focuses on the concrete economic systems and their problems It describes and analyses various models of market and centrally planned economies and evaluates them in the light of middle level principles which are informed by both ethical criteria and economic knowledge Thus the most legitimate economic system is the one which offers the most potential for reforms and self critique The merits of this approach are considerable if the system of the market economy has the advantage of being thoroughly reformable it also requires regulations which are equitable and responsible In this view one better understands the inescapable failure of Marxism but also the ethical ramifications of savage deregulations Arthur Rich 1910 1992 was Professor of Systematic Theology and Director of the Institute of Social Ethics at the University of Zurich Switzerland He worked in the field of business and economic ethics for nearly 40 years Georges Enderle is Arthur and Mary O Neil Professor of International Business Ethics at the Mendoza College of Business University of Notre Dame Indiana USA and President of the International Society of Business Economics and Ethics 2001 2004 which organizes the ISBEE World Congress of Business and Economic Ethics every four years
