Faith Myth And Reason In Han China:

Faith, Myth, and Reason in Han China Michael Loewe, 2005-01-01 In his classic study of the cultural history of Han China Michael Loewe uses both archaeological discoveries and written records to sketch the conceptual background of various artifacts of the Han period and shows how ancient Chinese thought is as much informed by mythology as it is dependent on reason Originally published as Chinese Ideas of Life and Death Faith Myth and Reason in the Han Period 202 BC AD 220 this edition includes a new Preface that discusses relevant discoveries made since the first publication and an updated list of other works on relevant topics

Chinese Ideas of Life and Death Michael Loewe, 2018-09-03 Many of the basic characteristics of Imperial China took shape during the Han period 202 BC AD 220 This book first published in 1982 is a key contribution to our understanding of China's cultural history It explains the conceptual background of many of the artefacts of China's past and calls on the written word of the philosopher poet and historian and on cultural treasures revealed by archaeologists

Divination, Mythology and Monarchy in Han China Michael Loewe, 1994-09-15 Chinese empires were established by force of arms but sustained by religious rites and intellectual theory The four centuries from 206 BC to AD 220 witnessed major changes in the state cults and the concepts of monarchy while various techniques of divination were used to forecast the future or to solve immediate problems Michael Loewe examines these changes and the links between religion and statecraft While both mythology and the traditions nurtured by the learned affected the concept and practice of monarchy throughout the period the political and social weaknesses of the last century of Han rule bring into question the success that was achieved by the imperial ideal Nevertheless that ideal and its institutions were of prime importance for the understanding of Han times and for the influence they exercised on China's later dynasties

The Cambridge History of China: Volume 1, The Ch'in and Han Empires, 221 BC-AD 220 Denis Crispin Twitchett, John King Fairbank, 1978 The Cambridge history of China general editors Denis Twitchett v 13

Divination and Prediction in Early China and Ancient Greece Lisa Raphals, 2013-10-17 Divination was an important and distinctive aspect of religion in both ancient China and ancient Greece and this book will provide the first systematic account and analysis of the two side by side Who practised divination in these cultures and who consulted it What kind of questions did they ask and what methods were used to answer those questions As well as these practical aspects Lisa Raphals also examines divination as a subject of rhetorical and political narratives and its role in the development of systematic philosophical and scientific inquiry She explores too the important similarities differences and synergies between Greek and Chinese divinatory systems providing important comparative evidence to reassess Greek oracular divination

Everyday Life in Early Imperial China During the Han Period, 202 BC-AD 220 Michael Loewe, 2005-01-01 Considers the important aspects of life during the Han period when the foundations were laid for the chief political economic cultural and social structures that would characterise imperial China

Bing: From Farmer's Son to Magistrate in Han China Michael Loewe, 2011-09-15 Much is known of life during the Han Empire but the historical evidence remains fragmentary and nowhere do we find a continuous account of the life of any one individual In this engaging volume Michael Loewe mines the written and material records to depict the imagined life of an ordinary person Bing Wu from the hardships of his earliest years on a rural farm to his retirement from a respected position in government service Underlying the tale of Bing is a richly detailed portrait of life during the Han the arduous tasks of the conscript laborer military service on the defense lines of the north the travels of a merchant the grueling conditions in an iron foundry the construction of tombs preparations for entering the civil service the duties of a junior clerk and the governing of a commandery Along the way we are introduced to the operation of a crossbow methods of telling time the practice of writing the rituals of divination the ceremony of a state occasion laws and the harsh consequences of breaking them the workings of the central government and much more Included are a concise introduction explanatory endnotes to each chapter a selection of illustrations a map of the Han Empire notes for further reading and an essay by Loewe entitled A Brief History of the Han Empire Transcendence and Non-Naturalism in Early Chinese Thought Alexis McLeod, Joshua R. Brown, 2020-09-03 Contemporary scholars of Chinese philosophy often presuppose that early China possessed a naturalistic worldview devoid of any non natural concepts such as transcendence Challenging this presupposition head on Joshua R Brown and Alexis McLeod argue that non naturalism and transcendence have a robust and significant place in early Chinese thought This book reveals that non naturalist positions can be found in early Chinese texts in topics including conceptions of the divine cosmogony and apophatic philosophy Moreover by closely examining a range of early Chinese texts and providing comparative readings of a number of Western texts and thinkers the book offers a way of reading early Chinese Philosophy as consistent with the religious philosophy of the East and West including the Abrahamic and the Brahmanistic religions Co written by a philosopher and theologian this book draws out unique insights into early Chinese thought highlighting in particular new ways to consider a range of Chinese concepts including tian dao li and you wu Philosophy of the Ancient Maya Alexis McLeod, 2017-12-26 This book investigates some of the central topics of metaphysics in the philosophical thought of the Maya people of Mesoamerica particularly from the Preclassic through Postclassic periods This book covers the topics of time change identity and truth through comparative investigation integrating Maya texts and practices such as Classic Period stelae Postclassic Codices and Colonial era texts such as the Popol Vuh and the books of Chilam Balam and early Chinese philosophy Considering the End: Mortality in Early Medieval Chinese Poetic Representation Timothy Wai Keung Chan, 2012-05-11 This book focuses on the representation of human mortality in medieval Chinese literature This theme is observed and reconstructed through analysis of the work of eminent writers of the period texts that have never been examined from an eschatological perspective Mirror of Morality Julia K. Murray, 2007-01-31 Mirror of Morality takes an interdisciplinary look at an important form of pictorial art produced during two millennia of Chinese imperial rule Ideas about individual morality and state ideology were based on the ancient teachings of Confucius with modifications by later interpreters and government institutions Throughout the imperial period members of the elite made sponsored and inscribed or used illustrations of themes taken from history literature and recent events to promote desired conduct among various social groups This dimension of Chinese art history has never before been broadly covered or investigated in historical context The first half of the study examines the nature of narrative illustration in China and traces the evolution of its functions conventions and rhetorical strategies from the second century BCE through the eleventh century Under the stimulus of Buddhism sophisticated techniques developed for representing stories in visual form While tracing changes in the social functions and cultural positions of narrative illustration the second half of the book argues that narrative illustration continued to play a vital role in elite visual culture

Balthasar in Light of Early Confucianism Joshua R. Brown, 2020-04-30 In this original study Joshua Brown seeks to demonstrate the fruitfulness of Chinese philosophy for Christian theology by using Confucianism to reread reassess and ultimately expand the Christology of the twentieth century Catholic theologian Hans Urs von Balthasar Taking up the critically important Confucian idea of xiao filial piety Brown argues that this concept can be used to engage anew Balthasar's treatment of the doctrine of Christ's filial obedience thus leading us to new Christological insights To this end Brown first offers in depth studies of the early Confucian idea of xiao and of Balthasar's Christology on their own terms and in their own contexts He then proposes that Confucianism affirms certain aspects of Balthasar's insights into Christ's filial obedience Brown also shows how the Confucian understanding of xiao provides reasons to criticize some of Balthasar's controversial claims such as his account of intra Trinitarian obedience Ultimately by rereading Balthasar's Christology through the lens of xiao Balthasar in Light of Early Confucianism employs Confucian and Balthasarian resources to push the Christological conversation forward Students and scholars of systematic theology theologically educated readers interested in the encounter between Christianity and Chinese culture and comparative theologians will all want to read this exceptional book

Aquinas and the Early Chinese Masters Joshua R. Brown, 2024 Aquinas and the Early Chinese Masters lays intellectual foundations for the integration of Chinese philosophy into Catholic theology Although Catholic theology in Chinese contexts has drawn upon Chinese philosophical concepts few have attempted to develop a rigorous systematic approach to testing what in the Chinese philosophical traditions can be fruitful or unfruitful for Catholic theological expression This book attempts to model such an approach by engaging classical Chinese philosophy with the mind and spirit of St Thomas Aquinas who read Aristotle and other pagan philosophers with both charitable appreciation and a firm critical eye It applies this Thomistic lens through concrete comparative engagements with three main representatives of early Chinese philosophy Mencius Mengzi Xunzi and Mozi In each chapter the book presents Aquinas' thought as an evaluative frame for perceiving how Chinese philosophical commitments and concepts do or do not seem fit for adoption into Catholic theological science Following the general structure of the Summa theologiae the book is comprised of six chapters touching on the doctrine of God morality and Christology The first two chapters engage Confucian master Mengzi's notion of Heaven Tian and then the Mohist doctrine of Heaven's Will Tian zhi Chapter three provides a Thomistic assessment of the two main positions in the classical Confucian debate on the goodness of man's moral nature renxing Chapter four compares Aquinas account of charity and Mozi's doctrine of universal love jian ai Chapter 5 offers a Thomistic assessment of the possibility of understanding Christ in terms of Xunzi's sage shengren Finally Chapter 6 explores Christ as a moral teacher by putting Aquinas reading of Matt 8:21-22 into conversation with Confucian ethics of filial virtue

Body Talk in the Medical Humanities Jennifer Patterson, Francia Kinchington, 2019-10-28 This exciting book draws on the insight and experience of 21 medical practitioners and researchers in the wider field of the medical humanities to ask fundamental questions related to illness bodily experience the experience and role of medical and healthcare professionals and the contribution of language and communication to enable understanding It opens up a range of conversations reflections and research to present an innovative approach to the field of body studies investigating complex questions that are associated with self and body and medical and healthcare professionals who work with bodies that are ill Areas of pain disability vulnerability life experienced through chronic conditions and the insights of listening to the ill and the dying are examined within the individual contributions The chapters explore a range of key spaces gaps and tensions between talk and bodies from embodied experiences and patient doctor relationships to negotiating institutional constraints and reading looking and enacting as methods of improving intersubjective relational and ethical practices

The West As the Other Wang Mingming, 2014-01-14 Long before the Europeans reached the East the ancient Chinese had elaborate and meaningful perspectives of the West In this groundbreaking book Wang explores their view of the West as other by locating it in the classical and imperial China leading the reader through the history of Chinese geocosmologies and worldscapes Wang also delves into the historical records of Chinese world activities journeys that began from the Central Kingdom and reached towards the outer regions Such analysis helps distinguish illusory geographies from realistic ones while drawing attention to their interconnected natures Wang challenges an extensive number of critical studies of Orientalist narratives including Edward Said's Orientalism and reframes such studies from the directionological perspectives of an oriental civilization Most significantly the author offers a fundamental reimagining of the standard concept of the other with critical implications not only for anthropology but for philosophy literature history and other interrelated disciplines as well

Genghis Khan and Mongol Rule George Lane, 2009-01-01 Spawning an empire ranging from Persia to China Genghis Khan united a nomadic warrior culture that had lived with their agrarian neighbors through controlled and limited extortion This accessible book provides an introduction to the history and culture of the Steppe people from which Genghis Khan emerged and chronicles the events that led to his being named the Great Khan Also included are sixteen biographical sketches a wealth of annotated primary documents five maps an annotated timeline a glossary an annotated bibliography and several illustrations

Chinese Annals in the Western Observatory Edward Shaughnessy, 2019-11-18 Since the beginning of the twentieth century hundreds of thousands of documents of all sorts have been unearthed in China opening whole new fields of study and transforming our modern understanding of ancient China While these discoveries have necessarily taken place in China Western scholars have also contributed to the study of these documents throughout this entire period This book provides a comprehensive survey of the contributions of these Western scholars to the field of Chinese paleography and especially to study of oracle bone inscriptions bronze and stone inscriptions and manuscripts written on bamboo and silk Each of these topics is provided with a comprehensive narrative history of studies by Western scholars as well as an exhaustive bibliography and biographies of important scholars in the field It is also supplied with a list of Chinese translations of these studies as well as a complete index of authors and their works Whether the reader is interested in the history of ancient China ancient Chinese paleographic documents or just in the history of the study of China as it has developed in the West this book provides one of the most complete accounts available to date

The Songs of Chu Yuan Qu, 2017-07-18 Sources show Qu Yuan 340 278 BCE was the first person in China to become famous for his poetry so famous in fact that the Chinese celebrate his life with a national holiday called Poet s Day or the Dragon Boat Festival His work which forms the core of the The Songs of Chu the second oldest anthology of Chinese poetry derives its imagery from shamanistic ritual Its shaman hymns are among the most beautiful and mysterious liturgical works in the world The religious milieu responsible for their imagery supplies the backdrop for his most famous work Li sao which translates shamanic longing for a spirit lover into the yearning for an ideal king that is central to the ancient philosophies of China Qu Yuan was as important to the development of Chinese literature as Homer was to the development of Western literature This translation attempts to replicate what the work might have meant to those for whom it was originally intended rather than settle for what it was made to mean by those who inherited it It accounts for the new view of the state of Chu that recent discoveries have inspired
