Librarians Affirmative Action Handbook:

Librarians' Affirmative Action Handbook John Frederick Harvey, Elizabeth M. Dickinson, 1983 Affirmative Action Policies and Practices in ARL Libraries, 1990 Handbook of Black Librarianship Andrew P. Jackson, Marva L. DeLoach, Michele Fenton, 2024-12-15

As Dr Josey and Ms DeLoach wrote in their Introduction to the second edition of The Handbook of Black Librarianship In designing the second edition of The Handbook of Black Librarianship the editors felt that this work should be a reference tool related to the various aspects of African Americans in librarianship and their work in libraries That first edition covered issues faced by black library professionals in the various fields of librarianship organizations formed black library collections and books resources and other areas of progress The second edition published twenty three years later highlighted more current events in Black librarianship early and contemporary library organizations vital issues African American resources discussions on and about librarianship a focus on health librarianship and information resources and education It has now been another twenty two years since the last edition and time to reflect on various aspects of African Americans in our profession as well as the advancements over the past two and a half decades and to review those issues African Americans still face and how modern technological advancements have impacted our profession and the lives of Black librarians This third edition's coverage includes Pioneers and Landmark Episodes A Chronology of Events in Black Librarianship African American Forerunners in Librarianship Modern Day Black Library Organizations Vital Issues in Black Librarianship Library Service to Our Communities Library Technology and Black Librarianship Pearls from Our Retirees Issues in Diversity Inclusion and Multiculturalism African Library Resources and Education Banned Books and Significant Books and Periodicals for Black Collections E. J. Josey Renate L. Chancellor, 2020-02-07

This work provides a comprehensive examination of the life and professional career of E J Josey within the broader historical and political landscape of the civil rights movement In the era of Jim Crow Josey rose to prominence in the library profession by challenging the American Library Association ALA to live up to its creed of equality for all This was not easy during the 1950s and 1960s during segregation Using interviews with Josey and his contemporaries as well as several archival sources library educator Renate Chancellor analyzes Josey's leadership particularly within modern day racial currents During his professional career spanning over fifty years 1952-2002 Josey worked as a librarian 1953-1966 an administrator of library services 1966-1986 and as a professor of library science 1986-1995 He also served as President of the American Library Association and perhaps his most notable achievement he successfully drafted a resolution that prevented state library associations from discriminating against African American librarians This essentially ended segregation in the ALA Josey's transformative leadership provides a model to tackle today's civil rights challenges both in and outside the library profession This authoritative work copublished by the Association for Library and Information Science Education ALISE documents for the historical record a significant period of history that is underexplored in the scholarly literature The target audience for this book are researchers historians LIS educators and students interested in understanding the complex struggle for civil and human rights in professional organizations Affirmative Action A. Babkina,2004 This guide to the literature presents 451 descriptions of books reports and articles dealing with all aspects of affirmative action including Race relations Economic aspects Reverse discrimination Preferences Affirmative Action programs Public opinion Court decisions Education and many more Complete author and subject indexes are provided

Diversity in Libraries Raquel V. Cogell,Cindy A. Gruwell,2001-09-30 Since the mid 1980s academic libraries have established minority residency programs in an effort to increase the representation of librarians of color in their institutions Now more than a decade later these programs continue to be developed Essays written by librarians of color who participated in residency programs and administrators whose institutions made the programs possible remind us of the continuing need for diversity in academic libraries 1979-1990 Henryk Sawoniak,2012-02-14 No detailed description available for 1979 1990 Librarians' Agreements John W. Weatherford,1988-08 offers the insights of someone who has labored at the negotiating table It is an excellent selection for almost any library JOURNAL OF ACADEMIC LIBRARIANSHIP

Ambition, Discrimination, and Censorship in Libraries Jefferson P. Selth,1993 Mr Selth began with an interesting discovery librarianship seems to have fostered a gender based personnel pattern that is very different from the rest of society Women librarians were ambitiously seeking library management positions while most of their male counterparts were not His observations led to a broad demographic survey of the profession fully exploring the question of gender and ambition These eight essays are based on this wide ranging survey and his personal observations after 30 years in the profession The survey results show what kinds of librarians are eager to climb the managerial ladder and why Important and surprising facts are revealed about the barriers that still impede many librarians ranging from race and gender through obesity to family Included are the author s experiences in the fight against censorship the development of book and film collections and attending conferences on a shoestring budget Affirmative Action Programs Association of Research Libraries. Systems and Procedures Exchange Center,1980 Austerity Management in Academic Libraries John Frederick Harvey,Peter Spyers-Duran,1984 To find more information about Rowman and Littlefield titles please visit www rowmanlittlefield com

Librarianship and Human Rights Toni Samek,2014-07-21 In this book the reader will encounter a myriad of urgent library and information voices reflecting contemporary local national and transnational calls to action on conflicts generated by failures to acknowledge human rights by struggles for recognition and representation by social exclusion and the library institution s role therein These voices infuse library and information work worldwide into social movements and the global discourse of human rights they depict library and information workers as political actors they offer some new possibilities for strategies of resistance and they challenge networks of control This book s approach to library and information work is grounded in practical critical and emancipatory terms social action is a central pattern This book is conceived as a direct challenge to the notion of library neutrality especially in the present context of war revolution and social change This book for example locates library and information workers as participants and interventionists in social conflicts The strategies for social action worldwide documented in this book were selected because of their connection to elements of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights 1948 that relate particularly to core library values information ethics and global information justice The first monograph of its kind Locates librarianship front and centre in knowledge societies Mainstreams critical librarianship Public Libraries ,1993 Wilson Library Bulletin ,1922 Handbook of Standard Terminology for Reporting and Recording Information about Libraries National Center for Higher Education Management Systems,1979
