Economic Assessment Of Election Programmes Does It Make Sense:

Economic Assessment of Election Programmes Johan J. Graafland, Arie P. Ros, 2012-12-06 In the Netherlands the election programmes of the political parties are assessed for their economic impact by an independent economic bureau The result of this analysis is published just before the elections take place In this way the voter will be protected against political parties that try to win the elections by making popular but unfounded financial promises Economic Assessment of Election Programmes contains contributions of several distinguished economists and philosophers who consider the gains of this procedure to society Does the analysis by the Netherlands Bureau for Economic Policy Analysis CPB raise the democratic quality of the elections Can we really be confident in the tools of economics The last section of this volume states the opinion of representatives of the political parties This part also clarifies why political parties voluntarily participate in this process and how they perceive the role division between the political party and CPB

International and Interdisciplinary Insights into Evidence and Policy Linda Hantrais, Ashley Lenihan, Susanne Macgregor, 2018-02-05 Contributors to this highly original book address the many questions raised by researchers and policymakers about the complex and often uneasy relationship between evidence and policy from an international and interdisciplinary perspective They explore both the institutions acting as evidence brokers and the different methods used to collect assess and use evidence in a variety of national and international settings by drawing on their experience of working in international contexts and in different disciplinary and policy environments and in some cases analysing their own involvement in the evidence based policy process The policy areas covered range from national and state level economic and social policies more generally to specific areas of intervention such as EU bio fuels targets the Active Ageing Index mental health and media the construction of second language learning policies microfinance and alcohol policy The authors highlight the strengths and weaknesses the use and abuse or successes and failures of different institutional and methodological approaches to evidence based policy They consider what elements of the lessons learned might be transferable across national and cultural boundaries and if so under what conditions This book was originally published as a special issue of Contemporary Social Science
