Everyday Ecofascism Alexander Menrisky, 2025-05-06 A timely look into how fascist ideas permeate contemporary culture well beyond the far right As challenges posed by climate change have intensified in the twenty first century right wing figures in the United States and abroad have increasingly framed anti immigrant anti Indigenous and white supremacist sentiments in terms of environmental survival Everyday Ecofascism explores the insidious nature of this tendency revealing how permutations of these perspectives in fact resonate across the political spectrum Drawing on comparative studies of fascism writ large Alexander Menrisky demonstrates that ecofascism is best understood not as a uniquely right wing ideology but as a political genre that reinforces white supremacy and other forms of domination Presenting a view of fascism as a complex power network that plays out on scales both large and small Menrisky shows how extremist sentiments have crept into everyday language stories and ideas Through a literary and cultural studies lens he illuminates ecofascism's narrative patterns and their easy permeation of environmentalist discourses from back to the land movements to the resurgence of psychedelic drugs food localism and pandemic politics Opposite his analysis of ecofascism in action Menrisky sheds important light on narrative resistances to dominant conceptions of race nation and territory by Native queer and women of color writers who have countered ethnonationalism for generations Bridging past and present Menrisky powerfully nails down the emergent concept of ecofascism and forms a basis for understanding phenomena like Covid 19 ecological utopianism and psychedelic environmentalism that detangles ecofascist tendencies from justice oriented visions of place based belonging Retail e book files for this title are screen reader friendly

Bioregionalism Michael Vincent McGinnis, 2005-07-28 Bioregionalism is the first book to explain the theoretical and practical dimensions of bioregionalism from an interdisciplinary standpoint focusing on the place of bioregional identity within global politics Leading contributors from a broad range of disciplines introduce this exciting new concept as a framework for thinking about indigenous peoples local knowledge globalization science global environmental issues modern society conservation history education and restoration Bioregionalism's emphasis on place and community radically changes the way we confront human and ecological issues

Bringing the Nation Back In Mark Luccarelli, Rosario Forlenza, Steven Colatrella, 2020-03-01 Bringing the Nation Back In takes as its starting point a series of developments that shaped politics in the United States and Europe over the past thirty years the end of the Cold War the rise of financial and economic globalization the creation of the European Union and the development of the postnational This book contends we are now witnessing a break with the post 1945 world order and with modern politics Two competing ideas have arisen global cosmopolitanism and populist nationalism

Contributors argue this polarization of social ethos between cosmopolitanism and nationalism is a sign of a deeper political crisis which they explore from different perspectives Rather than taking sides the aim is to diagnose the origins of the current impasse and to bring the nation back in by expanding what we mean by nation and national identity and by respecting the localizing processes that have led to national traditions and struggles The Dictionary of Alternatives Doctor Martin Parker, Valerie Fournier, Patrick Reedy, 2013-07-18 There is no alternative to free market liberalism and managerialism is the orthodoxy of the twenty first century All too often ordinary people across the world are being told that the problem of organization is already solved or that it is being solved somewhere else or that it need not concern them because they have no choices This dictionary provides those who disagree with the evidence Using hundreds of entries and cross references it proves that there are many alternatives to the way that we currently organize ourselves These alternatives could be expressed as fictional utopias they could be excavated from the past or they could be described in terms of the contemporary politics of anti corporate protest environmentalism feminism and localism Part reference work part source book and part polemic this dictionary provides a rich understanding of the ways in which fiction history and today's politics provide different ways of thinking about how we can and should organize for the coming century Ethical Futures and Global Science Fiction Zachary Kendal, Aisling Smith, Giulia Champion, Andrew Milner, 2020-01-27 Ethical Futures and Global Science Fiction explores the ethical concerns and dimensions of representations of the future of global science fiction focusing on the issues that dominate utopian dystopian and science fiction literature The essays examine recent visions of the future in science fiction and re examine earlier texts through contemporary lenses Across fourteen chapters the collection considers authors from Algeria Australia Canada China Egypt France Germany Haiti India Jamaica Macedonia Mexico Russia South Africa the UK and USA The volume delves into a range of ethical questions of immediate contemporary relevance including environmental ethics postcolonial ethics social justice animal ethics and the ethics of alterity Persuasive Aesthetic Ecocritical Praxis Patrick D. Murphy, 2015-08-20 Persuasive Aesthetic Ecocritical Praxis continues Patrick D Murphy's focus on transversal ecocritical praxis by considering literature and cinema in terms of the persuasive force of aesthetic activity and whether or not artistic production and its criticism can be considered forms of activism Murphy argues that literature and other forms of aesthetic production hold out the promise of being able to move some individuals deeply through both affective and intellectual engagement in ways that facilitate ideological reflection To analyze aesthetic production ecocritically requires a transversal orientation in order to work continuously at accommodating a vast array of often seemingly disparate perspectives disciplines and contextual information as well as the ever changing thematic plot setting and contextual elements of the aesthetic works under consideration and the responses of changing audiences through time and across cultures Murphy demonstrates this approach through presenting theories of transversality and applying them with attention to issues of propaganda agitation and persuasion both in terms of artistic production and the criticism of such production He also brings an ecofeminist orientation to the fore with particular attention to the gendered economic aspects of environmental issues in an age of land grabs and plantation economies Along the way he treats a wide range of literary works films and miniseries In American literature he discusses realist and science fiction works from Susan Fenimore Cooper s Rural Hours to Paolo Bacigalupi s The Windup Girl Barbara Kingsolver s Flight Behavior to Kim Stanley Robinson s 2312 and Ana Castillo s So Far from God to Leslie Marmon Silko s Gardens in the Dunes In international literature he analyzes Mo Yan s The Garlic Ballads Jiang Rong s Wolf Totem Michiko Ishimure s The Lake of Heaven Miyuki Miyabe s All She Was Worth and other novels The book concludes with a reading of Ernest Callenbach s Ecotopia and Ecotopia Emerging an Afterword recommending further directions for transversal ecocritical research an and interview that discusses Murphy s previous book Transversal Ecocritical Praxis and provides some personal background on the author

Climate Change, Literature, and Environmental Justice Janet Fiskio, 2021-04-22 This book shows how the discourse of climate change emerges within histories of colonization enslavement and revolution By placing climate change within the longer histories of enslavement and settler colonialism Janet Fiskio reveals the connections between climate change activism and enslavement genocide imperialism white supremacy incarceration Organized around three themes speculative pasts and futures practices of dissent mourning and repair and everyday inhabitation and social care Climate Change Literature and Environmental Justice shows the ways that frontline communities resist environmental racism and protect and repair the world It provides analysis of expressive cultures including literature dance protest movements oral history and cooking utilizing decolonial and reparative theories It offers readings of key figures such as Octavia Butler Louise Erdrich Winona LaDuke Mark Nowak Simon Ortiz Jesmyn Ward and Colson Whitehead

Survival Retreats Dave Black, 2018-03-06 Normally retreats are built to blend in to their surroundings for the sake of secrecy and are built by those who don t want others to know anything about their retreat Dave Black explores these places and gets to go where most people never go through the chain link fence past the guard dog and into the rarely seen survival retreat You will learn how to Protect and defend your retreat Build in the right location Live safely in your retreat Harvest food and water Plan the perfect survival strategy Dave Black goes into detail to teach you everything you ever needed to know about survival retreats Not only will you learn how to protect them but you will learn how and where to build them and most importantly what to do after you ve fortified There s a lot to know and with this book you ll be prepared for the inevitable apocalypse

Modern/Postmodern Peter V. Zima, 2010-08-05 Modern Postmodern Society Philosophy Literature offers new definitions of modernism and postmodernism by presenting an original theoretical system of thought that explains the differences between these two key movements Taking a contrastive approach Peter V Zima identifies three key concepts in the relationship between modernism and postmodernism ambiguity ambivalence and indifference Zima defines modernism and postmodernism as problematics as opposed to aesthetics stylistics or ideologies Unlike modernism which is grounded in an increasing ambivalence towards social norms and values postmodernity is presented as an era of indifference i.e. of interchangeable norms values and perspectives Taking an historical interdisciplinary and intercultural approach that engages with Anglo American and European debates the book describes the transition from late modernist ambivalence to postmodern indifference in the contexts of philosophy literature and sociology This is the ideal guide to the relationship between modernism and postmodernism for students and scholars throughout the humanities

Modern Environmentalism David Pepper, 1996 An introduction to the history of ideas about nature and environment and how these ideas relate to modern environmental ideologies

Imagined Frontiers Carl Abbott, 2015-09-10 We live near the edge whether in a settlement at the core of the Rockies a gated community tucked into the wilds of the Santa Monica Mountains a silicon culture emerging in the suburbs or in the future homesteading on a terraformed Mars In Imagined Frontiers urban historian and popular culture scholar Carl Abbott looks at the work of American artists who have used novels film television maps and occasionally even performance art to explore these frontiers the metropolitan frontier of suburban development the classic continental frontier of American settlement and the yet unrealized frontiers beyond Earth Focusing on writers and artists working during the past half century an era of global economic and social reach Abbott describes the dialogue between historians and social scientists seeking to understand these frontier places and the artists reimagining them in written and visual fictions This book offers perspectives on such well known authors as T.C. Boyle and John Updike and on such familiar movies and television shows as Falling Down and The Sopranos By putting The Rockford Files and the cult favorite Firefly in conversation with popular fiction writers Robert Heinlein and Stephen King and literary novelists Peter Matthiessen and Leslie Marmon Silko Abbott interweaves the disparate subjects of western history urban planning and science fiction in a single volume Abbott combines all new essays with others previously published but substantially revised to integrate western and urban history literary analysis and American studies scholarship in a uniquely compelling analysis of the frontier in popular culture
