West European Immigration and Immigrant Policy in the New Century Anthony M. Messina, 2002-06-30 Few if any phenomena affecting Western Europe as a whole since 1945 have been more far reaching in their immediate effects or more potentially destabilizing to politics and society over the long term than the accumulative experience of immigration Messina and his contributors analyze why the major immigrant receiving states of Western Europe historically permitted and often abetted relatively high levels of postwar migration and they assess how contemporary governments attempt to govern immigration flows and manage the domestic social and political fallout which it inevitably yields The central purpose of the volume is to address these questions within the context of the decision making logics that have demonstratively governed postwar migration to Western Europe in each of its three distinct but interrelated waves or phases labor migration family migration and humanitarian or forced migration Messina demonstrates that postwar migration to Western Europe in all of its phases has been governed by a set of mutually reinforcing and mostly compatible logics Of these the economic the humanitarian and the political the political has predominated over time and is likely to continue doing so into the indefinite future A major cross disciplinary analysis that will appeal to political scientists sociologists and general researchers and scholars of ethnicity race relations and comparative public policy

Trade Unions, Immigration, and Immigrants in Europe, 1960-1993 Rinus Penninx, Judith Roosblad, 2000 Contains nine essays which discuss 1 resistance and cooperation regarding the employment of foreign workers 2 inclusion and exclusion of foreign workers within trade unions and 3 the adoption of equal treatment or special measures for foreign workers

The Unsettling of Europe Peter Gatrell, 2019-08-27 An acclaimed historian examines postwar migration's fundamental role in shaping modern Europe Migration is perhaps the most pressing issue of our time and it has completely decentered European politics in recent years

But as we consider the current refugee crisis acclaimed historian Peter Gatrell reminds us that the history of Europe has always been one of people on the move The end of World War II left Europe in a state of confusion with many Europeans virtually stateless Later as former colonial states gained national independence colonists and their supporters migrated to often unwelcoming metropolises The collapse of communism in 1989 marked another fundamental turning point Gatrell places migration at the center of post war European history and the aspirations of migrants themselves at the center of the story of migration This is an urgent history that will reshape our understanding of modern Europe The Cambridge History of Global Migrations: Volume 2, Migrations, 1800–Present Marcelo J. Borges, Madeline Y. Hsu, 2023-06-01 Volume II presents an authoritative overview of the various continuities and changes in migration and globalization from the 1800s to the present day Despite revolutionary changes in communication technologies the growing accessibility of long distance travel and globalization across major economies the rise of nation states empowered immigration regulation and bureaucratic capacities for enforcement that curtailed migration One major theme worldwide across the post 1800 centuries was the differentiation between skilled and unskilled workers often considered through a racialized lens it emerged as the primary divide between greater rights of immigration and citizenship for the former and confinement to temporary or unauthorized migrant status for the latter Through thirty one chapters this volume further evaluates the long global history of migration and it shows that despite the increased disciplinary systems the primacy of migration remains and continues to shape political economic and social landscapes around the world Developments in Sociology Robert Burgess, Anne Murcott, 2014-06-11 Appropriate as a supplemental text to courses in Sociology Providing an overview grounded in research Developments in Sociology focuses on the major areas of theoretical methodological and substantive developments in sociology Each author takes a field of study in which they are an acknowledged expert and highlights the way in which the subject has developed over the last fifty years An Ethnic History of Europe since 1945 Panikos Panayi, 2018-10-08 The first history of Europe since 1945 which examines the continent from a mainly ethnic perspective Panikos Panayi has drawn on years of research to produce this comparative and exploratory account of the experience of ethnic minorities in post war Europe The coverage encompasses all categories of minorities including immigrants and refugees localised ethnic groupings and dispersed peoples Geographically the scope of the book ranges from the Atlantic to the Urals and the Mediterranean to the Arctic looking in particular at the Soviet Union Britain France Germany Romania Cyprus and the former Yugoslavia EMPIRE STRIKES BACK Centre for Contemporary Cultural Studies, 2004-08-02 First Published in 1982 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Migrant Housing Mirjana Lozanovska, 2019-03-01 Migrant Housing the latest book by author Mirjana Lozanovska examines the house as the architectural construct in the processes of migration Housing is pivotal to any migration story with studies showing that migrant participation in the adaptation or building of houses provides symbolic materiality of belonging and the platform for agency and productivity in the broader context of the immigrant city Migration also disrupts the cohesion of everyday dwelling and homeland integral to housing and the book examines this displacement of dwelling and its effect on migrant housing This timely volume investigates the poetic and political resonance between migration and architecture challenging the idea of the house as a singular theoretical construct Divided into three parts Histories and theories of post war migrant housing House home and Mapping migrant spaces of home it draws on data studies from Australia and Macedonia with literature from Canada Sweden and Germany to uncover the effects of unprivileged post war migration in the late twentieth century on the house as architectural and normative model and from this perspective negotiates the disciplinary boundaries of architecture Research Handbook on Migration and Employment Guglielmo Meardi, 2024-07-05 This insightful Research Handbook presents a comprehensive overview of the core issues concerning the integration of migration and employment studies highlighting the interdisciplinary and global perspectives required to understand the complexity of labour migration Workers of the World Steven Colatrella, 2001 After examining immigrant political activity in the context of the rise of the racist Northern League the book ends with a discussion of the possibilities that immigrant experiences are setting the stage for a new planetary working class movement

BOOK JACKET Labour Migration in Europe G. Menz, A. Caviedes, 2010-10-27 Examining the new realities of economic immigration to Europe this book focuses on new trends and developments including the rediscovery of economic migration legalization measures irregular migration East West flows the role of business and employer associations new positions amongst trade unions and service sector liberalization Problems of Protection Niklaus Steiner, Mark Gibney, Gil Loescher, 2013-10-31 First Published in 2003 Of all the humanitarian impulses in world politics today one of the most widely recognized is the need to protect refugees However as The Problems of Protection explores what on the surface appears to be a simple proposition can quickly become complex and controversial This complexity results in troubling variation in how we respond to our obligation to protect refugees while NATO launches a major military intervention on behalf of Albanians in Kosovo amidst worldwide media attention the international community's response to Sierra Leonean refugees is slow inefficient and inadequate Who qualifies as a refugee in need of protection Should refugees be returned as soon as possible or integrated into safer host countries The contributors to this volume address the often lacking political will among powerful countries and donors shifting attitudes among affected countries and the difficulty of rebuilding societies in a world in which the number of refugees will almost certainly continue to increase Migrants at Work Cathryn Costello, Mark Freedland, 2014-10-30 There is a highly significant and under considered intersection and interaction between migration law and labour law Labour lawyers have tended to regard migration law as generally speaking outside their purview and migration lawyers have somewhat similarly tended to neglect labour law The culmination of a collaborative project on Migrants at Work funded by the John Fell Fund the Society of Legal Scholars and the Research Centre at St John's College Oxford this volume brings together distinguished legal and migration scholars to examine the impact of migration law on labour rights and how the regulation of migration increasingly impacts upon employment and labour relations Examining and clarifying the interactions between migration migration law and labour law contributors to the volume identify the many ways that migration law as currently designed divides the objectives of labour law privileging concerns about the labour supply and demand over worker protective concerns In addition migration law creates particular forms of status which affect employment relations thereby dividing the subjects of labour law Chapters cover the labour laws of the UK Australia Ireland Israel Italy Germany Sweden and the US References are also made to discrete practices in Brazil France Greece New Zealand Mexico Poland and South Africa These countries all host migrants and have developed systems of migration law reflecting very different trajectories Some are traditional countries of immigration and settlement migration while others have traditionally been countries of emigration but now import many workers There are nonetheless common features in their immigration law which have a profound impact on labour law for instance in their shared contemporary shift to using temporary labour migration programmes Further chapters examine EU and international law on migration labour rights human rights and human trafficking and smuggling developing cross jurisdictional and multi level perspectives Written by leading scholars of labour law migration law and migration studies this book provides a diverse and multidisciplinary approach to this field of legal interaction of interest to academics policymakers legal practitioners trade unions and migrants groups alike

The Politics of Dialogue Ranabir Samaddar, 2017-07-05 Offering a detailed analysis of post colonial South Asia The Politics of Dialogue discusses the creation and impact of borders and the pervasive tension between the new nations Neither all out war nor complete peace this fragile condition makes political leaders and strategists feel claustrophobic a war produces an end result but peace allows the rulers to carry out their policies for governing along their preferred path of development The book shows how cartographic communal and political lines are not only dividing countries but that they are being replicated within countries creating new visible and invisible internal frontiers It argues that in a situation where geopolitics constrains democracy the political class becomes incapable of coping with the tension between the inside outside eg democracy appears as an internal problem and geopolitics appears as a problem related to the outside

The Industrial Revolution in World History Peter N. Stearns, 2020-11-16 Now in its fifth edition this book explores the ways in which the industrial revolution reshaped world history covering the international factors that helped launch the industrial revolution its global spread and its impact from the end of the eighteenth century to the present day The single most important development in human history over the past three centuries the industrial revolution continues to shape the contemporary world Revised and brought into the present this fifth edition of Peter N Stearns The Industrial Revolution in World History extends his global analysis of the industrial revolution Looking beyond the West the book considers India the Middle East and China and now includes more on key Latin American economies and Africa as well as the heightened tensions since 2008 about the economic aspects of globalization and the decline of manufacturing in the West This edition also features a new chapter on key historiographical debates updated suggestions for further reading and boxed debate features that encourage the reader to consider diversity and different viewpoints in their own analysis and pays increased attention to the environmental impacts Illustrating the contemporary relevance of the industrial revolution s history this is essential reading for students of world history and economics as well as for those seeking to know more about the global implications of what is arguably the defining socioeconomic event of modern times
