The World Trading System John Howard Jackson, 1997 Since the first edition of The World Trading System was published in 1989 the Uruguay Round of trade negotiations has been completed and most governments have ratified and are in the process of implementing the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade GATT In the Uruguay Round more than 120 nations negotiated for over eight years to produce a document of some 26 000 pages This new edition of The World Trading System takes account of these and other developments Like the first edition however its treatment of topical issues is grounded in the fundamental legal constitutional institutional and political realities that mold trade policy Thus the book continues to serve as an introduction to the study of trade law and policy Two basic premises of The World Trading System are that economic concerns are central to foreign affairs and that national economies are growing more interdependent The author presents the economic principles of international trade policy and then examines how they operate under real world constraints In particular he examines the extremely elaborate system of rules that governs international economic relations Until now the bulk of international trade policy has addressed trade in goods issues inadequately addressed by policy include trade in services intellectual property rights certain investment measures and agriculture The author highlights the tension between legal rules designed to create predictability and stability and the governments need to make exceptions to solve short term problems He also looks at weaknesses of international trade policy especially as it applies to developing countries and economies in transition He concludes with a look at issues that will shape international trade policy well into the twenty first century

Greenhouse,Christina L. Davis,2020-06-05 International scholars offer ethnographic analyses of the relations between transnationalism law and culture The recent surge of right wing populism in Europe and the United States is widely perceived as evidence of ongoing challenges to the policies and institutions of globalization But as editors Carol J Greenhouse and Christina L Davis observe in their introduction to Landscapes of Law the appeal to national culture is not restricted to the ethno nationalisms of the developing world outside of industrial democracies nor to insurgent groups within them The essays they have collected in this volume reveal how claims of national culture emerge in the pursuit of transnationalism and under some circumstances become embedded within international law The premise that there is inherent tension between nationalism and globalism is misleading Whether asserted explicitly as state sovereignty or implicitly as cultural community claims of national culture mediate how governments assert their interests and values when engaging with transnational law Landscapes of Law demonstrates how nationalism operates in the contested zone between borderless capital and bordered states Drawing from the fields of anthropology international relations law political science and sociology the book's international contributors examine the ways in which claims of national differences are produced within transnational institutions Insights from case studies across a wide range of topics reveal how such claims may be worked into policy prescriptions and legal arrangements or provide ad hoc bargaining chips Together they show that expressions of national culture outside of state boundaries consolidate claims of sovereignty The contributors offer innovative frameworks for analyzing the relationships among transnationalism law and cultural claims at various levels and scales They demonstrate how overlapping communities use law to define borders and shape relationships among actors rather than to generate a single social ordering Landscapes of Law traces the theoretical implications generated by an understanding of transnational law that challenges the conventional separation of individual community society national and international spaces Contributors Katayoun Alidadi Tugba Basaran Rachel Brewster Sandra Brunnegger Christina L Davis Sara Dezalay Marie Claire Foblets Henry Gao Carol J Greenhouse David Leheny Mark Fathi Massoud Teresa Rodriguez de las Heras Ballell Gregory Shaffer Mariana Valverde
