The Challenges of Technology and

Economic Catch-Up in Emerging Economies Chông-dong Yi, Keun Lee, Dirk Meissner, Slavo Radošević, Nicholas S. Vonortas, 2021 Innovation and technological capability are pivotal driving forces behind economic growth This book synthesizes existing knowledge on technology upgrading failures to better understand the challenges of technology upgrading in emerging economies in an increasingly complex and connected world Intellectual Property Rights, Development, and Catch Up Hiroyuki Odagiri, 2010-04-08 For most countries economic development involves catching up with leading countries This needs more than physical assets and labour it requires technological capabilities educational attainment entrepreneurship and development of the necessary institutional infrastructure including intellectual property rights particularly patents International Industrial Networks and Industrial Restructuring in Central and Eastern Europe S. Radošević, Bert M. Sadowski, 2007-05-08 International Industrial Networks and Industrial Restructuring in Central and Eastern Europe analyses the role of international industrial networks in industrial restructuring and corporate growth in central Europe Russia and Ukraine It shows that two distinct patterns of international industrial integration domestic vs foreign led modernisations have developed in these two regions which have significant effects on patterns of growth and integration of these economies International Industrial Networks and Industrial Restructuring in Central and Eastern Europe is based on a number of industry and firm case studies which are analysed and interpreted within the current international business and political economy literature The publication provides valuable insights to managers and policy makers who are interested in understanding different strategic options for business activity in Central and East European countries For the academic reader it offers a new perspective on international industrial networks in which theories on strategic management and on industry restructuring and corporate growth are merged into a new view of growth and transformation process

Understanding FDI-Assisted Economic Development Sanjaya Lall, Rajneesh Narula, 2013-09-13 It is nowadays well accepted that both economic growth and development are highly dependent on improving not just the availability of capital but also access to technological capabilities infrastructure and resources This has gone hand in hand with an increasing economic liberalization of most developing countries The role of the MNE as a viable source of both capital and technology is one of the key features of this new openness In the process of embracing FDI as a solution to the myriad of economic ills something even the World Bank has begun to do little attempt is made to understand the rationale and the costs associated with this policy stance Simply put FDI is not a condition sine qua non for development Too much emphasis has been placed on attracting FDI and not on understanding how to optimise the benefits for the host economy This volume aims to encourage and promote research related to these issues This volume was previously published as a special issue of the European Journal of Development Research Research and Innovation Forum 2023 Anna Visvizi, Orlando Troisi, Vincenzo Corvello, 2024-01-01 This book features research presented and discussed during the Research Innovation Forum Rii Forum 2023 As such this book offers a unique insight into emerging topics issues and developments pertinent to the fields of technology innovation and education and their social impact Papers included in this book apply inter and multi disciplinary approaches to query such issues as technology enhanced teaching and learning smart cities information systems cognitive computing and social networking What brings these threads of the discussion together is the question of how advances in computer science which are otherwise largely incomprehensible to researchers from other fields can be effectively translated and capitalized on so as to make them beneficial for society as a whole In this context Rii Forum and Rii Forum proceedings offer an essential venue where diverse stakeholders including academics the think tank sector and decision makers can engage in a meaningful dialogue with a view to improving the applicability of advances in computer science

Intellectual Property, Biogenetic Resources and Traditional Knowledge Graham Dutfield, 2010-09-23 Biogenetic resources the critical biological and chemical materials that underpin so much of medicine both modern and traditional agriculture and wider economic activity in so many fields are at the centre of heated debate regarding their use development and ownership and the issues of ethics and equity that impinge on all of these factors This book is a comprehensive examination of the key issues institutions and ideologies in this area presenting definitions and explanations of the fundamentals of intellectual property rights IPRs biogenetic resources and traditional knowledge It uses the insights from this to build a picture of how these factors interact in practice bringing to the surface issues such as the conservation and sustainable use of biodiversity benefit sharing from the commercial use of biodiversity biotechnological innovation and the transfer of technology agriculture food security rural development health and international justice Part 1 describes the relevant international IPR laws highlights the extent to which modern commerce depends on such resources and traces the way in which modern IPR law has evolved to accommodate this dependence Part 2 shows how stronger IPR protection in the area of life science innovation has given rise to controversies such as biopiracy terminator genes and genetic uniformity Part 3 focuses on traditional knowledge its nature its importance and the applicability of IPR style protection Part 4 covers the international negotiation and policy making of the WTO WIPO and CBD and the legislative initiatives of national governments of Asia Africa and Latin America Finally Part 5 focuses on two developing country case studies of India and Kenya assessing whether they will be able to gain economic benefit from development of their natural resources within the current regulatory system and whether this will encourage the conservation and sustainable use of the resource base With its multidisciplinary approach and breadth of coverage this book will appeal both to those new to the subject and to those with professional and specialist interest including students academics legal practitioners government policy makers and the private sector

Convergence Innovation in Asian Industries Kong-Rae Lee, 2018-04-19 This book deals with both the understanding of and the explanation of knowledge about the causes processes and patterns of convergence innovation It argues that the process of convergence innovation is a continuous disequilibrium between reference technology and its matching technology adjusting the optimal balance between the functions of the two technologies Contributors describe how convergence innovation is a learning process that requires both vertical and horizontal convergence and case studies explore the different types of convergence innovation such as outside in and inside out Convergence innovation has been taking place mainly by applying IT technologies to vast areas of conventional technologies so that individuals or firms reap the benefits of the convergence between IT and conventional technologies Such innovations are made possible by convergence and they ultimately improve the welfare of human beings as companies solve diverse problems and increase employment Examples in this book include biochemical companies in Indonesia who were able to increase their market shares in bio fertilizer and bio pesticide products through bio based technological convergence and textile machinery firms in South Korea who have been survived by achieving convergence innovation on their core competences This book was originally published as a special issue of the Asian Journal of Technology Innovation

The Local Impact of Globalization in South and Southeast Asia Bart Lambregts, Niels Beerepoot, Robert Kloosterman, 2015-08-27 In the past two decades several millions of IT enabled services jobs have been relocated or offshored from the US and Europe to in particular low cost economies around the world Most of these jobs so far have landed in South and South East Asia with India and the Philippines receiving the bulk of them This has caused profound changes in the international division of labour and has had correspondingly wide social and economic effects This book examines how this next wave in globalization affects people and places in South and South East Asia It brings together twelve case studies from India the Philippines China Hong Kong and Thailand and explores how and for whom services offshoring creates opportunities triggers local economic transformations and produces challenges This book in addition compares how different countries take part in this second global shift investigates service sector driven economic development from a historical perspective and engages with the question whether and to what extent services offer a new promising avenue of sustained economic growth for developing countries It argues that service led development in developing countries is not easy for all the workers involved or a guaranteed path to sustained economic development and prosperity This volume stands out from other books in the field in its exploration of the social and economic outcomes in the cities and countries where services have been located Based on cutting edge empirical research and original data the volume offers a state of the art contribution to this growing debate The book provides valuable insights for students scholars and professionals interested in services offshoring socio economic development and contemporary transformations in South and South East Asia

Innovation, Catch-up and Sustainable Development Andreas Pyka, Keun Lee, 2021-11-16 This volume presents selected contributions from the 2018 conference of the International Schumpeter Society ISS The selected chapters in this volume reflect the state of the art of Schumpeterian economics dedicated to the three conference topics innovation catch up and sustainability Innovation is driving catch up processes and is the condition for a transformation towards higher degrees of sustainability Therefore Schumpeterian economics has to play a key role in these most challenging fields of human societies development in the 21st century The three topics are well suited to capture the great variety of issues which have the potential to shape the scientific discussion in economics and related disciplines in the years to come The presented contributions show the broadness and high standard of Schumpeterian analysis The ideas of dynamics heterogeneity novelty and innovation as well as transformation are the most attractive fields in economics today and offer the most prolific interdisciplinary connections now and for the years to come when humankind our global society has to master the transition towards sustainable economic systems by solving the grand challenges and wicked problems with which we are confronted today Therefore the book is a must read for scholars researchers and students interested in a better understanding of innovation catch up and sustainability and Schumpeterian economics in general The chapter Industrial life cycle relevance of national markets in the development of new industries for energy technologies the case of wind energy is available open access under a CC BY 4.0 License via link.springer.com

China's Technological Leapfrogging and Economic Catch-up Keun Lee, 2021-12-14 Chapters 1 and 10 from this book are published open access and free to read or download from Oxford Academic After the miraculous economic growth known as the Beijing Consensus China is now facing a slowdown The attention has moved to the issue of the middle income trap This book deals with this interesting issue in the context of China It also discusses China's limitations and future prospects especially after the rise of a new cold war between China and the US namely the question of whether China would fall into another trap called the Thucydides trap or conflict with the existing hegemon as a rising power In sum this book plays around three key terms namely the Beijing Consensus the Middle Income Trap and the Thucydides trap and applies a Schumpeterian approach to these concepts It also conducts a comparative analysis that examines China from an economic catch up perspective An economic catch up starts from learning and imitating a forerunner but finishing the race successfully requires taking a different path along the road This act is also known as leapfrogging which implies a latecomer doing something different from and often ahead of a forerunner Technological leapfrogging may lead to technological catch up which means reducing the technological gap and then finally to economic catch up in living standards per capita income and economic size GDP economic power This linkage from technological leapfrogging and catch up to economic catch up corresponds exactly with a similar linkage from the Beijing Consensus to escaping or not the middle income and the Thucydides traps One conclusion from this book is that China's successful rise as a global industrial power has been due to its strategy of technological leapfrogging which has enabled China to move beyond the middle income trap and possibly the Thucydides trap although at a slower speed
