Battles for Belonging Sandra Sánchez-López, 2024-03-06 Battles for Belonging Women Journalists Political Culture and the Paradoxes of Inclusion in Colombia 1943 1970 examines women journalists who conceived of their publications as political interventions in mid twentieth century Colombia These journalists committed to shaping justice and opportunity for women in society through writing while battling within the publishing realm to also transform and professionalize the practice of journalism in their own terms By analyzing the contentious narratives of gender and class these women crafted as well as their conflicting efforts to maintain their stature in the printing and public worlds it reveals the ongoing negotiations involved within their disputes over inclusion and democracy in a country still finding its way to equality peace and stability between the 1940s and 1960s This book challenges oversimplified portrayals of struggles for power that either glorify or vilify these historical processes by erasing the complexity of the political and social actors involved in them It stresses the importance of women but not to the expense of a balanced critique of their historical reality actions and endeavors This is a history of paradoxical political manifestations and a redefinition of power struggles as multidirectional intersectional non monolithic historical processes from the viewpoint of women Globalizing

Automobilism Gijs Mom,2026-02-01 Why has car society proven so durable even in the face of mounting environmental and economic crises In this follow up to his magisterial Atlantic Automobilism Gijs Mom traces the global spread of the automobile in the postwar era and investigates why adopting more sustainable forms of mobility has proven so difficult Drawing on archival research as well as wide ranging forays into popular culture Mom reveals here the roots of the exuberance excess and danger that define modern automotive culture Soldiers of the Pátria Frank D. McCann,2004

This book provides an authoritative history of the Brazilian army from the army's overthrow of the monarchy in 1889 to its support of the coup that established Brazil's first civilian dictatorship in 1937 The period between these two events laid the political foundations of modern Brazil a period in which the army served as the core institution of an expanding and modernizing Brazilian state The book is based on detailed research in Brazilian British American and French archives and on numerous interviews with surviving military and civilian leaders It also makes extensive use of hitherto unused internal army documents as well as of private correspondence and diaries It is thus able to shed new light on the army's personnel and ethos on its ties with civilian elites on the consequences of military professionalization and on how the army reinvented itself after the collapse of its command structure in the crisis of 1930 a reinvention that allowed the army to become the backbone of the post 1937 dictatorship of Getulio Vargas Class Strategies and the Education Market Stephen J. Ball,2003-08-29 Examines the ways in which the middle classes maintain and improve their social advantages in and through education

Mirrors of Whiteness Mauro P. Porto,2023-02-07 In Mirrors of Whiteness Mauro P Porto examines the conservative revolt of Brazil's white middle class which culminated with the 2018 election of far right candidate Jair Bolsonaro He identifies the rise of a significant status panic among middle class publics following the relative economic and social ascension of mostly Black and brown low income laborers The book highlights the role of the media in disseminating mirrors of whiteness or spheres of representation that allow white Brazilians to legitimate their power while softening or hiding the inequalities and injustices that such power generates A detailed analysis of representations of domestic workers in the telenovela Cheias de Charme and of news coverage of affirmative action by the magazine Veja demonstrates that they adopted whiteness as an ideological perspective disseminating resentment among their audiences and fomenting the conservative revolt that took place in Brazil between 2013 and 2018 Waking from the Dream Louise E.

Walker, 2013-02-20 When the postwar boom began to dissipate in the late 1960s Mexico's middle classes awoke to a new economically terrifying world And following massacres of students at peaceful protests in 1968 and 1971 one party control of Mexican politics dissipated as well The ruling Institutional Revolutionary Party struggled to recover its legitimacy but instead saw its support begin to erode In the following decades Mexico's middle classes ended up shaping the history of economic and political crisis facilitating the emergence of neo liberalism and the transition to democracy Waking from the Dream tells the story of this profound change from state led development to neo liberalism and from a one party state to electoral democracy It describes the fraught history of these tectonic shifts as politicians and citizens experimented with different strategies to end a series of crises In the first study to dig deeply into the drama of the middle classes in this period Walker shows how the most consequential struggles over Mexico's economy and political system occurred between the middle classes and the ruling party Sweet Fuel Jennifer Eaglin, 2022 Early sugar and ethanol policy 1933 1959 Sugar ethanol and development 1959 1975 Pro lcool 1975 1985 Lakes of sacrifice ethanol and water pollution Pro lcool caneworkers and the guariba strikes of 1984 Pro lcool reimagined 1985 2003 Second-Class Daughters Elizabeth

Hordge-Freeman, 2022-03-17 A legacy of the transatlantic slave trade Brazil is home to the largest number of African descendants outside Africa and the greatest number of domestic workers in the world Drawing on ten years of interviews and ethnographic research the author examines the lives of marginalized informal domestic workers who are called adopted daughters but who live in slave like conditions in the homes of their adoptive families She traces a nuanced and at times disturbing account of how adopted daughters who are trapped in a system of racial gender and class oppression live with the coexistence of extreme forms of exploitation and seemingly loving familial interactions and affective relationships Highlighting the humanity of her respondents Hordge Freeman examines how filhas de cria o raised daughters navigate the realities of their structural constraints and in the context of pervasive norms of morality gratitude and kinship In all the author clarifies the link between contemporary and colonial forms of exploitation while highlighting the resistance and agency of informal domestic workers The Global Bourgeoisie Christof DeJung, David Motadel, Jürgen

Osterhammel, 2019-11-26 This essay collection presents a global history of the middle class and its rise around the world during the age of empire It compares middle class formation in various regions highlighting differences and similarities and assesses the extent to which bourgeois growth was tied to the increasing exchange of ideas and goods and was a result of international connections and entanglements Grouped by theme the book shows how bourgeois values can shape the liberal world order Consumerism in World History Peter N. Stearns, 2006-04-18 This second edition of Consumerism in World History draws on recent research of the consumer experience in the West and Japan while also examining societies less renowned for consumerism such as those in Africa. By relating consumerism to other issues in world history this book forces reassessment of our understanding of both consumerism and global history. Each chapter has been updated and new features now include a chapter on Latin America, Russian and Chinese developments since the 1990s, the changes involved in trying to bolster consumerism as a response to recent international threats, examples of consumerist syncretism as in efforts to blend beauty contests with traditional culture in Kerala. With updated suggested reading the second edition of Consumerism in World History is essential reading for all students of world history.

Class Matters Simon Middleton, Billy G. Smith, 2011-06-03 As a category of historical analysis class is dead or so it has been reported over the past two decades. The contributors to Class Matters contest this demise. Although differing in their approaches they all agree that socioeconomic inequality remains indispensable to a true understanding of the transition from the early modern to modern era in North America and the rest of the Atlantic world. As a whole they chart the emergence of class as a concept and its subsequent loss of analytic purchase in Anglo American historiography. The opening section considers the dynamics of class relations in the Atlantic world across the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries from Iroquoian and Algonquian communities in North America to tobacco lords in Glasgow. Subsequent chapters examine the cultural development of a new and aspirational middle class and its relationship to changing economic conditions and the articulation of corporate and industrial ideologies in the era of the American Revolution and beyond. A final section shifts the focus to the poor and vulnerable tenant farmers, infant paupers and the victims of capital punishment. In each case the authors describe how elite Americans exercised their political and social power to structure the lives and deaths of weaker members of their communities. An impassioned afterword urges class historians to take up the legacies of historical materialism. Engaging the difficulties and range of meanings of class the essays in Class Matters seek to energize the study of social relations in the Atlantic world.

Parenting Empires Ana Y. Ramos-Zayas, 2020-03-27 In Parenting Empires Ana Y. Ramos Zayas focuses on the parenting practices of Latin American urban elites to analyze how everyday experiences of whiteness, privilege and inequality reinforce national and hemispheric idioms of anti corruption and austerity. Ramos Zayas shows that for upper class residents in the affluent neighborhoods of Ipanema, Rio de Janeiro and El Condado, San Juan, parenting is particularly effective in providing moral grounding for neoliberal projects that disadvantage the overwhelmingly poor and racialized people who care for and teach their children. Wealthy parents in Ipanema and El Condado cultivate a liberal cosmopolitanism by living in multicultural city neighborhoods rather than gated suburban communities. Yet as Ramos Zayas reveals, their parenting strategies which stress spirituality, empathy and equality allow them to preserve and reproduce their white privilege. Defining this moral economy as parenting empires, she sheds light on how child rearing practices permit urban elites in the Global South to sustain and profit from entrenched social and racial hierarchies
