Reluctant Prophets and Clueless Disciples Bob Darden,2006 A college level introduction that invites students into biblical studies through creative humorous re telling of the basic biblical narratives The Bible is foreign territory for students encountering it in introductory classes Even those who have spent many years in church have rarely read much of it To most of us it looks like a big collection of rules lists and theological arguments But in reality most of the Bible is made up of stories Sometimes they re inspiring sometimes they re funny sometimes they re weird but they re never dull The best way to get into the Bible says Robert Darden is to get to know its stories In this new approach to introducing the Bible to students Darden covers the major biblical stories and characters retelling them in such a way as to bring out their original humor and pathos and inviting the student to encounter them more fully by moving into the text itself     The Knickerbacker ,1847     The dirty deeds for an evil cynical witch in a dark forest Faced with many obstacles the two will have to make some major choices that will determine the outcome in this surreal story Will these two break free from their captors and find peace within them or will the darkness take hold and carry on in the world they know as hell     Merchant Vessels of the United States...

luminously emotional Matt Haig author of The Midnight Library Searching and masterful Park s Luminous engrossed me completely Sierra Greer author of Annie Bot In a recently reunified Korea robots have integrated seamlessly into society They

Remembering the 40'S TRUMAN FIELDS, 2009-09-12

I've often heard it said that everybody has a story to tell, and I know this is true, but I have found also that we all have a yearning to tell our story. Also, we have numerous ways to do it: through voice, writing instruments and machines, through photographic and digital images that we make or assemble, and also through the pattern of our living and in the things that we create. Truman Fields is a many-faceted person, and he has left plenty of evidence of his interesting story to supplement what he tells us in this book. He has been a persistent student, teacher, and craftsman; a successful businessman and an award-winning tennis player; a superb craftsman and a public servant. He was born in the center of the Appalachian coal fields, where he attended local schools until his father perceived that Truman had a desire to learn more than might be possible locally, so he sent his reluctant son to Berea Foundation High School at the age of sixteen. There, in addition to the usual academic subjects, he began probing the complexities of electronics, metal, and wood, and of course basketball and tennis. Without money, he was a half-day student, meaning he took classes for half the day and worked in the rest of the day for his room and board. Thus, it would have taken him five years to complete high school. So, ever restless and inquisitive, he decided at the age of twenty to join the Navy for four years. The Navy sent him to electronic school before assigning him to a destroyer tender. On this ship, he saw a great deal of the world. At age 24, he re-entered the Foundation School for a semester to finish high school and then enrolled at Berea College. There, he majored in Industrial Arts and played tennis so well that he was a finalist in several tournaments. In college, he met Joyce Barnes from Tennessee, and they were married. After graduation, Truman taught in Louisville and then moved to Cleveland, Ohio, where he and Joyce taught for 30 years. There, Truman also worked successfully part-time as a real estate broker and he coached tennis at Baldwin Wallace College. Joyce and Truman reared two daughters in Cleveland, and their grandchildren, who know little of life in the Appalachian Mountains, became the main inspiration for this book. When Joyce and Truman retired from teaching, their love of Berea College and the Berea community drew them back to Kentucky. Here, they have managed several rental properties and developed home building sights. Truman was elected for several terms to Berea City Council, taught students, faculty, and community people to make furniture in the College's woodworking shop, and coached the college tennis team. He also continued to follow the tennis circuits, winning many gold medals in his age class. Joyce has also been much involved in the arts and crafts scene for which Berea is famous. She and Truman are active members of Union Church, the mother church of Berea College. They are also generous supporters of Berea College, in the knowledge that the lives of other young people from the mountains will be enriched there, as theirs have been. In this book, Joyce and Truman's grandchildren and others will learn much about the life Truman lived as a boy about the one room school he attended his classmates the games they played the spelling bees the sporting contests the victories and disappointments in his budding life his teachers and pastors vigorous efforts to teach right from wrong and his own family history Along the way from Big Creek to Berea to Louisville and Cleveland and back to Berea we learn Trumans story and the events that shaped him from the lad on the cover in Happy Jack overalls looking with sharp and expectant eyes to the disciplined tireless teacher public servant athlete auctioneer craftsman and student of all Kentucky things today Hes been a little modest however like most mountain people in telling his story So keep in mind all that he has done all his interests and involvements as he remembers and tells you about his life in the heart of Appalachia Loyal Jones Berea Kentucky
