Palmer,1995 In this remarkable sequel to his Films of the Seventies A Social History William J Palmer examines more than three hundred films as texts that represent revise parody comment upon and generate discussion about major events issues and social trends of the eighties Palmer defines the dialectic between film art and social history taking as his theoretical model the holograph of history that originated from the New Historicist theories of Hayden White and Dominick LaCapra Combining the interests and methodologies of social history and film criticism Palmer contends that film is a socially conscious interpreter and commentator upon the issues of contemporary social history In the eighties such issues included the war in Vietnam the preservation of the American farm terrorism nuclear holocaust changes in Soviet American relations neoconservative feminism and yuppies Among the films Palmer examines are Platoon The Killing Fields The River Out of Africa Little Drummer Girl Kiss of the Spiderwoman Silkwood The Day After Red Dawn Moscow on the Hudson Troop Beverly Hills and Fatal Attraction Utilizing the principles of New Historicism Palmer demonstrates that film can analyze and critique history as well as present it

Seen That, Now What? Andrea Shaw,1996-04-09 You've never used a video guide like this before You loved Chariots of Fire and you want to see something like it Where do you start Look up Chariots of Fire in the index and find it in Drama There you'll see it listed under White Flannel Films Welcome to the glory days of the British empire when the ruling class rode horses on large country estates servants were in plentiful supply and only an adulterous lover questioned the status quo As in other costume dramas the period details are celebrations of all that was brilliant and luxurious with the camera sweeping over British Indian or African countrysides and exquisite turn of the century interiors But all this lush upholstery doesn't cover up the intelligent thoughtful stories usually based on Lawrence Forster and Waugh novels played by stellar British actors In White Flannel Films there are concise witty reviews of select movies like A Room with a View A Passage to India Heat and Dust The Shooting Party Out of Africa White Mischief and more There is also a unique ratings system that helps you distinguish the bombs from the sleepers But the key is that all these films offer the same kind of viewing experience if you like one chances are good you'll like the others too

Seen That Now What is your own personal video genius who knows everything about movies and exactly what you like to watch
