Imagining the Filipino American Diaspora Jonathan Y. Okamura,2013-01-11 First published in 1998 The Philippines play a major role in expanding the international Filipino community through its promotion of international labor migration Filipinos can currently be found in over 130 countries throughout the world As the first major work to conceive of Filipino immigration as a diaspora this study analyses the diasporic nature of Filipino relations identities and communities and shows how these transnational phenomena are socially constructed by the everyday actions and activities of Filipino Americans Instead of focusing on an ethnic minority and its relation to its host society a diasporic perspective places emphasis on the transnational relations created and maintained among that minority its homeland and other diasporic communities Transnational ties are evident in the movement of people money consumer goods information and ideas Diaspora represents a new and fluid conceptual image quite apart from the usual coordinates based on physical location territory and distance Transnational relations and practices will continue to be an increasingly important dimension of the Filipino American community because of the ongoing family based immigration from the Philippines further technological advances in communication and transportation the expansion of transnational capital and continuing racism and discrimination all of which have made it necessary for Filipinos in the United States the Philippines and throughout the world to create and maintain diasporic lives and culture Pragmatics ,2004 Beyond Ethnicity Camilla Fojas,Rudy P. Guevarra,Nitasha Tamar Sharma,2018-03-31 Written by scholars of various disciplines the essays in this volume dig beneath the veneer of Hawai i s myth as a melting pot paradise to uncover historical and complicated cross racial dynamics Race is not the primary paradigm through which Hawai i is understood Instead ethnic difference is celebrated as a sign of multicultural globalism that designates Hawai i as the crossroads of the Pacific Racial inequality is disruptive to the tourist image of the islands It ruptures the image of tolerance diversity and happiness upon which tourism business and so many other vested transnational interests in the islands are based The contributors of this interdisciplinary volume reconsider Hawai i as a model of ethnic and multiracial harmony through the lens of race in their analysis of historical events group relations and individual experiences and humor among other focal points Beyond Ethnicity examines the dynamics between race ethnicity and indigeneity to challenge the primacy of ethnicity and cultural practices for examining difference in Hawai i while recognizing the significant role of settler colonialism This original and thought provoking volume reveals what a racial analysis illuminates about the current political configuration of the islands and in doing so challenges how we conceptualize race on the continent Recognizing the ways that Native Hawaiians or K naka Maoli are impacted by shifting violent and hierarchical colonial structures that include racial inequalities the editors and contributors explore questions of personhood and citizenship through language land labor and embodiment By admitting to these tensions and ambivalences the editors set the pace and tempo of powerfully argued essays that engage with the various ways that K naka Maoli and the influx of differentially racialized settlers continue to shift the social political and cultural terrains of the Hawaiian Islands over time

Building Filipino Hawai'i Roderick N Labrador, 2015-01-15 Drawing on ten years of interviews and ethnographic and archival research Roderick Labrador delves into the ways Filipinos in Hawai'i have balanced their pursuit of upward mobility and mainstream acceptance with a desire to keep their Filipino identity In particular Labrador speaks to the processes of identity making and the politics of representation among immigrant communities striving to resist marginalization in a globalized transnational era Critiquing the popular image of Hawai'i as a postracial paradise he reveals how Filipino immigrants talk about their relationships to the place s they left and the place s where they've settled and how these discourses shape their identities He also shows how the struggle for community empowerment identity territorialization and the process of placing and boundary making continue to affect how minority groups construct the stories they tell about themselves to themselves and others Intercultural Communication in Asia: Education, Language and Values Andy

Curtis, Roland Sussex, 2018-04-10 This volume presents in depth studies on leading themes in education policy and intercultural communication in contemporary Asia covering empirical as well as theoretical approaches and offering both an in depth investigation of their implications and a synthesis of areas where these topics cohere and point to advances in description analysis and theory policy and applications The studies address key questions that are essential to the future of education in an Asia where intercultural communication is ever more important with the rise of the ASEAN Economic Community and other international initiatives These questions include the properties of the increasing globalisation of communication and how it plays out in Asia especially but not exclusively with reference to English and how we can place intercultural communication in this context as well as studies that highlight intercultural communication and its underlying value systems and ideologies in Asia

Menton, 2004-12-20 Making Majorities Dru C. Gladney, 1998 Majorities

are made not born This book argues that there are no pure majorities in the Asia Pacific region broadly defined nor in the West and challenges the thesis that civilizations are composed of more or less homogeneous cultures The 14 contributors argue that emphasis on minority majority rights is based on uncritically accepted views of purity numerical superiority and social consensus Obituaries in the Performing Arts, 2018 Harris M. Maretzki, 2011-04-30 This is a significant update to the highly influential text People and Cultures of Hawaii A Psychocultural Profile Since its publication in 1980 the immigrant groups it discusses in depth have matured and new ones have been added to the mix The present work tracks the course of these changes over the past twenty years constructing a historical understanding of each group as it evolved from race to ethnicity to culture Individual chapters begin with an overview of one of fifteen groups Following the development of its unique ethnocultural identity distinctive character traits such as temperament and emotional expression are explored as well as ethnic stereotypes Also discussed are modifications to the group's ethnocultural identity over time and generational change which traits may have changed over generations and which are more hardwired or enduring An important feature of each chapter is the focus on the group's family social structure generational and gender roles power distribution and central values and life goals Readers will also find a description of the group's own internal social class structure social and political strategies and occupational and educational patterns Finally contributors consider how a particular ethnic group has blended into Hawaii's culturally sensitive society People and Cultures of Hawaii The Evolution of Culture and Ethnicity will like its predecessor fill an important niche in understanding the history of different ethnic groups in Hawaii Cultureshock!
